EARLY SNOWFALL HITS OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP) — Snow, setting a record for Oct. 9, caused power outages in various parts of the national capital during the Thanksgiving weekend.

The weather office here said an average of 5.1 cm. (two inches) of snow was recorded between 7:30 p.m. EDT Saturday and 4 a.m. Sunday, but some areas across the Ottawa River in Quebec received up to about 12 cm.

The only previous snowfall on an Oct. 9 since records were started in 1939 was a trace in 1972.

Thousands of residents on both sides of the river reported power outages since Saturday evening. The hardest-hit areas were in rural areas west of here, and west and north of Hull in Quebec.

An Ontario Hydro spokesman said 4,000 customers in the Arnprior district west of Ottawa reported power outages as of noon Sunday but power was restored before midnight Sunday night. An Ottawa Hydro spokesman said no major problems were reported within the city.

About 3,500 customers living in the Quebec portion of the National Capital region, however, would not have their power restored until Tuesday at the earliest — unless the union decided to back down on its work-to-rule fight with Hydro-Quebec.

The union has been refusing to work overtime since March 22 over contract disputes with Hydro-Quebec.

The hardest-hit area in Quebec included Aylmer west of Hull, and Perkins and Lac-McGregor north of Hull.

BENNETT BACKS OFF ON HIGHWAYS TOO

Gov't Leaves BCGEU in Air

By LI ZHUGHES and MIKE HUGHES

Premier Bill Bennett today refused to clarify his stand on government employee wage increases and seemed to back away from a commitment to a $120-million highways winter job-creation program.

He would not say clearly whether the province's civil servants would be denied a wage increase, but said the only provision in the budget was for a cost-of-living increase.

Under repeated questioning at a press conference he said he could not anticipate what the government employees' settlement would be but his answer at least indicated the government would not approve any increase above the cost-of-living formula.

In his "state of the province" speech Monday night, Bennett said he had authorized a $120-million highways department program "which will create jobs this winter."

But today, the premier said some of that money will be spent this year for jobs this winter and some will be spent next year.

He refused to say how much would be spent this year or how many jobs would be created this winter. "I don't want to get involved in political-financial guesswork."

He stuck fast to his previous statements that a deficit is not anticipated this year.

If only a quarter of the highways program comes out of this year's budget, the expenditure would wipe out the small surplus predicted and leave the province with about a $10 million deficit. Despite that, Bennett would only say "we'll see at the end of the year."

John Fryer, general secretary of the B.C. Government Employees Union, said today he was confused by the premier's statement that any

Inflation Remains Ottawa's Target

By IAIN HUNTER
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Reduced inflation and unemployment rates remain the government's highest goal, but it also "will place a very high priority upon the promotion of better understanding among French-speaking and English-speaking Canadians and upon the achievement of formal constitutional independence," says the throne speech opening the new session of Parliament.

In the speech the government admitted that some aspects of the official languages policy haven't worked.

Instead of concentrating on making civil servants bilingual, Ottawa will ask for provincial co-operation in increasing second language education in the schools.

Faced with a national day of protest by labor Thursday against wage controls, the government declared that it will seek parliamentary approval for a direct job-creation program in areas of chronic unemployment, use unemployment insurance funds for on the job training, and aid labor and management in the collective bargaining process.

The speech also calls for co-operation from the provincial governments and all sectors of the economy in developing a system of restraint by all Canadians to take the place of price and wage controls which are to be removed by the end of 1978.

Other highlights of the speech included:

—A continuation of restrictions on government spending and further fiscal restraint to combat inflation;

—A continued reduction in the rate of growth of the public servce to below 1 per cent in the coming fiscal year;

—A review of all federal programs to find whether some government services could be transferred to private enterprise without damaging the quality of service to the public;

— Increased industrial assistance programs to help Canadian industry compete abroad;

—Simpler regulations affecting small businesses to improve local access to financial assistance and reduce the number of statistical reports required for federal departments;

— Changes in the National Transportation Act to remove existing freight rates which are unfair — apparently including the Crowsnest rates which the national railways are lobbying against;

— More research and development assistance for renewable energy sources and continuing incentives for energy conservation;

— An encouragement to provinces to adopt a new system of day care fees related to income;

—Resumption in indexing of family allowance payments to compensate for increased living costs during 1976;

— A continuation of negotiations with the provinces to decrease Ottawa's commitment to share higher costs in hospital insurance, medicare and post-secondary education.

The speech noted that some bilingualism measures have proven successful but that "others have not and will be modified."

Jobless Rate Up In B.C.

Times News Services

The unemployment rate increased in September to 1.2 per cent above the national average in British Columbia — one of only four provinces in Canada where the unemployment rate rose.

Nationally, the seasonally adjusted rate rose to 7.3 from 7.2 per cent, while B.C.'s rate rose to 8.5 from 8.3 per cent. The only other provinces to show an increase were Prince Edward Island, Quebec and Manitoba.

The actual number of unemployed dropped, however, as did the total number in the labor force. Across Canada, the number out of work fell to 670,000 compared to 709,000 in August, and in B.C. the jobless dropped to 88,000 from 92,000. The total labor force in B.C. also dropped, to 1,145,000 from 1,183,000.

Part of the decline in unemployment, also indicated by a decrease in the national labor force to 10,357,000 from 10,773,000 in August, is accounted for by the departure from the work force of students working during the summer months.

A year ago, the total of unemployed was 631,000. This went to 643,000 in October, 1975, before soaring to 800,000 last January and February.

Until September, the actual number of unemployed had not dropped below 700,000 in ten months.

Unemployment for both men and women declined, although the actual decrease for males was far more dramatic than for females.

About 184,000 of the unemployed had been without work for 14 or more weeks.

The most substantial drop in the unemployment rate came in Saskatchewan — to 2.2 from 4.7 per cent.

Percentages for other provinces, with August's figure in brackets, were: Newfoundland 14.4 (14.9), P.E.I. 9.5 (8.9), Nova Scotia 10.4 (11), New Brunswick 11.4 (11.9), Quebec 9.7 (9.1), Ontario 5.7 (5.8), Manitoba 4.6 (4), Alberta 3.7 (4).

CUPE Threats Charged

By PAUL MOSS
Times Staff

Tire slashing, expulsion from union membership and other forms of "intimidation" have been threatened by the city of Victoria's outside workers against any of their colleagues who show up for work on Thursday's day of protest, a city alderman charged today.

Ald. Ron McKenzie said in an interview he was "deeply concerned" to learn from some employees of the public works department — members of Local 50 of the Canadian Union of Public Employees — that they are apprehensive about the retaliation they may encounter if they do abide by their contract and report for work as usual that day.

He said eight outside workers have been in touch with him — two stopped him on the street, one called to see him at his house and the others telephoned him.

"They are all concerned about the threats they have received, I guess from union people," said McKenzie.

"From what I could gather they have been warned that if they show up for work they will have the tires on their cars slashed, and their windshields smashed."

There have also been clear indications that those reporting for work will have their names noted with a view to disbarring them from union membership, the alderman said.

As union membership is a condition stipulated in the contract with the city, such a move would mean that the men concerned face losing their jobs.

Since learning of the men's fears, McKenzie said he has discussed the matter with Mayor Mike Young who indicated the city would file a grievance with the Labor Relations Board in every case where an employee is prevented from working Thursday or in any way intimidated.

McKenzie said he would like to see police surveillance — preferably by plain-clothes officers — at the city's Garbally Road yard "so that we have a record of what goes on there Thursday, for future reference."

He said he has been informed that only about half the 300 members of Local 50 agree with the one-day strike in support of the Canadian Labor Congress. Only 80 members were present at the recent meeting which decided to join the protest, said McKenzie.

PANIC SURFACED among lovers of the dowager Empress Hotel today when they saw venerable ivy runners being trimmed around the porter's entrance. A hotel spokesman, however, said this is just a trim job, designed to relieve the weight pressure of overgrown runners and stop them being used as perches for birds that use hotel guests for target practice. It's the first "haircut" since 1959. (Bill Halkett photo)

EAST GERMAN SWIMS BALTIC

LUEBECK, West Germany (UPI) — An East German doctor escaped to the west Sunday by swimming the Baltic Sea for 18 hours, West German border police said Monday.

The 29-year-old physician was picked up by the Swedish ferry boat Svaeland about one hour before its arrival in Luebeck.

Police said the doctor, wearing a diver's suit and carrying a compass, dove into the sea along the East German coast line late Saturday night.

DEATHS OF THREE HALT FLU SHOTS

Times News Services

PITTSBURGH — The Allegheny County health department closed all 13 of its swine flu inoculation sites today following the deaths of three elderly people hours after receiving the vaccine at a Pittsburgh clinic.

"At this time, there is no known factor linking the deaths with the vaccine or the immunization program," said Miriam Blair.

All three were elderly and all had histories of heart or lung problems, she added.

Dr. Cyril Wecht, Allegheny County coroner, said stress and bad vaccine were "among major possibilities" being examined.

Wecht said he did "not want to alarm anybody," but was "not ignoring the obvious set of circumstances."

Don Barreth, a CDC spokesman in Atlanta, said there was a possibility the stress of taking the flu shots might have contributed to the deaths. But, for people in that age factor "there are deaths that occur every day whether a flu shot is involved or not," he added.

In Wisconsin, Dr. Edward Larkin, acting state health officer and administrator of the state health division, also ordered a temporary suspension of swine flu immunization because of the Pittsburgh deaths.

"At this time there is no evidence that these persons have succumbed as a result of receiving the swine flu vaccine," Larkin said.

BOOKINGS TAKEN NOW FOR TRIPS IN ORBIT

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Reservations are now being accepted for "standby" cargo on shuttle flights into space in the 1980s at a price of $10,000.

U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials and executives of Rockwell International, which is building the space shuttle, say that by 1981 they will be able to offer flights into orbit to buyers with enough money.

The going price for chartering the whole launch is expected to be about $20 million, said John Yardley, associate NASA administrator for space flight.

"Launch contracts will be for a firm, fixed price set at the time of contracting and the launch will be guaranteed" Yardley said.

"We have indeed entered a new world."

Few humans are expected to take a jaunt into space on the cut-rate fare, however, because the freight will be limited to items weighing no more than 200 pounds and taking up no more than 5 cubic feet — just about impossible for a human being loaded with space life support systems.

Mao Widow Said Arrested

Times News Services

China formally announced today appointment of Premier Hua Kuo-feng as chairman of the Chinese Communist Party, succeeding the late Mao Tse-tung.

The announcement came amid reports that Mao's widow and three other party "radicals" had been arrested for plotting a coup.

Diplomatic sources in Peking and Hong Kong said there was no evidence to substantiate the reports of the arrest of Chiang Ching, a former actress and Mao's fourth wife, and three other members of the influential party politburo.

The reports, carried by the London Daily Telegraph, the London Financial Times, Toronto Globe and Mail, and the Yugoslav News Agency Tanjug said Mme. Mao and three members of the so-called "Shanghai Mafia" had been arrested for planning a coup.

The other officials reported arrested along with Mao's widow were identified as party vice-chairman Wang Huang-wen, the youngest politburo member; Chang Chun-shiao, chief political commissar of the armed forces and first secretary of the Shanghai party apparatus; and Yao Wen-yuan, second secretary of the Shanghai party.

Wang, 38, is a vice-chairman of the Communist party and until last year was expected to be appointed chairman after Mao's death.

Yao, 51, is a leading ideologist and polemicist who helped spark the tumultuous Cultural Revolution.

Chang, 55, whose power base is Shanghai, China's most populous city, is a vice-premier and the army's senior political commissar. He had been considered by many as a future premier.

Sen. Giguere Now Charged Over Advertising Accounts

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Louis Giguere was charged today with alleged exercise of influence in getting government advertising contracts for Canadian Advertising Agency Ltd.

Leon Simard of the wealthy Quebec family was named as a co-conspirator in three counts alleging that Senator Giguere was given $107,700 in return for his help.

Named as conspirators in the charge, sworn by the RCMP commercial crime squad, were the Liberal senator, David Belhumeur, Jean P. Dionne, Canadian Advertising Agency Ltd., and Publicor Ltd., a holding company.

An unidentified person was mentioned in the charge.

The accused were released later on $100,000 bail.

Also named in the Sky Shops charges are Louis Lapointe, a former city hall official in Montreal and former president of Sky Shops; Gordon Brown of Freeport, Bahamas, and Toronto businessman James Lavery.

All but Lavery began preliminary hearing on roughly the same Sky Shops charges in a Montreal court Sept. 27. The remand here until next April 8 was not explained but presumably enables the prosecution to make a decision then based on what happens meanwhile in Montreal.

THE OUTCASTS by Ben Wicks

Unemployment and Inflation Throne Speech Focal Points

est report of Keith Spicer, the official languages commissioner, the government said a better balance should be established between expenditures to make civil servants bilingual and to educate young people in both official languages.

"The government intends to discuss with the provinces arrangements to increase the effectiveness of training both official languages in the school systems across Canada," the speech said.

The speech said most unemployed Canadians would prefer to secure their income through work than through public assistance, meaning that in some cases the government must embark on direct job creation for this end.

Parliament will be asked this session to approve "a comprehensive, year-round, direct job-creation program," directed to high unemployment areas.

Other programs will be proposed during the session to provide more job opportunities and improved employment counselling for young people entering the work force.

The speech said that amendments will be proposed to the Unemployment Insurance Act "in ways which will permit insurance funds to be used to maintain the income of Canadians being trained for new jobs and to help employers retain workers who might otherwise be temporarily laid off."

The government repeated its commitment of last year to merge the operation of the Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Manpower department to provide employment support services from a single source.

The speech said the government is "deeply disturbed" by the loss of productivity and increased social tensions resulting from inadequacies of the collective bargaining system.

The speech said that excessive restriction of collective bargaining rights is no solution and called instead for better mechanisms for settling disputes "in a less adversarial, more co-operative manner."

The government said it will work with the provinces and with labor and business to develop initiatives to improve labor-management relations.

Ottawa will set up a collective bargaining information centre to offer objective economic and wage information so that both sides are working from the same set of figures.

The government will also encourage greater participation by workers in decisions by management affecting working conditions, to expand labor education programs and develop a voluntary code of fair employment practices.

The speech also proposed the establishment of "a national institution dedicated to improving the quality of life in the work place."

The government announced its intention to proceed with the second stage of its competition policy to strengthen the laws governing mergers and monopolies.

However, the speech noted, that where competition is inadequate the government must intervene to protect the public interest.

"For this reason, changes will be introduced to the National Transportation Act to protect against unfair freight rates," the throne speech announced.

The speech ended with a section outlining the role which the government intends to play in the management of the economy once controls are removed.

It said the government prefers to follow a middle road between the two extremes of an absolutely free market system and increased government spending and intervention to compensate for the failure of the market to serve social goals.

"This middle road represents a commitment to a society in which all Canadians can develop their full potential, a society in which justice, compassion, tolerance and understanding lead to a strong and united Canada, a society based on individual initiatives and marked by personal freedom," the speech said.

POLICE NAB ESCAPE PAIR

Saanich police are holding two men believed to have been among six who escaped from Oakalla prison in Burnaby. (See also page 9)

The two are expected to appear in court late today or Wednesday pending further investigation.

The pair was arrested together in Saanich early this morning.

Coach Lines Halt Thursday

There will be no Vancouver Island Coach Lines bus service on Thursday as about 200 employees observe labor's day of protest against wage controls.

The employees belong to the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, Local 234.

A spokesman said arrangements had been made to pick up passengers arriving Thursday by ferry at Kelsey Bay from Prince Rupert but there would be no bus service going from Campbell River to Kelsey Bay.

He said a bus will leave Campbell River for Port Hardy Wednesday but stay over in Port Hardy until Friday instead of returning on its normal run Thursday.

The Coach Lines bus from Nanaimo to Port Alberni will make its normal run Wednesday but return the same day instead of staying over in Port Alberni until Thursday.

Also affected by the day of protest is a Victoria performance of the Roland Petit Ballet Company from France with Canadian guest star Karen Kain.

The company will be performing tonight at the Royal Theatre and was to have a second show Wednesday night but that has been cancelled to allow the group to get off the Island before Thursday.

The company has another performance scheduled for Thursday night in Vancouver and would not be able to get there if they stayed here Wednesday night because there will be no ferries running on the day of protest.

Those with tickets to Wednesday's performance have been invited to tonight's show when efforts will be made to accommodate everyone. Those who can't come tonight will be able to get their tickets refunded at the McPherson Box Office Wednesday.

the weather

It was cloudy overnight in most areas of B.C. with the exception of parts of the southeastern interior. Rain, however, was confined to Northern Vancouver Island and the north coast of the province. The moist air will keep skies cloudy in all regions today but a high pressure ridge should have enough influence to allow sunny periods in southern areas this afternoon. The north coast region is in for a fairly continuous onslaught of rain and drizzle today and into Wednesday and some showers will spread into the central interior. The disturbance responsible for this will track southeastward tomorrow taking showers to most of southern B.C. later in the day.

Moulton is accused of theft over $200 last Jan. 27 involving a 1968 talf-ton pickup truck belonging to Peter Pollen Ford Sales Limited.

His counsel, Christopher Wilson, told Judge E. J. C. Stewart he had been unable to find Moulton, who had lived at 3902 Shelbourne until a few weeks ago.

Canada Facing 10-Year Long Sports Veto

BARCELONA (UPI) — International sports federations are considering imposing sanctions against Canada and 29 African nations for injecting politics into the Montreal Olympics.

Charles Palmer, secretary-general of the federations' joint general assembly, made the statement Monday on the eve of a three-day port-mortem by the federations of last summer's games.

Canada refused to allow Taiwan to compete in the Olympics under the name Republic of China.

Twenty-nine African countries withdrew athletes from the games to protest participation by New Zealand, which has kept up sports ties with South Africa.

"Sanctions are being considered but I don't want to talk about them specifically until they have been agreed on," said Palmer, who is also the president of the world judo federation.

Palmer said he felt Canada should be banned from hosting any major amateur sports events for 10 years and some federations agreed with him.

"Others do not agree with that at all, while the majortiy are undecided," he said. " The meeting will decide what course to take."

The next major amateur sporting event scheduled in Canada is the 1978 Commonwealth Games in Edmonton.

If the federations agree that Canada should not host the Commonwealth Games, they will ban their members from supervising the various sports, making it virtually impossible for the organizers to go ahead.

Palmer said no decision will be taken until later in the week when the federations present their proposed course of action to the executive board of the International Olympic Committee.

If sanctions were imposed they would not be motivated by vengeance, he added.

"We want to ensure that what the Canadian government did in Montreal does not happen again," Palmer said.

"And sanctions would be a deterrent to show governments that we don't like them injecting politics into sport."

107,000 Bar Bill

MONTREAL (CP) — A $107,000 billl for a party for journalists on the last night of the Olympics has been rejected by the Games organizing committee because it did not substantiate the high price, committee vice-president Gerry Snyder said Sunday.

Mr. Snyder said the bill from Cerabec, which runs several restaurants at the downtown Place Desjardins office building where news services were housed during the Olympics, would be returned to the company.

He said the Cerabec statement did not include sufficient detail.

Jamieson Denies Rhodesia Role

TORONTO (CP) — Don Jamieson, external affairs minister, has denied that Canada has committed itself to paying into any Rhodesian transition fund.

Jamieson also said Canada is not obligated to accept any Rhodesian immigrants.

In a telephone interview from his home in Swift Current, Nfld., Jamieson said that while Canada "is probably prepared to participate" with the United States and Britain in working out a settlement, "we have made no commitments whatever."

Jamieson described as "complete news to me" British reports that Canada could expect up to 20,000 white Rhodesian immigrants after black rule is established in the African country.

Jamieson denied U.S. reports that Canada has agreed in principle to contribute to a pool of capital-estimated at between $1.3 billion and $1.5 billion — for Rhodesia.

He does not foresee any mass exodus from Rhodesia.

The fund is an integral part of U.S. State Secretary Henry Kissinger's plan to end white minority rule in Rhodesia peacefully.

The Toronto Star quotes Bud Cullen, immigration minister, as expressing surprise at the reports.

Canada Protests U.S. Beef Cuts

WASHINGTON (FP) — Canada has fired off a diplomatic note to the U.S. State department, expressing concern that a new worldwide quota on beef imports signed by President Ford could disrupt Canada—U.S. agricultural trade.

The quotas, proclaimed by Ford after a weekend meeting with U.S. farm leaders in Oklahoma, will effectively prevent about 17 million pounds of foreign beef from being sold in competition with U.S. raised products.

Ottawa, opposed in principle to the quotas, is understood to be particularly concerned that the trade restrictions could be applied unevenly — with canadian beef producers forced to bear a disproportionate burden.

The effect on Canada of the quotas, which will apply until the end of the year is still unclear.

"We don't know what the Canadian quota will be until the U.S. has consulted with the various supplier countries, and those consultations won't start until tomorrow," said one official here on Monday.

While Canadians took a Thanksgiving Day holiday Monday, U.S. government offices were also closed — in observance of Columbus Day.

Prior to the imposition of the quotas Saturday, the Canadian government had estimated that sales of beef to the U.S. during the year would total between 85 and 90 million pounds.

About 75 per cent of that amount has so far been shipped, according to one figure quoted here.

Canadian exports of live cattle — as opposed to slaughtered beasts — will not be affected by the president's proclamation.

Ford imposed the trade restrictions under provisions of the U.S. Meat Import Law, which authorizes such action if imports of beef threaten to flood the American marketplace.

Early each year, the U.S. Agriculture department estimates the domestic demand and sets a "desired" target level for total imports from all foreign sources. That import level was fixed at 1.233 billion pounds for 1976.

Second Appeal

VANCOUVER (CP) — Monty Alton, a spokesman for the United Steelworkers of America, says that employees of the Cyprus Anvil mine at Fargo, Yukon, have decided to make a second appeal after Anti-Inflation Adminstrator Donald Tansley rolled back an anti-inflation board roll-back still further.

He said the union is investigating legal means of obtaining the benefits of the original settlement.

Syria Vows Action

Associated Press

The Syrian government vowed today to take "decisive deterrent and punitive action" following Palestinian attacks on Syrian embassies in Pakistan and Italy.

The attacks were an apparent reprisal for Syria's intervention in the Lebanese civil war against the Palestinians and their leftist Lebanese Moslem allies.

Three Palestinians brandishing machine guns broke into the Syrian Embassy in Rome on Monday.

They wounded the first secretary in the leg and held five embassy officials hostage for two hours before surrendering to Italian police.

Later Monday, three Palestinians tried to take over the Syrian Embassy in Islamabad, Pakistan, after throwing bombs at the ambassador's residence. One of the attackers was reported killed.

In Beirut, a spokesman for the Palestine Liberation Organization denied that the PLO was responsible for either attack.

There was no comment from the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine and other radical groups.

"Acts committed by gangs of criminals will not pass without punishment," said the Syrian government's Damascus Radio.

"Those criminals and their sponsors tend to forget that the embassies they attacked were a mecca for the noblest and the most courageous fighters for the Palestine cause. They forgot that the Palestine revolution was born in Syria."

Sentiment and Flag Waving

It was recorded on Friday. It was aired on Monday. And like a Thanksgiving turkey lodged in the refrigerator over the weekend the flavor didn't improve. Premier Bill Bennett's state of the province message had the curious deja vu of a Roosevelt fireside chat. There was the premier soothingly reassuring the populace that the worst was over. On the Thanksgiving weekend he had the greatest confidence in the future of the province. The aura of presidential, republican politics surrounded his address. Why did he choose Thanksgiving to deliver this generalized vague message? Why does the cabinet puddle-jump various Socred constituencies handing out goodies to the faithful? The rhetorical questions answer themselves. This is vintage W. A.C. Bennett politics clothed in the ambience of the boardroom.

The premier attempted no explanation of how the province went from a projected deficit of "hundreds of millions" last year to the current point where revenues are $21 million above forecasts for the first six months of this fiscal year. Nor was there any frank speculation about a deficit or a surplus at the end of the year. Apparently that will be saved for another political moment. It is also interesting to ask where this extra $21 million in revenues came from. Income from the forest industry is $36 million less than the government hoped for at this point in time. One suspects that increased revenues came out of the taxpayers' pockets in the form of sales and corporate tax hikes instituted by this government.

Even the Insurance Corporation of British Columbia is coming up roses. For the first half of this year the operating surplus is almost $26 million, says the premier. Citing fewer accidents and a dramatic decline in claims against ICBC, Bennett claims this is one example of how we can all benefit by responsibility. A nice homily, but the fact that collision insurance is no longer compulsory, not to mention higher auto insurance deductions, may have more to do with the surplus than responsibility.

We also learned that oil exploration is up 80 per cent this year and mining claims have tripled. The implication here, of course, is that the good management team in the legislature is solely responsible for this good news. In the first instance, oil exploration has increased largely because of federal tax policies. New provincial mining legislation can take credit for the tripling of claims, but the premier was careful not to say how much revenue is coming from the mining industry after his government lifted the royalties. The gloss is good but it would be better if we could have a glimpse of what is under this rhetorical varnish.

On the larger philosophical question of the constitution and the future of confederation the premier — a declared federalist — was strangely ambivalent. He said British Columbia can continue to make a great contribution to this country, if it is not restricted. The qualifier was gratuitous. He then talked about redefining the role of the federal government and recognizing the regional nature of Canada, popular subjects at this point in time. But even with this qualified support of union he could not resist echoing his father's often repeated sentiment that British Columbians pay an extremely high price for our place in confederation. Statements of this nature from the premier of the province will not encourage federalism in this increasingly insular part of the land.

In sum, a clever piece of political talk. But despite the premier's assurance that commonsense and good will can provide most of the answers, British Columbia, wed to its extractive industries, is still as dependent as any banana republic on international markets. If the dreams we dream will come closer to reality as the premier states, the provincial government is going to have to do better than a little sentiment and flag waving on Thanksgiving. Premier Bennett keeps using phrases such as "earning our way in the world" and "making sacrifices for the common good." Perhaps he is right in a classical sense, although the laissez faire Liberal philosophy, where the individual has a responsibility to the state, is a dead issue among Canadians now. If this administration doesn't realize this soon, it could become as out of touch with reality as its Socred predecessor.

Roderick Haig-Brown

He was a quiet-spoken man with a dry self-deprecating sense of humor. Roderick Haig-Brown was equally at home with a split cane fly rod in the upper reaches of a rushing Vancouver Island river or in a courtroom where he presided for 33 years. His abiding interest in fishing and conservation produced more than a score of books and articles for the New Yorker, Atlantic Monthly and Sports Illustrated.

To list all the honors received by the former chancellor of the University of Victoria would take pages. Nor would it give a true picture of this uncommon common man who thought that unbarbed hooks should be used by sport fishermen on certain stretches of rivers. His compassion, gentility and culture are best remembered through his writings that will give future generations of Canadians a feeling for the land. Roderick Haig Brown's death in Campbell River Saturday at 68 will be a severe blow to the environmental cause in this province. His cogent, quiet arguments have induced a conscience in more than one developer. The salmon that he loved so well are more prolific today because of his untiring efforts to preserve their habitat. The people of British Columbia will miss and mourn one of the province's most sensitive sons.

MAURICE WESTERN

Propensity to Exaggerate

OTTAWA — How is Prime Minister Trudeau to oppose the sea of troubles which he described with such anguish in his perplexing speech to the Ontario federal Liberal caucus conference in Toronto?

The question must have puzzled his audience, for his very bleak presentation led up to a puzzling conclusion: "The objective is to find those right answers to the proper questions being asked at this time".

Having gone to Mackenzie King for guidance (which was perhaps a hopeful idea in present circumanstances), Trudeau still seems rather uncertain about the future course.

It seems to me that some, at least, of the government's political troubles are due to the prime minister's propensity for unnecessary exaggeration, which was demonstrated again in the Toronto speech.

There was doubtless a case of sorts for drawing a comparison between the problems of the present and those of 1943 when there was controversy about controls and tension between French and English Canada over conscription. But it cannot be very close because conditions were so different in wartime. At least at one point Trudeau's comment was so odd as to place a serious strain on credulity.

Not Wartime

Speaking of anti-control agitations, then and now, the prime minister said: "So in this sense, we today are asking of Canadians great sacrifices." The political difficulty, as he noted, is that the government now lacks "the umbrella of the war to say this is necessary to save freedom."

Certainly, the government is asking Canadians to accept a bit less than some think they have a right to demand. Certainly, the restrictions anger a good many people.

But where are the "great sacrifices?" Who is suffering to any grave extent as a result of the controls?

It is true that union leaders have been drawing lavishly on their fund of adjectives. But they are given to verbal extravagance at the best of times. When Joe Davidson of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers argued last week that labor has won more gains through illegal than through legal strikes, he was not even thinking about controls.

It is also true that some business executives are weeping all over the place. Some of them are eager for more controls, through tariffs, so that they can extract greater sums from consumers for their support.

Jean-Luc Pepin, the chairman of the AIB, has at no time indicated that he regards himself as an overseer appointed by government to apply the whip to the backs of suffering workers and corporate executives. What's more, the official line of Trudeau's government is that we are doing quite well, increasing our real incomes despite the gentle curbs applied by the AIB.

If Trudeau does not agree with his government, will he identify the wretched victims to whom he referred in Toronto? The faithful few who have been making these great sacrifices should be singled out for special honor, possibly on the day of protest which Labor Minister John Munro has been doing so much to encourage.

PIERRE TRUDEAU
. . . should keep quiet

On the whole, however, the government has probably had too little to say about its anti-inflationary policies. At one time the prime minister was criticized because he left everything to ex-finance minister John Turner. Lately, most of the ministers have appeared well content to leave everything to him. In contrast, some members of the government have had far too much to say on the subject of bilingualism. The curious idea persists in some quarters that national unity is best served to exposing wounds and pouring salt on them.

In the language field, too, exaggeration has harmed the government. Do the ministers realize, even now, how much their cause was damaged by those remarks, following the 1972 election, about "bigots" and "rednecks?" Trudeau himself was over-quick recently to characterize the difficult pilots' problem as the worst crisis since conscription. Not surprisingly, every paper in Quebec seemed to be saying the same thing the next day.

If attitudes in the two parts of Canada have hardened in the past year, as a good deal of evidence suggests, it would surely be sensible to recognize that the country needs a cooling off period. Even quiet persuasion may be none too effective when people are so frustrated or angry with the government over a tangle of matters unrelated to language to lend attentive ears. As for ministers intent on making challenging speeches on this subject, the most kindly advice surely is cease and desist. Or in plainer language, shut up.

Keep Quiet

That is not to say that the government should do nothing. If the situation is as bad as Trudeau implies, ministers should identify the irritants and re-double their efforts to remove them. When people complain that French is being forced down their throats, they may mean in fact that it is being forced on their purses. Even the prime minister is not beyond a careless phrase.

It may not help very much to ridicule opposition to coast-to-coast French on corn flake boxes. There may be a quiet reasonable objection to cost-enhancing labelling requirements in unilingual regions, whether anglophone or francophone. If so, it seems to me that remedial action where practical would do much more to preserve the country or the Liberal party — a much lesser consideration than any number of cries of alarm, dire predictions or readings from the diaries of King. The cabinet should impose on itself a self-denying ordinance. In respect to language problems, ministers should say as little as possible and do as much as possible until the climate of opinion has markedly improved.

Negative Role

Re news piece in Oct. 6 Victoria Times "Discrimination Hits Pakistanis", I honestly believe that the press sometimes plays negative, irresponsible unjust roles and helps fan racial fires.

I was indeed shocked to see that such a reputed paper like yours even published the racist article of Mr. Doug Collins (Weekend, September 11) — an article which was certainly against the interests of our great nation. Your paper and other news media, in all decency, must play constructive, moral, just, conscientious roles, and through editorials etc., help create an atmosphere of love, trust, mutual respect, understanding and tolerance on issues of racial harmony etc., and make people, both non-whites and whites, good Christians.

There are those who want our leaders to be loving, compassionate, kind, concerned, conscientious intellectuals, but at the same time also racist, bigoted, prejudiced opportunists so far as our immigration policy is concerned. And then there are some who say: "Now that I am in, we must close the doors to others."

Fortunately, all three major political parties in Canada are taking a very just and conscientious stand on the issue — a stand which I believe is in the interest of our vast and wonderful country. Besides, no political opportunist is stupid enough to be carried away by the racist cries of a very, very small (but rather vocal) sick minority, to make color immigration an issue and thereby face a certain backfire and gain a name for being racist and uncompassionate for a lifetime.

Sir, I have travelled and lived in various parts of the world. I honestly do believe that Canadians, in general, are rather just, conscientious and tolerant people. I am proud to be a Canadian. — Bish Bhagwanani, 404 - 360 Douglas St.

Seniors

I certainly do not condone purse snatching any more than I condone the bigoted attitude of "Disgusted".

As I ride the "geriatric special" bus to work, the manners of your generation make me ashamed. The sanctimonious senior citizens climb over fare-paying passengers, demanding to go on first. I watched three old dears push a young victim of cerebral palsy aside yesterday. They elbow, and jab with their umbrellas and then reluctantly show their bus passes (for which I, as a working taxpayer pay) and then occupy a double seat.

Their loud comments about the dress and manners of the young are outspoken and quite frequently laced with some profanity.

What gives senior citizens the right to put down today's youth? Is it the mere fact that they have lived over 60 years? What have they contributed more than the young people?

I overheard one female viciously attack some youngsters who were quietly enjoying the sunshine in Centennial Square. She suggested that they "get the hell out of Canada and that we don't want the likes of you dirty hippies". For all she knew the youth were the sons and daughters of Victoria's upper echelon, the professional class . . . they may have even been doctors or lawyers themselves.

Three nurses from Vic. General were standing on Douglas in their off duty clothes, blue jeans to be exact. An elderly woman stormed up to them, spit at them, called them bitches and took off. Charming example, for young people.

I no longer demand that my sons yield to the elderly. I have warned them to keep their distance. I expect them to be courteous to every human, but courtesy apparently is no longer reciprocal, I trust my boys have sufficient maturity and judgment to act for themselves.

My younger son's longish hair is shorter than my grandfather's, my grandfather was a respected pillar of his community, my son is mocked by grandfather's contemporaries.

I am probably generalizing; senior citizens, just as youth, must have some nice people in its ranks.

By the way, I am so nearly a senior citizen myself that it appalls me.

J. PARKER,
Victoria.

Amnesty

Next week is Prisoner of Conscience Week around the world. This is a time set aside by Amnesty International to remind us all of the extent to which people are detained around the world who have committed no offence other than that of holding specific non-violent beliefs.

Victoria has a group working for Amnesty International and they work specifically for the release of three such prisoners of conscience as well as sharing in the world wide efforts to combat the rising use of torture by the governments of our globe.

If this work interests you, please contact the local secretary, Marguerite Campbell, Tel. No. 595-6229 for further details.

Prisoner of Conscience Week will end with a workshop on Amnesty International letter writing at the Unitarian Church Hall at 106 Superior Street from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 16th. — Geoff Mitchell, Victoria.

Davis' Logic

I was interested in reading Mr. Jack Davis's letter to the editor Saturday October 2/76, in which he endeavours to justify the present high B.C. Ferry rates, by a comparison with the Washington State Ferries. The example he chose, the Gulf Island Ferry, certainly reflects favorably on his argument, until one remembers that the fares on this run were originally doubled and later rolled back to pacify the irate residents of these islands. In addition this is only a short run ferry incurring a minimal expense compared to the mainland run. A better example I believe would be the B.C. Swartz Bay/-Tawassen route compared with the Washington State Sidney/Anacortes route, for which the relative charges are:

B.C. Ferry 1 hr. 40 mins

Car and Driver	$14.00
25 ft Trailer	20.00
Extra Passenger	4.00
Total one way	$38.00

Washington State Ferry 3 hrs. 30 mins.

Car and Driver	$11.00
25 ft. Trailer	15.00
Extra Passenger	2.75
Total one way	$28.75

According to a newspaper reporter who wrote an article in Sunday's paper conditions on the B.C. Ferries have deteriorated considerably. This being the case is the round trip really worth $18.50 more on the B.C. Ferry? — Art Casson, legislative representative, British Columbia Association of Travel and Trailer Clubs.

Hospital Smoking

So another screw is being turned in the straight-jacket of restrictions on patient "care" in Royal Jubilee and, no doubt, other hospitals by the banning of smoking in bedrooms. Supported of course by logic, piety, clinical soundness and sympathetic understanding! It's wrong, because it further adds to the already heavy burden of boredom, discomfort and frustration already "enjoyed" by most patients, particularly those who are long-term. Obviously there are situations and times when no smoking is the correct course but, otherwise, patients should be left to decide for themselves when and where to smoke if they so desire. — George J. Powell.

Handsome Machine

She showed me her letter with beaming eyes.

"FOR KEEPS — De luxe 1904 Smith. One owner. Safety inspected. Fuel pump good. Air intake sound. Efficient steering. Transmission joints good. 100 per cent good daytime muffler operation. Fuel consumption — good to excellent. Original fuel tank. Original paint — ruddy tone, added gray panel top. Handsome, no-sag upholstery. Trouble free, with good care last for years. Request appointment demonstration tonight."

"He's the tall widower in my Rec Centre!"

"Where else but in Victoria!" I beamed back at her.— "Pays to Advertise.

Peacekeeping Plus

I watched in sad disbelief the debut of our new minister of external affairs at the United Nations assembly, when he announced the possible withdrawal of our peacekeeping forces from the island of Cyprus.

The reasons given: the cost, and the failure of other U.N. members to contribute their "fair share."

During the Pearson years, Canada enjoyed an international reputation of which all of us were extremely and justly proud.

Our military presence in that troubled Mediterranean island has received praise from many sources, and has prevented the flare-up hostilities that may have resulted in riots, destruction and even deaths.

From a practical point of view, the peace operation in Cyprus has provided our troops with a very special training that can be better achieved in a real situation rather than the normal "exercises" and make-believe conflicts.

If the cost is high, the rewards for the maintenance of our peacekeeping forces are even higher.

Surely our federal government can "economize" in countless more areas, too many to attempt to mention, and try to live up to our international reputation: the last is tarnished, what do we have left to be proud of? — E. J. Lattes, No. 432 — 200 Dallas Rd.

Publishing

Your editorial The Business of Education on Oct. 1 was great encouragement to folk who feel that good quality life is slipping away irretrievably.

Every day, "responsible publishing" is a tenet your paper ignores in the movie ad page, but distinct from that, you are to be commended for your standard of journalism.— D. K. D., Royal Oak.

Bankruptcy

On page one Oct. 2, was the headline: New Bankruptcy Act Will Aid Debtors. What a joke — the headline should have been: New Bankruptcy Act Will Aid Creditors.

Mr. Brazeau said the law hopefully will create incentives for debtors to enter arrangements with their creditors to pay off at least a portion of their debt.

With consumer credit (debt) at nearly $1,000 for every man, woman and child, I would think the creditors are demanding a new law to make it unattractive to claim bankruptcy.

In the future please try to get your headlines correct. — J. M. Jamieson, 2370 Pacific.

'Sunshine Act' Has a Dark Side

By LEONARD SHIFRIN

OTTAWA — When an idea whose time has come refuses to go away, government ultimately capitulates. And that is why the new session of Parliament will almost certainly see the introduction of a Freedom of Information Act.

But even if leopards can in fact change their spots, it is highly doubtful that they can do it overnight. Hence the unveiling of a sunshine act designed by the apostles of secrecy is being awaited with more than a little skepticism among Ottawa observers.

The irony is that if government surprises us by actually flinging open the doors of its file rooms, absorbing their contents is going to be like trying to empty the ocean with a tin pail.

Massive Volume

The volume of material generated each day by the army of researchers employed by government is utterly massive. It's so massive in fact that the chief complaint of most of these researchers is that little of what they produce is even read at senior levels in their departments.

Making this material — all of which is concerned in some way with public policy — available to the public could do wonders to inform public discussion in this country. But it is going to take a lot more than removing the padlocks from file room doors for that to happen.

Needles in haystacks do not become available simply by leaving the haystacks in public view. And, on an ongoing basis, the media can't be expected to do much more with undigested mountains of data than to routinely report their existence.

For this information to be publicly available in fact and not just in theory requires mechanisms outside of government with a degree of specialized expertise equal to those inside government.

In the United States, which has had a wide-open freedom of information law for several years, the sifting of government information hoards for public utilization is carried out largely by two groups.

One is the public policy institutes (often affiliated with universities) and public interest lobbies (usually funded by charitable foundations) which are so abundant on the American scene and so few here in Canada. The other is the research staffs of Congressional committees, which have no counterpart in our Parliament where committees are staffed only with clerks to record their proceedings.

Relative to their American counterparts, the handful of public interest lobbies in this country — most of them clustered around a few subject areas such as consumers' rights and the environment — have little in the way of resources.

The open files will unquestionably enable them to be more effective in presenting alternatives to the policy paths offered by government, but it will continue to be very much of a David and Goliath matchup.

The development of specialized, expert staffs by our Parliamentary committees, on the other hand, would seem a highly promising possibility — if MPs showed any interest in the idea.

REID
... 'lousy job'

Which they don't.

In fact the extent of the apparent disinterest in policy — as opposed to politics — of our Parliamentarians almost ranks as the eighth wonder of the world.

The annual exercise of considering departmental spending estimates is supposed to provide the opportunity for policy review by MPs. Instead it serves only to display how little most Members of Parliament know about each of the program areas.

Last year's review of Health and Welfare department estimates offers as good an illustration as any.

The minister appears, flanked by a dozen or more of his senior bureaucrats, and proceeds to read a speech describing the department's programs and their anticipated cost.

When he is finished MPs are invited to question him and/or his officials.

The federal-provincial social security review, then in its final stages, might have been expected to inspire a raft of questions. Instead it generated only one, by a Liberal, as to whether the new Social Services Act would be an improvement over the present situation.

The minister, needless to say, was pleased to advise him that indeed it would.

The review of health programs that was about to be launched by Ottawa and the provinces inspired even less discussion in the committee.

Instead, most of the questions were constituency-oriented inquiries about present programs.

Why does it take so long to process Spouses' Allowance applications in Victoria? What kinds of costs can be covered by a New Horizons grant? Where are the pension offices in Quebec? How can a disabled constituent join a vocational rehabilitation program?

As John Reid, the Liberal MP from Kenora, recently told the committee planning a revamping of how Parliament conducts its business, "the reason we do a lousy job with the estimates is probably that members are not interested in finding out how much money has been spent so much as they are interested in ensuring that money is spent in their constituencies."

Although most of the members of the procedure committee shared this view, they had a singular lack of solutions to offer.

The notion that members of the Health, Welfare and Social Affairs committee, for example, might be able to do a better job if the committee had a staff which knew something of health, welfare and social affairs wasn't even suggested.

Little Support

That surprised me, but not the several MPs I asked about it.

Although the idea was raised last winter by Conservative Leader Joe Clark, it seems that there is not only little support for it, but even some strong opposition. Many MPs, I was told, fear being "dominated" by expert staff.

Evidently what MPs want more than freedom of information is freedom from information. And they are prepared to defend their right to remain uninformed.

'Gone With Wind' Won't Go Away

By WILLIAM FRENCH
The Globe and Mail

Collectors of esoteric book reviews were richly rewarded by a specimen in the Sept. 10 issue of the Times Literary Supplement. The review, which occupied a full page, began with this sentence: "Ever since Homer's account of the fashioning of Achilles' weapons; epic has been an image of industrial progress, not only imitating the decorative surfaces of things, but as Hegel insisted, dramatizing their manufacture."

And what was the subject that stimulated such profundity — an important new work of philosophy? A seminal work on etiology? Nothing of the kind; the reviewer was addressing himself to a new American book called Scarlett, Rhett and A Cast Of Thoudands, in which author Roland Flamini examines in great detail the conversion of Margaret Mitchell's famous novel into a Hollywood epic.

The review was significant because it told us a good deal about the state of current intellectual attitudes in Britain. But even more important is the implicit message about Gone With the Wind: 40 years after its publication, the novel has become a publishing phenomenon with no equal in the twentieth century, as much of a classic as War and Peace.

The popularity of the movie has tended to obscure the continuing success of the novel. But more than 10 million copies have been sold in English and the hardcover version, now in its 85th edition, continues to sell 25,000 a year, while the Avon paperback sells 250,000 annually. Foreign-language editions are available in 31 countries. A copy of the first edition, which came off the presses in May, 1936, is now worth about $2,500.

Most readers are content to take the novel at face value, and enjoy it as a poignant love story. But it's becoming increasingly subjected to intellectual analysis, as it was in The Times Literary Supplement review of Scarlett, Rhett And A Cast Of Thousands. The reviewer, Peter Conrad, went on at some length about the implications of the novel. He pointed out, for example, that the Nazis banned Gone With the Wind from countries they occupied because they saw Scarlett O'Hara as a heroine of the resistance. They were misguided in doing so, he thinks, and didn't interpret the novel correctly: "They were right to sense her truculent defiance of history but wrong to moralize her as a freedom-fighter, for hers are the quisling instincts of appeasement and conciliation."

Margaret Mitchell might have disagreed, but she would certainly have been bemused by Conrad's postulations. There will undoubtedly be more of that kind of analysis this year, as the books being published in observance of the 40th anniversary will focus even more attention on the novel, and on its author.

Flamini's book on the making of the movie has already sold 40,000 copies in the United States. Almost ready to be published is Margaret Mitchell's Gone With the Wind Letters, 1936-1949. Then there'll be Scarlett Fever, based on what is said to be the world's largest collection of GWTW memorabilia, collected over the years by Herb Bridges of Sharpsburg, Georgia. The collection includes more than 200 different editions of the novel.

There'll be a 40th anniversary edition of the novel, with an introduction by James Michener, and a new edition of the Avon paperback, with a cover based on the original artwork from the film. That's intended to tie in with the first network television showing of the movie, scheduled by NBC for November. And of course there's Hollywood's intention to make a sequel — the true devotees of GWTW are shocked at the idea — and the inevitable novel to be based on the movie, reversing the original procedure.

The imminent publication of Miss Mitchell's letters is eagerly awaited in literary circles. They will presumably shed some light on the stresses she endured after the novel suddenly catapulted her from obscurity into a much sought-after celebrity. Her determination to defend her privacy only increased public curiosity about her, and the tension didn't let up from the time the novel was published until she was struck by a car and killed on an Atlanta street 13 years later. She shunned literary parties and the usual publicity programs organized by publishers; the major exception was her attendance at the premiere of the movie in Atlanta.

Miss Mitchell, who would have been 76 now, destroyed much of her private correspondence and the original manuscript of Gone With the Wind. The rights to her literary properties passed to her husband, John Marsh, after her death, and he in turn left them to her brother, Stephens Mitchell. Knowing her sensitivity about them, he gave them to the University of Georgia, with strict rules about accessibility. But the librarian, an old friend of the family named Richard Harwell, finally persuaded Stephens to permit the letters to be published.

THE IMMIGRATION DEBATE

Everyone a Stranger

By TREVOR LAUTENS
The Sun

Speaking of racism and our immigration policies, it is certainly true that minority groups, by their behavior and customs and (let us admit it) the very offence of their skin color, can create tremendous hostility in the majority race — some of it deserved.

I had a good opportunity to observe this at first hand a few years ago when I saw members of such a minority behave this way:

- They kept largely to themselves. They tended to create and live in ghettoes with their own kind.
- When they met in public places, they tended to greet each other with an irritating exaggerated enthusiasm. They were very visible to the indigenous people on such occasions, drawing much attention to themselves.
- And they were — the only word for it is loud. They seemed to be shouting at each other, meanwhile smiling more than seemed necessary, and speaking in an accent and idiom that fell strangely on the ears of the majority people.
- Their parties were loud too, and both more frequent and more boisterous than they might have been — giving the impression that more liquor was being drunk than perhaps was the case. And although a few members of the majority race were usually invited, most guests were of the minority and they definitely set the tone of the party.
- The concomitant of their odd speech was their bewilderment about the language spoken by the majority — even though it was essentially the same language. They often seemed puzzled and confused in conversation.
- They were not always polite to the majority racial group, and even those who were sometimes seemed to be laughing behind their backs at the majority.
- And their clothes! They had no idea of the fitness of dress. They were sometimes dressed up too much, and sometimes appallingly dressed down. They rarely seemed to be dressed right. Many of the neighbors were shocked, for example, that they wore the same clothes on Sunday as other days.
- And so it seemed with everything else about this minority. They just didn't know, or ignored, or defied the customs of the great majority of the people of the land.

It won't surprise you now that the minority I refer to was white. They were Canadians, Americans and British, mostly teachers, aid people and civil servants on contract. The country was Jamaica, where the permanent white population is only four per cent — about the same, coincidentally, as in Rhodesia. Staying as I did on two visits in the country and smaller towns, away from Kingston and the glittering ghetto of the north coast tourist strip, I met few white Jamaican citizens — most of whom were distinguished by their curious washed-out paleness, all blonde and watery blue eyes, as if they took great pains to shield their pinkness from the sun.

And it was interesting to see how closely the members of the small white minority I did meet, and was temporarily part of, fitted into the stereotypes we have of immigrants in Canada, especially "colored" ones. That business of dress, for example. After a couple of weeks in a town as thoroughly black as Port Maria — where, on market day, yours may easily be one of only two or three white faces among a thousand — you can readily feel and even share in the derision, resentment and amusement when a fat pink tourist in Florida shirt and his wife in a huge straw hat roar down the main street of town in, of all things a dune buggy. The frivolity of such a gesture, in a country where the per capita income was then $600 a year, amounts to provocation.

Equally or more repellent in a country where the only people who dress wretchedly are genuinely poor and where bandbox-neat kids emerge from all but the humblest rural homes on Sunday for church, is the culture shock of the white northern "hippie", now so common that the very word is obsolete. His-her imitation of poverty must be deeply offensive in the Third World.

Race seemed to crackle in the air in Jamaica. Its connotations were everywhere. It would hardly seem racist, for instance, to buy a few vegetables in the market and wait for them to be put in a bag. But, obliquely, it is. You don't get expensive paper bags in poor countries. You bring your own string bag or whatever. And to be served dinner by half a dozen black cooks and maids while the black chauffer of a black civil servant chats to the guests with dignified grace and then discreetly withdraws to a sofa in front of the television set in the living room for his supper — all of this in the handsome seaside home of a young Chinese Jamaican merchant — is an exquisite test of one's racial convictions.

As for Jamaican racism, there is plenty of it. The white persons experience a bewildering spectrum of attitudes, from gentle deferrence to vicious and sometimes deadly malice. A friend who taught in Jamaica for two years revisited the place. In Port Antonio, she was caught in a rainstorm and took shelter, as did three boys aged about 15, near the ruins of an old hotel (once owned by Errol Flynn). The boys sniggered and stealthily taunted in a manner familiar to whites in Jamaica. One proceded to ostentatiously masturbate, which in the context was a racist more than sexual action. And when she departed, stones whizzed by her ear — and not playfully thrown.

For my part I continue to believe that skin color is the least important, even most absurd, measure of people. I'm much more elitist about their manners, culture, compassion. Doug Collins has opened up an interesting and needed debate on Third-World immigration to Canada — and fie on those who shriek that such a debate is, per se, racist. Where he errs is in giving too much weight to the negative aspects of immigration. The question isn't whether there should be such immigration, but how many people can reasonably be assimilated. An added dilemma is that the kind of Third World immigrant in greatest demand here is also wanted, and desperately needed, in his own country.

And in a way, there's something a bit tautological about the argument over immigration. We're all immigrants or descendants of them, except for the original inhabitants — and there's even some doubts about them. In the deepest sense, we're all strangers here ourselves.

British Gov't Wins Vote On Crisis Recovery Plan

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's labor government has won a vote of confidence in its plan to lift the nation out of an economic crisis and bolster the failing pound without drastic cuts in public spending.

The 301-288 vote Monday came after Prime Minister James Callaghan ended parliament's emergency economic debate by proclaiming, "Britain's credit is still good."

The beleaguered pound showed little initial reaction on foreign exchanges. It closed at $1,659 Monday in quiet trading.

Callaghan ruled out further big cuts in public spending as demanded by the opposition Conservative Party.

"It would be a profound mistake if we were to make a surgical operation to try to cut 10 billion pounds ($17 billion) of public sector borrowing," he said.

"This is not a terminal illness, but we must pursue our policies very steadily."

Last week, the Bank of England announced it was raising its minimum lending fee for financial institutions to 15 per cent. The move followed a request to the International Monetary Fund for a $3.9 billion loan to bolster the pound.

Conservative Leader Margaret Thatcher was given a standing ovation by her followers Monday as she condemned the government's economic policies.

DEATH SQUAD SURVIVOR

RIO DE JANEIRO (WP) — Four Brazilian policemen are under arrest in connection with a Death Squad execution in which one of their intended victims survived.

The Death Squad is a vigilante gang, thought to be linked to the police, which simply kills suspected criminals, on the ground that Brazil's regular police and court system is not effective in fighting crime. There have been more than 2,000 Death Squad executions here.

The two latest victims were Warison Simoes, 22, and Luis Clemente, 21, who were picked up by the police near Rio on suspecion of possessing marijuana. Less than 24 hours later they were found shot to death beside a deserted road — the trademark of a Death Squad execution.

There was to have been a third victim, Daniel Sousa, 23, who was arrested along with the other two men. According to police sources, Sousa claims that the arresting officers shot him four times yet did not kill him.

Sousa is in a Rio hospital under special guard, telling his story to top police authorities.

Four Rio de Janeiro state policemen are being held in connection with the killings of Simoes and Clemente and the attempted slaying of Sousa.

Police sources say Sousa has convincingly spelled out the details of what happened, in a closed-door interrogation in the hospital conducted by Helber Murtinho, chief of the homicide division of the Rio State Public Safety Department, who has been placed directly in charge of Death Squad investigations.

Sousa is reputed to have said that the shooting took place in the back seat of a blue Brazilian-made Chevrolet taxi — which somehow had been arranged for the execution — at 2:30 a.m. Sept. 29. One of the arresting officers, who was in the front seat, turned around and shot all three prisoners in the head, Sousa is said to have testified. Then the policemen are said to have thrown the prisoners out of the car and shot at them some more.

Sousa claims that he jerked his head, so the first bullet did not kill him. After that he played dead, he says. Sousa has two bullets in his jawbone and one in his shoulder, plus a surface gunshot wound on his head, police sources say.

Whites Play: Blacks Cheer

Times News Services

JOHANNESBURG (WP) — Nearly 10,000 Africans cheered wildly Sunday as eight white players ran on to the rugby field at Veeplas, the black township outside Port Elizabeth for South Africa's first "multi-national" rugby match — a move that represented a breakthrough for the country's race relations at a tense and crucial moment.

The eight whites were joining two black rugby teams for the first integrated match since the government's new sports policy was announced last month.

Just seven weeks ago that very same black township was hit with racial violence, during which 33 people died. But after the game Sunday all eight players were carried off the field on the shoulders of jubilant African spectators, who had rooted for the whites throughout the game.

Monday, however, the eight men face suspension from their white rugby league and government prosecution. And the race-conscious country faces confusion over its "new" sports policy.

Last month, Dr. Piet Koornhof, minister of sport and one of the more moderate members of the South African cabinet, announced a new "multi-national" policy, with implications that the race barrier that prevented white and black and colored (mixed blood) and Asian from playing with or against each other had been eliminated. The change was hailed throughout the country.

But over the past week, the government has indicated that the policy does not yet allow whites and blacks to play on the same team — only against each other. As a black sportswriter explained: "It's just more of the old divide and rule."

One of the first indications came with news of the intended match in Veeplas, when Koornhof made a "friendly but urgent" appeal to call off the game. The presence of whites in a black township went against the Group Areas Act, which requires whites to have a government permit to enter black townships, he explained.

Before the match, "Cheeky" Watson said he had called the local Bantu (black) administration office on behalf of his seven teammates to obtain permits, but was refused.

They decided to play anyway.

The result: Danie Craven, president of the South African Rugby Board, said Monday that the game "reflected badly on the country. We have ways and means of dealing with defiance like this."

Why older whisky isn't necessarily better whisky.

At 2 years old Canadian whisky is pale, harsh, unmatured—and around 12 it's darker and beginning to take on a heavy 'woody' taste. In between this time, it becomes golden, mellow, smooth and full-bodied. In our opinion OFC is the prime Canadian whisky. That's why OFC is 8 years old and only 8 years old. The prime time for taste, try it.

Bonner Denies Allegation He Intimidated Employees

VANCOUVER (CP) — Robert Bonner, chairman of British Columbia Hydro, disputes charges he has intimidated transit employees and prejudged a case now before the labor relations board.

Al Ashton, the business agent for the Amalgamated Transit Union, said Bonner intimated bus drivers by sending letters to each driver stating that any action taken Oct. 14 — labor's day of protest against the federal anti-inflation program — would be an illegal work stoppage.

Bonner said Saturday the union has been offering its members a good deal of spurious advice and he is simply providing the other point of view.

As for his prejudging a case now before the labor relations board — a request by Hydro to keep its employees on the job Oct. 14 —Bonner said if he were prejudging the case, it would not be before the board.

Ashton also has challenged Booner to state he won't take disciplinary action against any union members who don't report for work on the 14th.

Bonner said when the union gives assurances there will be no picketing, and no disciplinary action against members who stay on the job, he will issue a statement.

Transit drivers in the Greater Vancouver and Victoria areas have voted to remain on the job Oct. 14.

B.C. RAIL AND UTU SIGN TWO-YEAR PACT

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British Columbia Railway and the United Transportation Union have signed an agreement, based on the recommendations contained in the report of Toronto lawyer Owen Shime, who investigated the dispute between the B.C. Rail and the union.

Under the terms of the two-year agreement, the union's 450 yardmen, brakemen and trainmen will receive a 14-per-cent increase the first year and 8.3 per cent the second year, but subject to the approval of the federal Anti-Inflation Board.

While the AIB is studying the agreement, the UTU has an interim agreement with BCR.

Tax Refund Firms Lose Bylaw Fight

VANCOUVER (CP) — Twelve firms which buy income tax refunds here failed in a British Columbia Supreme Court bid to quash a city bylaw regulating their operations.

Mr. Justice W. A. Schultz dismissed the application by the 12 firms, all members of the B.C. Discounters Association.

The bylaw provides that firms buying income tax refunds shall pay not less than 85 per cent of the refund where it exceeds $100.

Where the refund is less than $100 the buyer is allowed to charge $15.

The firms, represented by Allan McEachern, claimed the bylaw was prohibitive rather than regulatory and that a margin of 15 per cent was not sufficient to meet operating costs and that any business operating within provisions of the bylaw would inevitably operate at a loss.

Mr. Justice Schultz said that material filed with the application did not show that any of the tax buyers have ceased business in Vancouver as a result of the enactment of the bylaw.

T. R. Bland, counsel for the city, said the test of validity of the bylaw is "good or bad faith" of council in passing it, not the "economic consequences" resulting from it.

He said the good faith of the council was not challenged and that the bylaw was legal and valid.

Shoppers' Special U.S.-Bound

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 500 persons from the Vancouver area have booked a Nov. 11 train trip to do their Christmas shopping in Seattle.

The shoppers will travel in a package deal arranged by Vancouver travel agent Jack McClaren in which they get the round trip and two nights' hotel accommodation for $32 a person.

McClaren said Friday that several people take the package tour each day but there has been a big rush for the Nov. 11 trip because people believe they can do their Christmas shopping much cheaper in Seattle.

"People are getting very conscious about shopping in the United States," he said.

He said most weekends are busy and many travellers continue on the train to Portland. There is no sales tax in Oregon.

Frank Martina, operations manager for Canadian Customs and Excise, said Friday the increase in U.S. shopping is placing a strain on his department.

Accident Bill Given to RCMP

NELSON (CP) — Kelly J. Kyle of Fruitvale says he wants the RCMP to pay him $2,414 for his car demolished when an RCMP cruiser struck the car Sept. 7.

Police say the bill has been sent to provincial headquarters in Victoria, where it will be passed along to the federal department of justice in Ottawa for a decision.

The accident occurred when a police station wagon driven by Corporal Dale Creich and Kyle's car collided on a curve on a highway near Trail. After the impact, the police vehicle tumbled down an embankment. There were no injuries.

Officials in the Nelson RCMP subdivision office said that a steering failuroe in the patrol car caused the accident.

The World's Biggest Honda Civic.

Perhaps you've gotten a lift in a Honda Civic and marvelled at the use of space. Well, imagine the same idea and make it bigger.
It's the new Honda Civic station wagon, boasting all the usual Honda Civic attributes. Good handling, excellent stability, and top gas efficiency, because of front wheel drive. Precision steering due to rack and pinion design. Sure stopping thanks to power assisted front disc brakes. Smooth ride owing to MacPherson strut front suspension. Increased passenger space resulting from sideways mounting of the engine.
A Honda Civic it is, and bigger. The station wagon's engine is beefier at 1500 cc's, to give you the same pep under a heavier load. The wheel base is stretched a little too, to 89.8 inches. Which also gives rear seat passengers room to stretch their legs a little more.
With the rear seat folded down, there's 53 inches of perfectly flat carrying space. A total of 49 cubic feet, all made accessible through five doors.
The Honda Civic station wagon. Because most of the time, you're carrying very little.
Why fuel big? Why park big? Why pay big?

Honda Civic Stationwagon. The Automobile Re-thought.

Remember when Vancouver's airport hotels weren't near the airport?
Now there's a new hotel much closer to Vancouver's airport than any other. Vancouver Airport Hyatt House.
But please, even though the rates are surprisingly low, don't think of it as an airport hotel. Think of it as a new, super-luxury hotel. With 373 lavishly done rooms and suites. Executive conference facilities. Five restaurants and lounges, including one of the top seafood restaurants in the city. A heated swimming pool. Even its own private marina.
Vancouver Airport Hyatt House, with free limo-service, of course. Just 20 minutes from downtown, very convenient to most of the city's outlying industry. And close to the area's best golf, tennis, horseback riding and fishing. It's the ideal place to stay in Vancouver.
Even if it weren't so close to the airport.
BUT NOW THERE'S HYATT

PATE TAKES MASTERS

INZAO, Japan (AP) — Jerry Pate, a first-year pro from Pensacola, Fla., shot an even-par 71 Sunday for a four-round total or 279 to win the $300,000 Pacific Masters golf tournament.

The 23-year-old Pate, the 1976 U.S. and Canadian Open champion, won the 72-hole tournament by two strokes over Japan's former World Cup player Isao Aoki, who fired a closing round 70 for 281.

Pate, who finished in an 11th-place tie in last year's tournament, played in the last twosome with Aoki over the 7,187-yard par-71 Soby Country Club course.

JERRY PATE
. . . two-stroke victory

Lee Trevino finished third with a 282 total. Defending champion Gene Littler, Allen Miller and Japan's Yoshitaha Yamamoto wound up in a fourth-place tie with 284s.

Pros Clipped By Amateurs

A powerful performance by Gorge Vale's Grant Milliken sparked Vancouver Island's amateurs to an easy victory over the professionals in the fourth annual Winspear Trophy matches.

The amateurs, winning four of Saturday's five foursomes and scoring a 5½-4½ margin in Sunday's singles, came out on top 9½-5½ in the matches played at Glen Meadows.

The amateurs now have a 2-1-1- won-lost-tied edge in the series sponsored by industrialist Francis Winspear.

Although four other amateurs also won the maximum number of points, Milliken was clearly the standout with an impressive victory over Cowichan's Bill Wakeham, the pros' No. 1 player.

The 1975 Island Open champion was four under par in the 16 holes needed to defeat Wakeham.

Milliken also teamed up with Cedar Hioll's Greg Barnes to defeat Wakeham and Neil Murray of Qualicum Beach, one up, in the foursomes.

Barnes, Gord Rands of Uplands, Jeff Jones of Gorge Vale and Colwood's Art Carey also scored the maximum number of points while Glen Meadows' Dick Silverberg and Bill Penny were the only pros to win in both the singles and foursomes.

Birds Climb To Top Spot

VANCOUVER (CP) — University of British Columbia Thunderbirds took first place in the Western Intercollegiate Football League Saturday with a 16-15 win over University of Saskatchewan Huskies.

UBC scored two first-quarter touchdowns and then withstood a Huskies second-half surge to ease into the league's top spot with a 4-1 record.

Greg Gardner, who shared T-Bird quarterback duties with Dan Smith, hit Digby Leigh on a 21-yard pass play to open the scoring. Gardner and Smith were good on 14 of 26 pass attempts for 174 yards.

T-MEN IN FRONT

Cowichan Timbermen, making the most of turnovers forced by an outstanding defensive unit, have taken over sole possession of first place in the Vancouver Island Juvenile Football League.

Cowichan gained revenge for its only defeat this season by clipping Saanich Hornets 22-0 Sunday at Royal Athletic Park.

Teams were tied for first heading into Sunday's game.

Cowichan's defence got the attack going by scoring a two-point safety touch in the first quarter. A single and Ross McCauley's field goal boosted Timbermen to a 6-0 half-time lead.

Defence continued to dominate the game in the second half when Peter Wilson pounced on a block kick to score the game's first touchdown. McCauley's conversion made it 13-0 and Cowichan wrapped it up in the final quarter with another McCauley field goal and a touchdown by Tom Neilson.

Marring the outstanding defensive battle was a leg injury suffered by Saanich guard Mike Bennett, who underwent an operation later Sunday for torn ligaments.

At Nanaimo, Courtenay Raiders overpowered Nanaimo 60-0 behind the six-touchdown performance of Wayne Friessen. Ed McMillan, Norm Taylor and Steve Bruin also scored majors for Raiders while Mike Collins was good on seven of his nine conversion attempts.

Ex-Park Records Fall

Full Moon Charlie won the featured $12,500 added Autumn Leaves stakes for three-year olds at Exhibition Park, in Vancouver, Monday, bringing to a close the 104-day thoroughbred racing on the mainland as a record $76,620,370 passed through the mutuels.

But racing is not over in B.C.

A 16-day meeting under the auspices of the Capital City Turf Club, will open at Sandown Park, near Sidney, on Saturday.

Full Moon Charlie won the race on a disqualification to Double Remy who was set back to second after a claim of foul and an enquiry. Double Remy had won the race by a neck after a thrilling stretch duel.

The daily mutuel average for Exhibition Park was also a record — $77,002, compared to $76,263 in 1975. It marked a miniscule 0.9 per cent increase that was considered "disappointing" by Jack Diamond, co-president of the B.C. Jockey Club.

The jockey club had spent $4 million modernizing and enlarging the facilities at the track in the off-season.

Chris Loseth, who enjoyed an apprentice allowance until mid-season, finished with 124 wins on 785 mounts, also a record, to take jockey honors. Jim Arnold was second with 84 wins and Brian Johnson third with 78.

Cy Anderson saddled 53 winners to become the season's leading trainer. Fred Dyson was second with 39 and Alan May, last year's winner, and Ken "Sonny" O'Connell each had 37.

Pampas Host set a track record of 2:16 4-5 by winning the Premier's Championship over 1 3-8 miles on Saturday, edging Detrimental by a head, and earning $31,270 to brings his season's total to $55,700.

Detrimental took home $7,680 for second place and that gave him the top money total for the year of $56,750.

Pampas Host had to survive a claim of foul by Loseth on Detrimental.

The 16-day Sandown meeting will open with the featured Colonist Handicap at one mile and 70 yards. Racing will take place Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday each week with the exception of the final week when there will be no racing on Monday or Friday but there will be on Thursday, Nov. 11. The meet ends Nov. 13.

Several improvements have been made to grandstand and paddock areas and also the parking lot.

Post time on Saturday and holidays will be 12:30 p.m. and on weekdays, 1 p.m.

Elsewhere in racing, Effervescing, a 24-1 outsider, took the lead at the head of the stretch and beat Banghai, a 50-1 longshot, to win the $112,500 Man o' War Stakes at Belmont Park, Monday. Effervescing paid $50.40, $23.40 and $9.80. Crackle, part of the mutuel field, and an outsider at 25-1, finished third but was disqualified and placed fifth after a claim of foul. It took the stewards half an hour to rule on the foul claim . . . On Saturday, Revidere avenged her only defeat of the season in scoring a 14-length victory over Bastonera 11 in the $132,375 Ruffian Stakes for fillies and mares at Belmont. Proud Delta, who had beaten Revidere in her last start, was fifth and last over a sloppy track. Revidere has won eight of nine starts.

CAR CRASH CLAIMS MOOSE

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) — Pitcher Bob Moose of Pittsburgh Pirates was killed and four other persons injured Saturday night in a two-car accident on Ohio Route 7 near here, the Ohio State Patrol said.

Moose, who was 29 on Saturday, was a resident of Monroeville, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh. He was apparently en route to a party being held at a golf course at Rayland, Ohio, about three miles from here, owned by former Pittspurgh second baseman Bill Mazeroski.

Moose joined the National League baseball team in 1967 and had compiled a 74-69 lifetime record.

Belgian Driver Injured

Times News Services

Veteran racing driver Jacky Ickx, injured in a crackup during Sunday's U.S. Grand Prix at Watkins Glen, N.Y., was scheduled to return today to his native Belgium.

Ickx, 31, suffered a compound fracture of his right ankle and minor burns when his Formula I Ensign lost a wheel and crashed into a guard rail. The car burst into flames, but Ickx dragged himself to safety.

Britain's James Hunt held off Jody Scheckter to win the race and closed to within three points of Niki Lauda for the world driving championship.

The title will be decided Oct. 24 in the Japanese Grand Prix, the final event of the Formula I season.

Lauda finished a distant third and earned only four points to bring his season total to 68, shile Hunt hearned nine for victory. Hunt also won last weekend's Canadian Grand rix at Mosport, Ont.

Hunt, the pole position starter, got something less than an outstanding start and Scheckter darted in front with his dark blue Tyrrell six-wheeler. Hunt, however, took over the lead on the 45th lap and held on to win his sixth race of the year.

Hunt's McLaren team-mate, Jochen Mass of Germany, was fourth. Hans Stuck of Germany was fifth in a March with Irishman John Watson sixth in a Penske.

Mario Andretti's bid to be the first American to win his country's grand prix ended early in the race with a misfiring engine and damaged suspension.

A serious mishap involving a driver from Edmonton marred the 12th annual National Hot Rod Association's world finals at the Ontario Speedway in California.

Doug Moody, 29, of Edmonton remained in serious condition in hospital today as a result of injuries suffered when his dragster crashed into a retaining wall at 160 miles per hour. His machine's braking chute failed to open at the end of his run.

Moody was reported to have broken both legs and received a concussion and possible spinal injuries.

At Charlotte, N.C., Donnie Allison made his first trip in five years to victory lane but had to wait for four hours before he was ruled the winner of the $216,555 National 500 stock car race.

It was Allison's seventh Grand National victory in his 10-year career and his third at Charlotte. He finished a comfortable 12.2 seconds ahead of Cale Yarborough's Chevy, which had lost its first and second gears.

Officials of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing had to wait until Allison's engine cooled before declaring him the official winner. Heat had expanded the size of the engine. Post-race inspectors said his engine had first measured 358.03 cubic inches, .03 cubic inches beyond the legal limit. A final measurement showed it to be 357.8.

SLICK PUTTING GIVES GRAHAM WIN OVER IRWIN

VIRGINIA WATER, England (UPI) — Australian David Graham holed a 12-foot birdie putt on the second sudden-death playoff hole Saturday to hand Hale Irwin his first Piccadilly world match-play defeat and end the American golfer's bid for a record-breaking third straight triumph here.

In the 13-year event's second longest final, the 30-year-old Graham, who had trailed all the way, tied Irwin on the 36th regulation hole by single-putting for the seventh time in nine holes to earn the $42,500 top prize.

Graham, who for the first three years of his golf career was a left-hander, has now won $270,000 this year. In becoming the first Australian to take the title, he downed a trio of highly-regarded Americans — Hubert Green, by 3 and 3; U.S. Masters and World Open champion Ray Floyd by one hole; and then Irwin.

But it took a burst of phenomenal putting by Graham to dethrone Irwin, who had won eight previous match-play contests on the famous west course. Graham one-putted six of the final seven regulation holes to come home in 33, reminiscent of his previous day's surge to overtake Floyd.

South African Gary Player, five-time winner, took the $14,450 third prize by beating Floyd 7-and-5.

Oilers Sign Two Players

EDMONTON (CP) — Edmonton Oilers have signed forward Gene Peacosh and defenceman Dennis Patterson, who attended the World Hockey Association team's training camp on a trial basis.

Bep Guidolin, general manager and coach of the Oilers, said a third player, veteran NHL defenceman Bill Plager was not signed.

Dale Canada's Best

VILAMOUA, Portugal (AP) — Nancy Lopez won individual honors and led the United States to its sixth world women's amateur team golf title Saturday.

Miss Lopez shot a final-round 77 for a 72-hole total of 297, 10 strokes in front of Catherine LaCoste de Prado of France.

Miss Lopez, Deborah Massey and Donna Horton had a team total of 605, beating runner-up France by 17 strokes.

France, led by Mrs. de Prado, had a final total of 622 and Brazil was third with 626. Team standings in the 25-nation event are based on the two best individual scores after each round of the four-day tournament on a 6,181 - yard, par - 73 seaside course in Southern Portugal.

Miss Lopez, a 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Tulsa, was competing in the event for the first time. She rocketed to a four-over-par 77 Saturday after bogeying the 15th and 16th holes, where a steady rain "turned the greens into water hazards."

Mrs. De Prado, who took individual honors in 1974, the last time the tournament was played, wound up with a 79-307. Miss Massey had the third-lowest score, 309 after a final 78, while Miss Horton, with a final 77, had a share of fourth at 312.

The Canadian team finished tied for fifth with Australia at 636.

Betty Cole of Edmonton fired a final-round 80 for a 329 total, Marilyn Palmer of Vancouver had an 82 for 323 and Dale Shaw of Victoria finished with an 84 for Canada's best total — 321.

Clan Clips Cats

VANCOUVER (CP) — Simon Fraser University Clansmen took a 13-0 first-half lead then let their defence take over in a 13-6 win over Central Washington State College Wildcats Saturday in a non-conference football game.

They're simple, straightforward and easy to understand.

They're a great way to save. Here's why.

Security.

Canada Savings Bonds are secure because they're backed by all the resources of Canada.

FERGUSON'S BLAST SECOND BEST

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Gary McCord, a winner of more than $30,000 on the regular PGA tour this season, defeated three other Southern California professionals in a playoff to capture the $5,000 first prize in the Queen Mary Open golf tournament here Sunday.

The four professionals finished the regulation 72 holes with six-under 282 totals.

Cec Ferguson, a fookie professional from Victoria playing in his first money tournament ,picked up $250 for a 74-70-72-74—290 finish, good for a tie for 20th place.

The 26-year-old Canadian also pocketed $82 for finishing second in a long-driving competition. Fergie's drive was measured at 310 yards, just two yards behind the winner.

Ferguson had his biggest problems on the greens of the municipal-operated course. He three-putted nine greens during the four days.

Ferguson now heads for Scottsdale, and the first of four National Golf Association tournaments to be played in Arizona during November. The Scottsdale event starts Nov. 2.

Three Clubs Undefeated

Victoria West, Gorge Molsons and Victoria Athletics continue to sport unblemished records in the premier division of the Vancouver Island Soccer League.

Molsons scored their third straight victory Sunday when goals by Mark Robb and George Hyne supplied the Gorge squad with a 2-0 victory over da Vinci.

Vic West won its second by defeating a stubborn Oak Bay team 3-1 while Athletics, who operated as London Boxing Club last year, blanked Cosmopolitan Royals 3-0 in a Saturday game.

Cosmopolitan Royals protected their hold on the second division lead with a tough 3-2 victory over University of Victoria Norsmen while Vantreights took over sole possession of first place in the third division with a surprisingly-easy 5-0 victory over Oak Bay Alumni.

OH, OH, BABE'S NOW THIRD ON LIST

TOKYO (AP) — Sadaharu Oh, the slugging first baseman of Tokyo Yomiuri Giants, today became the second man to break Babe Ruth's carer home run total of 714.

The 35-year-old power-hitter's record-breaking homer — his 48th of the season and 715th of his career — came in the bottom of the eighth against Hanshin Tigers with a man on base.

Hank Aaron, baseball's all-time home run leader, was the first man to beat Ruth's record in Atlanta on April 8, 1974.

Aaron, who now holds the major league record of 755 career homers, retired this month from active playing with Milwaukee Brewers.

we're going out to fight controls

Why a National Day of Protest?
For almost a year Canadians have tried to tell the Trudeau Government that its control program was doing more harm than good.
But as usual, no one listened.
That left us with only one alternative— A National Day of Protest.

Controls are not working— they're hurting
The plain fact of the matter is that controls have failed, just as Trudeau himself said they would when he was campaigning for re-election in 1974.

Controls are not hurting the giant corporations
Profits are high and prices are going up as fast as ever. But the so-called Anti-Inflation Board does almost nothing about it.

Controls violate the basic democratic right of collective bargaining
For decades, Labour and Management have worked out their differences and signed contracts with which both sides were happy. Now for the first time, the Trudeau "Big Brother" Government has destroyed that right by ripping up agreed-upon contracts.

We're out to fight controls.

We can make the government listen
The right to dissent is basic to any democracy. When all else fails, dissent is the ultimate line of defence.

We have a duty to tell the Trudeau Government that Canada has had enough of its arrogance and incompetence.

By joining the National Day of Protest all Canadians will demonstrate their feelings.

Esks Rally to Edge Lions

By The Canadian Press

For 15 minutes Monday afternoon, Edmonton Eskimos looked like their old selves and that one burst was enough for a vital 16-12 victory over British Columbia Lions in the final game of a busy weekend for Western Football Conference clubs.

Shackled throughout the first three quarters by a stubborn B.C. defence and winds of more than 30 kilometres an hour, the Eskimos benefited from an astonishing left-handed pass by righander Tom Wilkinson and scored 13 points with the wind in their favor in the final quarter.

The Eskimos were fighting from behind most of the afternoon.

The first several plays were a comedy of errors. Joe Hollimon fumbled the opening kickoff. B.C. recovered but a field goal attempt was nullified by a bad snap. On Edmonton's first punt, Garry Lefebvre lofted the ball high into the wind and it went only five yards. He recovered it himself.

The victory left second-place Edmonton one point behind the leading Saskatchewan Roughriders, who whipped Toronto Argonauts 37-3 Sunday in Regina. Winnipeg Blue Bombers were upset 22-10 by Calgary Stampeders in Calgary Saturday and lost their chance to move into third place and the last playoff spot ahead of the Lions.

Wilkinson's pass came on a fake field goal by Dave Cutler at the British Columbia 19-yard line. He rolled to his left toward the sidelines and, trying to evade fast-closing defensive end Wayne Smith, shifted the ball to his left hand and lobbed it to Don Warrington who made an easy catch for the first down.

Two plays later, Lefebvre took a nine-yard pass from Bruce Lemmerman for the only Edmonton touchdown and the Eskimos' first lead of the day. Dave Cutler provided the other 10 points on a convert and field goals of 34, 37 and 41 yards.

The 41-yard boot came with less than three minutes left and forced B.C. quarterback Rick Cassata to try long passes in an attempt for a touchdown. He was successful three times in a row but then missed on three attempts and cornerback Mike Fink made an interception on the play.

Lou Harris romped 12 yards over the middle early in the second quarter for the only B.C. touchdown. Lui Passaglia had a convert, two singles and a 46-yard field goal, the longest of his pro career, to complete the B.C. scoring.

Cassata completed only eight of 23 passes for 65 yards. He had several accurate tosses dropped. However, the Lions' ace running backs, Harris and Mike Strickland, collaborated for 161 yards rushing to only 54 for Edmonton.

Ron Lancaster threw three touchdown passes and his standby, Dave Syme, fired his first of the season as Saskatchewan won over Toronto.

Lancaster's scoring throws went to Rhett Dawson, Bob Richardson and Tom Campana. Syme also threw to Dawson — who replaced McGowan during the weekend as the leading receiver in the WFC—for a major.

Bob Macoritti completed Saskatchewan's scoring with two field goals and four converts.

Lancaster completed 16 of 24 passes for 241 yards.

Zenon Andrusyshyn had a 39-yard field goal in the third quarter for the only Toronto points. Head coach Russ Jackson said it was Toronto's worst performance of the season.

John Hufnagel provided Calgary's most consistent quarterbacking of the season as he directed the Stampeders to their first victory and third point of the season. He threw a five-yard touchdown pass to Tom Forzani and directed a solid, intelligent march that led to a one-yard scoring plunge by Willie Burden.

Cyril McFall converted both touchdowns and kicked field goals of 49 and 18 yards. Placekicker Bernie Ruoff had all Winnipeg's points on field goals of 28, 17 and 30 yards and a 22-yard single.

Travelling Cats Slowed By Injuries, Weariness

The rigors of a tough, 11-game road trip are starting to catch up to Victoria Cougars but the coach of the Western Canada Hockey League team figures the two-week tour "can be a success with one more victory."

Two weekend losses left Cougars with a 4-5 won-lost record with games remaining tonight in Saskatoon and Wednesday in Medicine Hat.

"If we can get one more win, I'll be content," said coach Pat Ginnell while Cougars enjoyed a much-needed day of rest on Monday.

Cougars enjoyed a winning edge (4-3) on the road until they hit Winnipeg and Brandon. Winnipeg's vastly-improved Monarchs balanced Victoria's book with a 6-3 victory Saturday and the Wheat Kings dropped Cougars under the .500 mark on tour with a 7-3 decision in Brandon on Sunday.

Three Cougars, including team captain Curt Fraser, missed most of the weekend action.

Fraser has been battling a cold as well as a back problem. The back problem is one that concerns Ginnell.

"He was hit in the back in last Friday's game (in Regina)," said Ginnell. Fraser saw only limited action in both weekend games.

Fraser was given treatment in Regina on Monday, where the Cougars stopped en route to Saskatoon, and the winger is scheduled to visit a chiropractor today.

"He's our leader," said Ginnell, "and we missed him."

Also not dressed were forwards John Gordon, Kevin Clackson and Alvin Moore. Gordon continues to be bothered by a lig injury while Clackson is nursing a bruised hip suffered in a game at Flin Flon earlier last week.

Moore is gone. A centre, he has seen only limited action with Ginnell using rookie Gary Lupul, Geordie Robertson, Dennis Fenske and Mike Toel on a regular basis.

Ginnell has allowed Moore to return to Prince Albert Raiders of the Saskatchewan Junior League, where Alvin played last season.

But Ginnell also picked up a player from Prince Albert in return. Mark Robinson, a six-foot-one defenceman, was brought up for a three-game trial and looked impressive in Victoria's two weekend games in Manitoba.

Only 16, Robinson also is ticketed to play tonight in Saskatoon.

"If he continues to play as he did in Manitoba," said Ginnell, "he'll return to Victoria with us. I'll have to make a decision after tonight's game."

"I'll have to admit," Ginnell added, "the boys are getting tired. But after Wednesday, it will be downhill . . ."

Ginnell said he's "reasonably satisfied" with his team's performances but is less impressed with refereeing that has greeted Victoria on the Prairies.

"We're in both games until we get hit with some poor penalties. I don't want to sound as if I'm crying, but I think there have been a lot of 'reputation calls' against my players," said Ginnell.

Healthy Als Maul Ticats

HAMILTON (CP) — Montreal Alouettes held a reunion here Monday afternoon but Hamilton Tiger-Cats had a lousy time at the party.

The Alouettes, their key players back together in uniform and more or less healthy for the first time in weeks, crushed Hamilton Tiger-Cats 34-9 in an Eastern Football Conference game.

Chief celebrant was Sonny Wade, who played most of a game at quarterback for the first time in a month and tossed four touchdown passes after he took over for rookie starter Joe Barnes.

Returning with him were running back Andy Hopkins and flanker Johnny Rodgers, who missed two games each, and defensive tackle Gordon Judges, back after a one-game absence.

Wade, who had an injured thumb, came off the bench in the second quarter to complete 12 of 18 passes for 214 yards, tossing two scoring passes each to Rodgers and Peter Dalla Riva.

He got the game ball, then tried to pass off the credit.

"I received very good pass protection," he said. "I had all the time I needed to get the team moving."

Rodgers, who said it wasn't decided until last Frriday he was going to play, said his knee was still weak. He said ginseng, an Oriental herb, helped speed his recovery.

"The doctors told me I'd be out six to eight weeks with this leg and I made it back in half that time. It was ginseng that did it."

He finished with five catches for 148 yards, including 55-yard and 31-yard scoring receptions, and added 61 yards on five punt returns.

Hopkins, who was out with a bad bruise above his knee, broke a number of tackles at the line and accumulated 67 yards in 16 carries.

Don Sweet kicked four converts and two field goals to complete the Montreal scoring. Jimmy Jones threw a 26-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Edwards and Ken Clark kicked a convert and two singles for the Ticats.

Just Too Much Hart In 'Frisco's Defence

By The Associated Press

For San Francisco defensive end Tommy Hart, it was the greatest night of his career. For Los Angeles quarterback James Harris, it was a nightmare.

Hart sacked Harris six times Monday night to lead the '49ers to a 16-0 win over the Rams in a National Football League game.

The victory was the '49ers' fourth against one loss and lifted them one-half game ahead of the previously unbeaten Rams into first place in the National Conference West.

Hart, in dropping Harris behind the line of scrimmage time after time, forced three costly fumbles by the Los Angeles quarterback.

"It was just one of those nights," said Harris, who was sacked a total of 10 times.

Quarterback Jim Plunkett directed the San Francisco offence to 16 points in the first five minutes, 56 seconds of the third quarter, stunning the crowd of 80,532 in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

He threw two touchdown passes—36 yards to Willie McGee and six yards to Tom Mitchell—and then set up an 18-yard field goal by Steve Mike Mayer.

The '49ers drove 73 yards for their first touchdown, but the rest of their points came after Harris fumbled when hit by Hart.

In Sunday's games, Cleveland Browns upset Pittsburgh Steelers 18-16, New York Jets downed Buffalo Bills 17-14, Dallas Cowboys beat New York Giants 24-14, New Orleans Saints blanked Atlanta Falcons 30-0, Kansas City Chiefs upset Washington Redskins 33-30, Detroit Lions surprised New England Patriots 30-10, Baltimore Colts stopped Miami Dolphins 28-14, Oakland Raiders beat San Diego Chargers 27-17, Houston Oilers thumped Denver Broncos 17-3, Minnesota Vikings nipped Chicago Bears 20-19, St. Louis Cardinals beat Philadelphia Eagles 33-14, Green Bay Packers beat Seattle Seahawks 27-20 and Cincinnati Bengals stopped Tampa Bay Buccaneers 21-0.

The Steelers lost starting quarterback Terry Bradshaw for two or three weeks with a neck injury and saw their playoff hopes dwindle when they lost their fourth game in five starts.

The Jets gained their first victory of the season under new coach Lou Holtz, on Pat Leahy's 38-yard field goal with 48 seconds left.

New Orleans quarterback Bobby Scott threw for one touchdown and ran for another, while the Saints held the Falcons to 168 total yards and sent quarterback Steve Bartkowski to the sidelines with a knee injury.

Bartkowski is through for the season. On Monday, the Falcons dismissed head coach Marion Campbell, naming general manager Pat Peppler interim coach for the balance of the season.

Mike Livingston threw 37 yards to Larry Brunson for Kansas City's winning touchdown on a razzle-dazzle triple reverse with 1:04 to play. Greg Landry threw three touchdown passes, two to rookie tight end David Hill, and Detroit ended a three-game New England winning streak.

PARSON'S GOAL GIVES CANADA STUNNING WIN

VANCOUVER (CP) — Soccer Canada won its most important game in the current World Cup soccer qualifying round by defeating Mexico 1-0 Sunday to move into first place in the north-central American zone.

The Canadian win puts pressure on the United States team, which plays Mexico in Puebla on Friday, then meets Canada in Seattle on Oct. 20. Canada's final game is against Mexico in Toluca Oct. 27.

Two of the three teams will go to the next qualifying round, a step Canada has never before taken.

Substitute Buzz Parsons scored for Canada before 17,939 fans Sunday to give the team three points in the elimination round. It has a single point for a 1-1 tie earlier against the U.S.

The U.S. team has two points following its tie with Canada and a standoff with the Mexicans, which has one point.

Parsons' goal came when full-back Bruce Wilson, overlapping down the left flank, passed into the goalmouth. Parsons got up high to head the ball past goalie Francisco Castrejon.

Parsons was replacing Brian Budd, who was taken out after a collision with Arturo Vasquez. Budd had missed the U.S. game because of a pulled back muscle.

Sweeper Brian Robinson of Victoria also was lost to Canada during the game when he was taken out on a stretcher with possible torn knee ligaments after 26 minutes of play.

Tony Chursky was brilliant in the Canadian net facing 23 shots. Canada took eight shots on the Mexican goal.

YANKEES FALL APART; ROYALS SQAURE SERIES

NEW YORK (AP) — It is said that if you are going to make mistakes, it is best to make them all at once and get them out of your system.

If that's the case, then New York Yankees should be in good shape for tonight's third game of their American League playoff series with Kansas City Royals.

Dock Ellis, a 17-game winner, gets the start for New York against Andy Hassler, 5-12, of the Royals.

The teams are tied 1-1 in the best-of-five playoff that will send the survivor into the World Series. The Yankees 7-3 loss in the second game was a nightmare for the New York team.

They made a season-high five errors of commission and at least one error of omission. There were pop flies falling all over the place. There was a missed cutoff throw and baserunning blunders. It was a team loss in the truest sense.

"Did you ever see anybody look good when they lose?" wondered New York catcher Thurman Munson, who made two of the errors of commission, both bad throws on stolen bases.

Although the five errors cost the Yankees only one unearned run, they were symbolic of the sloppiness of the game. Kansas City's go-ahead rally in the sixth inning was started by George Brett's triple, a hit that started out looking like a routine fly ball.

"I thought I was going to catch it," said Yankees centrefielder Mickey Rivers, who plays his position notoriously shallow. "It took off and there was no chance."

Brett gambled trying for the triple and barely beat the throw. He might not have if Rivers had hit the cutoff man but the throw sailed past second baseman Willie Randolph and shortstop Fred Stanley had to make the relay. That was the error of omission.

Earlier, Royals' shortstop Freddie Patek had finessed Chris Chambliss on the basepaths. Chambliss was on first base in the third inning with New York leading 3-2.

Carlos May bounced a single into right field and Chambliss took off for second. Waiting for him was Patek, faking a play that sent the runner sliding in, safe by 200 feet as the ball bounced into right field. Another mistake.

ALBERTA TAKES TITLE; B.C. FINISHES THIRD

TORONTO — Alberta captured the Canadian women's field hockey championship here Monday with a 2-1 decision over Ontario while British Columbia took third place with a 2-0 shutout over Quebec.

In sudden-death seni-finals Sunday, Ontario topped B.C. on penalty strokes 4-3 after the teams has played to a 1-1 deadlock in regulation time and were unable to break the tie in a 20-minute overtime session and Alberta ousted Quebec 2-0 to gain the other final berth.

Following the tournament, six British Columbia players —Jan Crook, Sue Jameson, Mairi-Anne Longmore, Anna Marchand, Di Whittingham and Leslie Williams — were selected to the 30-member national team.

British Columbia and Alberta topped their respective divisions during 10-tean preliminary round-robin competition Saturday.

Whittingham and Crook scored twice each to give B.C. a 4-2 win over Quebec in the final Section "A" match. B.C. played to a scoreless draw with Nova Scotia earlier in the day and finished with a 3-0-1 record while Quebec was 3-2.

Alberta topped Section "B" with a 4-0 record after beating Ontario 2-0 and Newfoundland 1-0. Ontario finished runner-up with a 3-1 record.

Just Out-Luckied, Says Danny

CINCINNATI (AP)—Manager Danny Ozark discovered what was wrong with his Philadelphia Phillies, but it may have been too late to save the Eastern Division champions from elimination in the National League playoffs.

"We've been out-luckied," he explained.

Ozark hopes for a change in Phillies luck in today's third game of the best-of-five series in which the Phillies trailed Cincinnati Reds 2-0.

Left-hander Jim Kaat, 12-14, pitches for the Phillies, and Gary Nolan, 15-9, tries to put the Reds in the World Series for the second consecutive year.

The Phillies, who won 101 games en route to the East title with an often spectacular defence, have slackened during the playoffs.

They had made only two physical errors in the first two games, but mental miscues— throwing to the wrong base against the Reds—was damaging.

Ozark insisted at Monday's workout at Riverfront Stadium that the Phillies had not been intimidated by Cincinnati's tactics. He pointed to his players who were bantering as they worked.

"If they were standing around (quietly), I'd be very embarrassed having them out there," he said.

The Reds Joe Morgan disagreed with Ozark.

Morgan cited the sixth inning of the second game, in which the Reds scored four runs.

"Take Pete Rose. He's on first. (Ken) Griffey singles. Everybody in the world knows that Rose is going to third. The guy out in centre (Garry Maddox) knows he has to make a perfect throw to get him. He tries too hard and Griffey winds up at second."

The play described by Morgan was the key to the big inning. Three of the four runs followed.

The Reds, who had been trailing 2-0, went on to win that game 6-2. They won 6-3 Saturday.

Another big play in Sunday's second inning was a potential double-play line drive that glanced off the glove of Philadelphia first baseman Dick Allen, who only touched the ball because he was moving to first on a pickoff play.

When Allen failed to hold a line drive by Tony Perez, two runs were scored, sending the Reds ahead 3-2. Johnny Bench's single drove in the inning's last run and the Reds added two runs in the seventh off reliever Tug McGraw.

On Saturday, it was Don Gullett's pitching and batting that beat the Phillies. He drove in three runs with a single and a double and limited the Phillies to two hits before giving way to Rawly Eastwick in the ninth.

Schultz Remembers the Flyers

By The Canadian Press

Dave Schultz didn't have any trouble remembering who the enemy was Sunday night. It was Philadelphia Flyers and, perhaps especially, coach Fred Shero.

Traded by the Flyers just before the National Hockey League season opened, Schultz faced his old teammates for new employers, Los Angeles Kings.

He and Andre Dupont were main eventers in a first-period brawl that produced seven game misconducts. After that, a second-period goal by Ross Lonsberry was enough to give the Flyers their first win of the season, a 1-0 decision.

In Sunday's other games, Buffalo Sabres surprised Montreal Canadiens 3-1, Boston Bruins nipped Cleveland Barons 4-3 and Chicago Black Hawks trimmed Vancouver Canucks 5-1.

Schultz led the NHL in penalties in each of his four seasons in Philadelphia. There was speculation the Flyers decided he became an anachronism when rule changes were made aimed at cutting down on violence.

He had no kind words for the Flyers or Shero after Sunday's donybrook.

"That's a typical Flyers' brawl, four guys on one," he said. "I believe in fighting a man one-on-one. I know nobody's allowed to hit the Flyers in their own building. If you do, Freddie sends out one of his goons."

Acyually, there were more than five players involved after Philadelphia's Paul Holmgren was speared in the face by the Kings' Dave Hutchinson in the first period. Both benches eventually emptied, and Schultz was one of seven players ejected.

"The Flyers were trying to vindicate trading Schultz," said Los Angeles coach Bob Pulford. "There's no doubt about that."

In an interview with the Toronto Globe and Mail, Schultz said goon tactics employed by the Flyers "are disgraceful" and he admitted that he had been ordered to "play enforcer" for the team.

"I look back on some of the wild things that happened when I played for the Flyers and I can't help but blame them for starting a lot of the trouble," he told the newspaper.

"There's the case when we're playing California (Seals) and (Bobby) Clarke and Barry Cummins of the Seals get in a scrap. Clarke tried to jab Cummins in the face with his stick.

"Cummins retaliates by bringing his stick down on Clarke's head and our whole bench attacks Cummins.

"The Flyers didn't have to mug him. It was like a common mugging and it has happened since. They just took the law into their own hands. If there was ever a case for heavy suspensions it should have happened there.

"Granted, I made a name for myself in hockey by fighting but I defy anyone to show me an example where I took part in a gang attack on another player. Some of the things the Flyers have done are disgraceful.

"It can be said, that to a degree, they operated with a sort of mass hysteria. They would do anything to accomplish their goals and often did. Freddie (coach Shero) just stood back and enjoyed it."

Schultz said the Kings are giving him a chance to develop his hockey skills, using him on their power play and late in close games.

Goaltender Bernie Parent recorded his 40th career shutout for the Flyers.

Brian Spencer and Craig Ramsey scored third-period goals to give Buffalo its victory oved Montreal. The loss was Montreal's first after a 10-1 win over Pittsburgh and a 3-0 victory over Vancouver.

Smith and Dirty Dozen Earn Four-Wheel Honors

Doug Smith, a Victoria driver competing as an independent, grabbed a big load of prizes during the two-day Victoria Four-Wheelers automobile rally, which ended Sunday at Western Speedway.

Smith, who took top honors in both the M class dirt drags and the class VII obstacle race, collected men's top eliminator laurels.

He also picked up the top GM trophy.

Lou Itterman of Vancouver, who placed first in the H-class drags and third in the class IV obstacle race, won top women's eliminator honors.

The top visiting club was the Dirty Dozen from Duncan.

Hal and Pat Krieger of Surrey won top Dodge laurels, Rick and Shirley Pocock of Haney captured top Ford laurels, Tom and Darlene Mower of Quesnel collected the top Jeep trophy and Tom and Debbie Oster of Nanaimo received the top Toyota prize.

Almost 1,000 spectators turned out each day to watch the action involving exactly 100 entries from as far away as Quesnel and Oregon.

The centre of attention Sunday was the mud-hole on the obstacle course, where three competitors managed to get their vehicles jammed sideways in the soupy mixture of water and clay and needed a tow truck to get their machines back on solid ground.

TRACTION ON ICE WITHOUT STUDS . . .

THE ICE RADIAL from GOODYEAR

F-32
ALL WINTER RADIAL

UNIQUE TREAD DESIGN
The tread of the F-32 is designed for all winter traction. Interlocking cleats pull through loose snow and slush. Hundreds of fine-line sipes provide additional biting edges for traction on ice as well as wet or dry roads. Zig-zag grooves between tread elements provide escape channels for surface water and slush.

UNIQUE TREAD RUBBER
The F-32 All Winter Radial's special traction characteristics result from development of a rubber compound that maintains a greater degree of "bendability" at temperatures below freezing. This extra measure of cold-temperature softness enables the tread to conform more readily to road surfaces.

DOUBLE FLEXTEN CORD BELTS
Under the tread, two sturdy belts of Flexten—Goodyear's most advanced tire cord—provide strength and penetration resistance. The long mileage F-32 All Winter Radial lets you drive with confidence all winter long without metal studs. These radials can also be installed on front wheels for 4-wheel control on ice and hard-packed snow.

May we suggest you buy early. Some sizes will be available in limited quantities only.

Roderick Haig-Brown

No more lyrical prose, no more wizardry with a 10-foot fly rod on the Island's rivers

By DON VIPOND
Times Staff

Roderick Haig-Brown, dead at age 68 of a heart attack Saturday, was well on his way to becoming a living legend and will surely join Emily Carr among giants on the west coast.

He brought his beloved Campbell River alive for readers around the world.

No more "breakfasts with Brown."

No more dry humor delivered in immaculate English with trace of a smile.

No more lyrical prose on seasons of the year as they touched his corner of Vancouver Island and were understood by people who read him everywhere.

No more wizardry with a 10-foot fly rod on the Island's rivers, deft touch which brought even steelhead to the fly.

Roderick Haig-Brown — writer, philosopher, angler, judge, chancellor — and throughout it all, environmentalist, long before it became fashionable.

"As you mend the cast and work your fly well down to him through the cold water, your whole mind is with it, picturing its drift, guiding its swing, holding it where you know he will be. And when the shock of his take jars through your forearms and you lift the rod to its bend, you know that in a moment the strength of his leaping body will shatter the water to brilliance, however dark the day."

For 33 years, until last year, Haig-Brown was a judge in Campbell River, where those appearing in court before him were said to be having "breakfast with Brown."

He had no formal legal training but debated with eloquence the case for laymen on the bench.

From his study in the homestead alongside the Campbell River he produced 24 books, for adults and children, fiction and factual, many deftly capturing the flavor of water and land in British Columbia and the creatures of the province, particularly the salmon and steelhead.

Among his titles: A River Never Sleeps, Timber, The Western Angler, Starbuck Valley Winter, The Whale People, Return to the River, The Living Land, Saltwater Summer, A Primer of Fly-Fishing, On the Highest Hill, Fisherman's Fall.

"I think a library should not be a static thing but rather like a deep pool in a river, whose depths move slowly if at all but whose surface is a quiet flow. Fresh books come in, others are moved on the shelves to make place for them, others again go on to their travels through the second-hand dealers . . ."

A River Never Sleeps, his intimate view of the Campbell, its life and moods, drew praise from critics around the world. While he wrote of fishing, his books attracted others for the sympathy and love he felt for life around him.

From 1969 to 1972 Haig-Brown held the largely honorary post of chancellor at the University of Victoria, emerging with undiminished popularlity at a time when student discontent eventually led to the university president resigning.

He was a member of the federal Electoral Boundaries Commission and the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission.

Last year the provincial government purchased the Haig-Brown riverfront property, to become after his and his wife Ann's death a residence for deserving conservationists and authors in their later years. An environment conference centre will likely be established there too.

Haig-Brown was born in Lancing, Sussex, England. He is survived by his Wife, Ann, and children Valerie Joan, Mary Charlotte (Mrs. Fred Bowker of Victoria), Alan Roderick and Evelyn Celia.

Guards Squelch Sit-In

By PAUL NICHOLSON
Times Staff

Thirty-six Wilkinson Road jail inmates barricaded themselves inside the dining room area Sunday to protest the isolation of a prisoner.

The relatively peaceful demonstration lasted about two hours before extra guards were called in and the dissidents led back to their cells at about 7 p.m.

Corrections centre director Hal McGillivray said today he rejected the prisoners' demand that the inmate be released from the segregation cell.

When an inmate is disciplined for breaking a rule the disciplinary action will be carried out, he said.

"The administration is running this prison, not the inmates."

The sit-in was ended without any deals being made, McGillivray said, just as "no court would kow-tow to a demonstration outside the courtroom."

Shortly after 5 p.m., inmates inside the dining area grabbed tables and barricaded the doors, and then demanded the release of the inmate in the segregation cell.

There was some noise, but it was not too rowdy, McGillivray said, and as soon as inmates saw the show of force with the addition of extra corrections staff, they took their barricades down.

Saanich police were alerted and were standing by in the event the occupation became serious.

He said the 36 protesters would not be disciplined.

The inmate was placed in segregation for refusing orders and directing foul language toward the staff. He had been in segregation 24 hours at the time of the protest, and would have been seen by administration personnel Monday, McGillivray said.

He said such demonstrations are rare in the Vancouver Island Regional Correction Centre.

He called it "backlash" from the publicty surrounding recent incidents in penitentiaries.

"My personal feeling is we do as much as we possibly can for these inmates considering the facility," McGillivray said.

He added that the accommodation was as good as a lot of places people live in on the outside.

City Plan Aired

In three separate parts of Greater Victoria tonight, residents will have an opportunity to express their views on planning and development proposals significantly affecting the areas' future growth.

At Victoria city hall a large turnout is expected for the first and only public meeting before the city's draft official community plan is adopted and submitted to the Capital Regional Board.

The community plan, two years in preparation, has been defined as "a general statement of long-term development objectives" in the city.

It has already been criticized by representatives of neighborhood groups, who feel it is too general and vague to afford neighborhoods any real protection from the demolition plans of developers.

The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m.

Also at 7:30 p.m., Saanich Ald. John McDonald, chairman of council's lands, planning and housing committee, will moderate a panel on planning at Saanich municipal hall.

Serving on a panel will be Housing Minister Hugh Curtis, Larry Bell, deputy minister of housing; Chris Dowling, regional manager of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, and Chris Pike of the Housing and Urban Development Association of Canada.

McDonald said information from tonight's meeting will be valuable in helping Saanich produce its community plan by the regional district's Nov. 1 deadline.

North Saanich residents will have a chance to learn more about their proposed zoning bylaw at a public meeting tonight in Trinity Church hall, Mills and West Saanich Roads.

The information meeting will be attended by Mayor Paul Grieve and the aldermen of council's zoning committee and will start at 8 p.m.

The proposed bylaw establishes rural areas with minimum lot sizes of seven and two acres, and would have residential areas where lots will be a minimum half-acre if there is piped water or one acre if served by wells.

Foot Riders Jam Ferries

About 100 foot passengers were turned back Monday night from the 7 p.m. B.C. Ferries sailing from Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen and had to catch the next ferry an hour later.

Ken Stratford, B.C. Ferries traffic manager, said today they were turned back because the ferry had reached its reduced licensed capacity of about 1,000 passengers and crew.

With fewer crew members now on staff fewer passengers can be carried.

He said Thanksgiving is one of the busiest weekends and it is not unusual in such circumstances for foot passengers to be held up for an hour.

Stratford said it was not a new experience and denied it was because more people are leaving their cars at the terminals and travelling as foot passengers in the wake of increased fares.

The passenger count makes no distinction between foot passengers and those who arrive in cars, he added.

In fact, ferries are carrying 10-to-12 per cent fewer passengers now than they were in 1975, due primarily to the fares which were doubled June 1, Stratford said.

He said the three-day Thanksgiving weekend went smoothly and there were no cars or passengers left at any of the terminals after the final sailings Monday night.

A Victoria woman, who travelled on the ferries during the weekend, said there were long lines of cars parked along the roads at Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen.

She said she counted 317 cars parked on the road at Tsawwassen and she figured if, under the old rate structure, those cars had been taken both ways on the ferries, B.C. Ferries would have made at least $6,000 more.

Stratford said it is true there is a slight increase in the number of foot passengers as a result of the increased fares but added it was "short term logic" to think this was the reason for the lines of parked cars.

If the ferries were free, there would be even more cars parked, he said, because the ferries have a limited vehicle capacity and if more people want to get on they have to travel as foot passengers.

He said a large number of parked cars at the terminals is normal for long weekends.

Never mind power of the press. Pay attention to the power of last year's student council at Parkland Secondary in Sidney.

Or so it seems to Chamkaur Cheema, the school's former student president and now enrolled at UVic.

Cheema and other student reps met with Saanich MLA Hugh Curtis early in July to protest ferry hikes and particularly the increase in minimum number of persons needed to qualify for group rates. They were worried about its effect on school teams.

Curtis said he would pass on the complaints to ferry boss Jack Davis and meet later with the students.

Next . . . nothing. Then recently Cheema had a message from the minister's office advising that a change in group rates had been made effective Sept. 1.

"It's nice of them to tell me," said Cheema. "But why didn't they tell anyone else?"

Are you listening, Parkland Secondary? Can you do anything about that increase in sales tax?

Neonex International president Jim Pattison and Victoria realtor Eric Charman were locked in a takeover battle in Vancouver and the first report was that Pattison came out on top.

The object of the takeover was a little puppy, the prize entry in a charity auction.

Charman quietly spread the word he must have the puppy at any cost and Pattison announced he was going to make it expensive for him — all in the name of sweet charity.

Pattison forced Charman up to $750 and then bid $900 in hopes of getting Charman into four figures. However, it was "going, going, gone!" to Pattison at $900.

Pattison, ever on the lookout for a deal, sold the puppy to a dog-lover at the auction. The rumored sale price was $200, which is an interesting twist on the buy-low, sell-high philosophy of financiers.

All the proceeds, several thousand dollars, went to British Columbia charities.

There just aren't that many places offering a really imaginative selection of ice cream cones these days — but one of the best is out Sooke way.

Roy an Barb Hill took over Saseenos Service and Grocery at 5723 Sooke Rd. in the spring and made a lot of friends over the summer offering ice cream cones in such lip-licking flavors as raspberry cream, coffee brickle, peach brandy, banana fudge, rum and raisin and peppermint candy. At reasonable prices too, 30 cents for two scoops.

There were 14 flavors at the height of summer but even on Thaksgiving Day business was brisk. It's a long ice cream cone season on the island.

Which is tastiest? That's a matter of opinion but Roy says the raspberry cream "was a beauty," tasting just like raspberries smothered in cream. Yuuuuummmmmm.

Quake Victims Helped

A total of $40,000 has been raised by a Victoria group to help victims of an earthquake and tidal waves which struck th Philippines in August.

The group of Canadians and Filipino-Canadians is headed by Ben Pires, 804 Mann, a provincial government employee whose wife, Laila, was born in Manila.

The provincial government has donated $25,000 to the fund-raising drive, which began Aug. 20. The Red Cross contributed $10,000 and $5,000 came from private sources.

The group has asked local councils, council members and municipal employees to donate to the drive called Operation Bayanihan.

Bennett Avoids Issue, Civic Leaders Chorus

Some cynicism and some disappointment — that was the mixed reaction today of Victoria-area civic leaders to the state of the province address delivered by Premier Bill Bennett on Thanksgiving Day.

The jaundiced view came from Victoria Mayor Mike Young.

"It's largely rhetorical, platitudinous and inclined toward telling people there is something to be thankful for."

Young said he didn't really expect the speech to contain any mention of municipalities and the difficulties they face.

"One would assume that they (the government) would try to avoid all the nasty things occurring and stress, however tenuous it might be, the optimistic note," he added.

But Oak Bay Mayor Brian Smith was disappointed at the lack of any specific reference in the address to the problems of B.C. municipalities.

He said the financial plight of municipalities is becoming "bleaker and bleaker," and if some significant help doesn't come from the provincial government in the way of revenue sharing "municipal government will be shutting down in about five years."

Smith said the Union of B.C. Municipalities gave Municipal Affairs Minister Hugh Curtis a warm reception at its conference last month. He has the "goodwill" of municipal leaders because they feel he sincerely believes in the need for revenue sharing.

Mayor Art Young, of Esquimalt, hoped the premier is proven right.

"He didn't really say anything, but if this is taken as a state-of-the-province thing, then everything is on the up. We hope this proves correct and that employment and the provincial government will use this surplus budget to help municipalities," Young said.

England: A Semi-Sentimental Journey

WHEN THIS BUSY YEAR was in its springtime, we returned our long-standing dream of a trip to Britain to storage. Our roof needed shingles. We were up to our ears in work. To our great pleasure, son Ron and lovely girl named Keiko decided they would like to be married from our house. Obviously, a trip postponement was indicated.

The new roof materialized. So did the wedding, and a very nice one it was. I tied off a writing assignment well ahead of the deadline decreed for it. Our passports were in order, and September stretched invitingly before us.

So one morning, too excited for a proper breakfast, we downed a quick cup of coffee and set out for the island from which Win's parents and my father emigrated in their youth. They came to Canada by boat. We would cross a continent and an ocean in a ship of a different sort . . . a jet-powered plane that would take off from Vancouver and land at London's Heathrow airport.

To very many Canadians, this polar route traverse on a course that passes 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg is a familiar journey. But to Win and me, first-timers launched on a voyage of discovery, the prospect was mind-blowing.

The prelude was routine. At Campbell River's airport in the woods, I set our luggage on the PWA scales. Win's two suitcases and my bag weighed in total a few pounds more than the 44 each covered by our tickets. Later, burdened with those three pieces plus Win's tote-bag and my flight bag, we realized our mistake. Next time, no excess luggage! We would heed the good advice we'd disregarded, and go light.

The truck that scouts the Campbell River runways for stray deer completed its round. We boarded. The Convair shoved off for Vancouver International Airport half an hour distant.

There the useful Convair was reduced to a pygmy by world-spanning giants. The Air Canada 747 that would take us to London was snugged alongside its loading berth. It stretched long and sleek, with a smoothly moulded hump up forward, and a skyraking tail fin blazoned with the line's red maple leaf.

Here at home, we take the Canadian maple leaf for granted. But distance makes the heart grow fonder. When we happened on Canada's emblem abroad, I filled my eyes with it and felt an odd little bump of the heart.

As chronic early arrivers, we found ourselves with time to kill. The wait seemed endless. We yearned to be on board and away.

Then the wait did end. A security man checked our hand luggage. The scanner in its box passed over my wife over its gangway, but pinpointed me with a suspicious electronic eye.

For a panic moment, pockets emptied on a table, I saw our trip ended before it had well begun. But a human guard declared me clean, and we trudged on with nearly 400 other passengers to be swallowed like so many Jonahs into the belly of the whale.

This was a comfortable whale, its tourist class ground floor laid out in divisions each the size of a small theatre.

We found our window seats in the yellow cabin — "The yellow one is for seared people," my wife insisted — and settled down for a flight that would take time zones in stride.

The lift-off, when it came, was almost anticlimactic. The patterned earth receded, the Coast Range flowed beneath us. We were climbing the great curve that arcs across land and sea to its other extreme at London: Altitude 37,000 feet, steward serving free soft drinks to the children and selling stronger beverages to adult passengers from his compact bar on wheels.

With a still-lingering sense of unreality, we relaxed over gin-and-tonic. We were up and winging, our trip begun.

We had no fixed schedule. We were committed to no tours. We would simply wander where we chose, getting the feel of a country and its peoples. And not from books and travellers' tales this time, glory be, but at first hand.

The plane droned on, eating up time and distance. The Hebrides would be our landfall. We would touch down at London in the morning light.

Rescue Record Set

With more than two months to go, the Pacific Rescue Coordination Centre at CFB Comox has broken all existing records for marine and air incidents.

This morning fisherman J. Baker became the 3,000th incident to be reported to the centre this year when his 15-foot pleasure craft broke down in Cordova Bay.

He managed to make his way safely to shore after marking the side of his boat for easy identification, the centre reported.

On Monday, the rescue centre sent an armed forces Labrador helicopter from CFB Comox to pick up ailing Polish fisherman Reszka Stanislaw from the vessel Dent Bola, west of Tofino.

Stanislaw was reported in fairly good condition in Victoria General Hospital today with internal bleeding.

MANY SENIOR JOBS BLOCKED TO WOMEN

CALGARY (CP) — Traditional discrimination and false assumptions are still blocking women from top jobs, says Allan Cahoon, a University of Calgary business professor.

Dr. Cahoon, speaking at a university lecture series, said more working women now are employed as managers but their ratio to the total female work force has not changed much in the last 10 years.

In a recent study of 45 businesses in British Columbia, Dr. Cahoon said he found women made up 41 per cent of the work force but only 12.5 per cent of the managers. And only 2.7 per cent of the female managers held senior or executive positions.

CHECKING EXCESS BAGGAGE

Ask Jennifer

By JENNIFER ANDERSON

There are thousands of theories on how to knock off extra weight. Most of them are useless; some downright dangerous.

What it comes down to is this: If a diet doesn't change your eating habits, then it's not going to work permanently.

DEAR JENNIFER: I have 20 pounds of excess baggage. What is the best way to get it off? — Fran K.

The fastest way is not always the best. It goes back on just as quickly afterward.

A new diet that isn't a fad and bears some consideration is a high-fiber diet. The principal behind this is that by adding more fiber to the diet, something that is generally lacking in the diets of the Western world, food will be processed and eliminated in a much shorter time — a sort of rapid-transit system!

By elimination of refined flour and sugar in the diet and the addition of fiber, such as bran to tomato juice, soups, broths, stews, you can get rid of excess weight slowly and permanently, feel satisfied and full and also improve your general health — a real plus when you consider that most diets of the "fad" nature do nothing for one's health.

If giving up bread has been your downfall in the past, a special formula white bread has been designed with both weight control and additional fiber (or roughage) in mind. It has 30 per cent fewer calories and five times the fiber of whole-wheat bread. One of the new breads claims that two slices are equivalent to two bowls of bran cereal.

Check with your doctor before beginning any diet. Lose slowly and safely to keep the weight off permanently. Don't forget that exercise is a way to burn off those calories, too.

DEAR JENNIFER: I feel that good nutrition is becoming more and more important. I frequently diet, but never seem to lose much weight. At times I even cook one meal for the family and another for myself. Is there a general rule to follow on how to serve diet-conscious meals with high nutrition at the same time? — Mary T.

It is hard to make general there is plenty of room for improvement in the eating habits of many families. It is felt that if fats were cut down, along with table sugar, and more vegetables, fruits and grains were added to the diet, you could reach a healthier combination of foods.

If you pack lunches for the family, now is an excellent time to start changing a few of the old standards: skip the peanut butter and jelly sandwiches and provide instead hard-boiled eggs, carrot and celery sticks and a tomato stuffed with tuna. Such a lunch takes a little more time to prepare, but it pays off in maintaining weight and good health.

Cleaning Ladies by Boat

family

HUNTSVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Marg Hayhurst and Cathy Elder are partners in a unique business. They are known around the Huntsville cottage area as the Algonquin Park Canoe Lake Cleaning Ladies.

Beginning in the early weeks of May, Mrs. Hayhurst, 60, and Mrs. Elder 23, hop into their aluminum boat, start their six-horsepower engine and begin their summer's work, opening up and cleaning cottages in the area after the long winter months.

"We get calls from Vancouver, Detroit and all over Ontario, asking us to air out and straighten up summer places on the lake," said Mrs. Hayhurst.

Before she got into the cleaning business, Hamilton-born Mrs. Hayhurst and her late husband Bill had been Algonquin Park summer-dwellers for 35 years.

Mrs. Elder was a Toronto girl working in the cottage country for the summer when she first met Mrs. Hayhurst. She later married and settled down in the Haliburton area.

They decided to go into the cleaning business on a part-time basis. It was an instant success, and now every summer the two women work three days a week from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

"We like to finish a place in a day," said Mrs. Elder. "If we have to go back it's more like work."

"We supply our own materials, gas for the boat, household ammonia, waxes, pails and brushes," said Mrs. Hayhurst. "We've already worn out one electric broom."

Although they are busiest in the cottage-opening and closing seasons, they are beginning to build a reputation as the only workers available on a regular basis in the summer months.

"We have literally no competition," said Mrs. Elder. "The only other people within 20 miles are vacationing cottage-owners and the cottages we clean are only accessible by boat."

The fee for their service is $3 an hour each, considered reasonble by most of their customers.

"They know when we go in, we're going to work and that everything will be there when they come back," said Mrs. Hayhurst. She said she is convinced they could make a real living if they went at it full time, but the present routine is just enough to give them some spending money.

Youth Theatre Registration

Last registrations for Victoria Youth Theatre until January will take place Tuesday on the third floor of the Maritime Museum Building in Bastion Square.

Access is by a small door at the back of the building and beside the large anchor on display there. For times and membership ($10), the person to call is director Jim Leard, 385-1508. Work will start soon for a production to be mounted at The Belfry in early December.

Portable King of the Worksavers

By A. J. HAND
(c) 1976, Popular Science

If I could own just one portable power tool, I'd choose a portable circular saw. And that's no snap decision.

My family has a cottage on a remote island with no electricity. No electricity means working on the cottage with hand tools — adding new rooms, fixing porches, and so on — have convinced me that no power tool in the world can match a circular saw. It's the king of the worksavers.

I don't mind drilling holes by hand. Hand sanding doesn't bother me. But when it comes to ripping a sheet of ¾-inch plywood in half, I'd like my circular saw, thank you. Making that eight-foot rip by hand means about five minutes of arm-wrenching work. Usually the cut is a little rough and wavy, and that means another couple of minutes with a plane cleaning things up. With a circular saw the job is done in 30 seconds, the cuts are straight, true and clean. Little effort is required.

You can buy all this convenience for around $35. And for most homeowners, a $35 saw will do the job. It won't take the day-in, day-out beating a professional contractor would give it. But for occasional use around the home, it will serve just fine.

Copyright © 1976 POPULAR SCIENCE

Here's how to pick one:

First of all, saws are sized by blade diameter. Most are 7 or 7½ inches. Either size is fine, but before you buy, make sure the saw can cut through nominal two-inch lumber at a 45-degree angle. To do this, tilt the base plate to 45 degrees. Set the blade for maximum projection and measure the distance it protrudes below the base plate. This should be at least a touch more than 1½ inches.

Next check for convenience. Were the base tilt and blade depth adjustments you just made easy? Try them on a couple of other saws and compare. Some saws are stiff and hard to adjust accurately. Others are smooth.

Look at the electrical cord. Does it have two or three prongs? If it has two prongs, the saw is double insulated. If it has three, the saw is not. What's the difference? Well, the three-prong plug protects you from accidental shock via a third grounding wire. If a short develops, the third wire carries the current to ground and you avoid a shock. A double insulated tool provides shock protection by putting two separate insulation barriers between you and the power.

Which system is better? Both are safe. But double-insulated tools are more convenient. They'll plug into any two-hole outlet without an adapter. And they'll work with ordinary twin-lead extension cords. Three-prong plugs require three-hole outlets, and three-wire extension cords. Or you can use them with adapters — if you have one, and if you can find it when you need it. All other things being equal, I prefer double-insulated tools.

How much power? If you keep your blades sharp, 1½ horsepower will be adequate. And you should keep your blade sharp; a dull one cuts poorly, tends to bind (dangerous), and strains the saw.

Accessories? An adjustable rip guide, like the one shown in the illustration, is useful for ripping narrow strips of wood. Get a protractor-type guide for accurate crosscuts and bevels. A combination blade will do a fair job of both ripping and crosscutting. But single-purpose blades will outperform combination blades at their assigned tasks. Ripping blades will rip faster. Crosscut blades will make cleaner crosscuts. Plywood blades make the smoothest cuts in plywood. Want to cut stone or masonry? Get an abrasive masonry blade. Another type of abrasive blade will cut steel.

To make a circular saw even more accurate and convenient, you can buy an accessory table. The saw fastens to it — upside down — and you wind up with a small table saw. Some makers offer these tables. Or, once you buy a saw, you can make your own.

BASTED BIRDS TASTIER

TORONTO (CP) — Companies that distribute self-basting turkeys say consumers buy the birds for the taste, not the convenience.

Greta Elgis, home economist for Swift Canadian Co. Ltd., Toronto, says her company used to get dozens of telephone calls from consumers asking how they could make the white breast meat of the birds more moist.

"I know how they feel," she said in an interview. "I never could stand white meat before and now I eat slices and slices of it."

Swift, owner of the Butterball trademark, injects the breast with three-per-cent coconut oil that bubbles to the surface during cooking.

The butterball contains no butter but the label is marked "oil basted." The name Butterball refers to the shape of the turkey, she said.

"We tried using butter originally when self-basting turkeys came on the market in 1970," Mrs. Elgis said.

"But we had terrible problems with the butter going rancid. It just doesn't have good freezer storage."

Mastectomies Have Strengthened Love

DEAR ABBY: A woman who had had a mastectomy asked if she should tell her gentlemen friends about it. And if so, when.

My wife had a mastectomy after we were married for 28 years. When I brought her home from the hospital she was the same beautiful woman I had taken there before her surgery. It made no difference to me, except that it brought us closer together and strengthened our love.

The woman should tell her suitor early. If he is a mature man, it won't matter. But if he runs, he would have run sometime during their marriage — even without the surgery. — ONE MAN.

DEAR ABBY: With reference to revealing a mastectomy: I am a 21-year-old male and I'd advise a woman to tell the man about it as soon as the relationship became serious. Personally, I wouldn't bat an eyelid. Only a fool would be more concerned with how much flesh covers his lover's heart than the feeling she holds in it for him. — DEFINITE.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 34 I had a breast removed. Until that time I had a fabulous figure. In fact, I modeled brassieres. When faced with death or mutilation, I had no choice. (My dearest friend is now a terminal cancer patient because she waited too long to have the operation.)

I wore full baby-doll gowns to bed, and a prosthesis during the daytime, allowing me to wear sweaters, swimsuits, etc. No problems.

My husband was terrific. It made no difference in our love life, except to improve it. His sensitivity and consideration for me made me love him even more.

When I was 47 my husband died. A year later I started dating, and if I felt the man was getting serious, I told him about my mastectomy. His reaction told me immediately if he was repelled or not.

At 49 I married a terrific man. (I had had three proposals and took my choice.) Had I felt deformed, inferior, or sorry for myself, I'd have missed the best part of my life.

I am now 65 and . . . — NEVER BEEN HAPPIER.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 50-year-old man who married a 48-year-old woman who had had a mastectomy. She said, "Not every woman is lucky enough to be sure that her husband didn't marry her only for her body." I assured her that she meant far more to me than just a bosom buddy. — MORRIS THE TAURUS.

DEAR ABBY: I can't pass up this opportunity to share the most beautiful moment in my life: I had had a double mastectomy at age 44. I had never been married and thought my life was over. Then I met a wonderful widower and it was love at first sight, but I fought my feelings because I didn't know how to tell him that the lovely figure he admired was not all "me."

I finally told him the whole story, to which he replied, "So what? You see these lovely teeth that you admire so much? Well, they aren't mine either!"

We'll be married 10 years in December and life is beautiful! — BLESSED.

Stop Running, Listen To Cure Depression

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I go into one depression after another. I go from doctor to doctor, appealing for help. I feel temporarily better and then, before I can enjoy a period of happiness, I fall right back into a well of despair.—Mrs.D.K.

Dear Mrs. K.:

The fact that you are going from doctor to doctor in an effort to find a solution to your problem may be an important part of your problem.

There are physical and emotional causes for depression. Sometimes, they are separate from each other. More often they are closely interrelated.

Mild or severe depression can come as an overlay to a physical illness. In such instances, it is imperative that the cause of that physical illness be established and intensively treated.

In other instances, depression may come on without any specific physical disturbance. In such cases, it is necessary to seek the help and guidance of a psychiatrist or a psychologist because they are specially trained.

During periods of depression, patients want a solution to their problem. When this is delayed, patients like yourself run from doctor to doctor, without giving any single one the opportunity or time to establish the factors responsible for depression.

At present, vast strides have been made in the field of anti-depressant drugs. When carefully chosen and specifically tailored to the needs of each patient, in combination with psychotherapy, depression is controllable, and even conquerable.

Is cirrhosis of the liver always a fatal disease? — Mr. N.V.D.

Dear Mr. D.:

No, it's not. There are now a great many highly sensitive tests and enzyme studies which brings early cirrhosis to the diagnostic attention of the doctor.

When it is suspected and treated immediately, and when its cause is eliminated, people with early stages of cirrhosis can be expected to live out a normal period of years.

NEWBORN LIFT RISKY—DOCTOR

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) —A Yale Medical School surgery professor says doctors who follow the tradition of lifting newborn infants by the ankles risk dislocating the babies' hips.

Dr. Edmund S. Crelin said the lifting is done for convenience because the newborn is slippery and the doctor wants to slap the buttocks or soles of the feet to shock the baby into taking its first breath. He said physicians should cradle the infant instead.

Crelin said the risks of the lift became known through his experiments on the function of a little-understood ligament at the top of the thigh.

Crelins said the ligament, as big around as a pencil, reaches from the head of the thigh bone to the bottom of hip socket. He said it keeps the infant's hip in the socket when it is in the fetal position, legs bent and knees tucked up.

He said pulling the leg straight, as when an infant is held upside down by the ankles, renders the ligament ineffective because it is attached to the bottom of the hip socket.

Because so many North Americans are very weight conscious, it is important for homemakers to know if the kind of fish they intend to serve is fundamentaly flat or lean.

A small poster, which you can attach to your pantry door or any of your kitchen walls, lists "Common Varieties of Fish and Shellfish For Sale in Canada".

It shows, for instance, that among the lean seafood are cod (Atlantic), flounder, haddock, ocean perch, smelt, sole, bass, carp, pickerel, and tomcod.

Fish classified as fat include sea herring, salmon, sardines, mackerel, Arctic char, lake trout and sturgeon.

THE MOTHER EARTH NEWS®

...it tells you how

Mammy's little baby loves short'nin' bread!

At one time or another, nearly every one of us has sung that song . . . but how many people do you know who have actually eaten short'nin' bread? Very few. How often, in fact, have you even seen a recipe for short'nin' bread? Probably never.

It was with great interest, then, that I recently noted the formula for genuine, down-home short'nin' bread in what was left of an old spiral-bound copy of something called Charleston Receipts. I know nothing more about this book, since the first 12 and the last I-don't-know-how-many pages are missing . . . but I'm guessing that it's a "vanity" cookbook published approximately 20 years ago in Charleston, South Carolina.

At any rate, I found—on page 161 of the collection—Mrs. Henry F. Church's recipe for short'nin' bread. I've tried it, it's good (in a Lorna Doone cookie sort of way) and here's how you can make your own:

Cream one-quarter pound of soft butter and one-fourth cup of light-brown sugar. Add one and one-half cups of flour and roll the mixture out quickly about one-half inch thick on a floured board. Cut the dough with a small biscuit cutter and bake on a lightly greased and floured cookie sheet for approximately 20 minutes at 350° F.

Eat the little cookies hot or cold . . . and you'll know why mammy's little baby really did love short'nin' bread!

By MICHAEL LAMM

DEAR MIKE:

My 1973 Firebird originally came with polyester-belted radial tires. That first winter, I bought a set of snow tires, also polyester-belted radials. I now need to buy a new set of regular tires and would like to go to steel-belted radials. My question is, Will I be able to mix the steel polyester radials next winter?—WHEELS

DEAR WHEELS:

Yes, mixing different types of brands of radial tires is all right. It's combining radials with non-radials that causes bad handling.

DEAR MIKE:

I just purchased a new 1976 Buick Regal with the 4-barrel, 350-cid V-8. I'd like to put on dual exhausts, preferably without a second catalytic converter. What do you think? —TWIN PIPES

DEAR PIPES:

Don't do it, and I say this for several reasons. First, it's never been proven to my satisfaction that dual exhausts on a non-racing car help either performance or mileage — certainly not enough to justify the expense. Second, running one bank of cylinders without a converter would make for: a) an imbalance of back pressure, b) smog, c) problems with the law. If I were you, I'd leave your car's exhaust system stock.

DEAR MIKE:

My 1970 Chevelle leaves a black, soot-like substance on the driveway from the tailpipes when I start the car cold. The carburetor has been overhauled and the engine tuned up recently.—PUZZLED

DEAR PUZ:

No problem. It IS soot — a mixture of condensed water and combustion carbon. It's normal and nothing to worry about.

DEAR MIKE:

Our 1971 Cutlass runs quietly and fine until it stands out in the hot sun for an hour or more. Then, when I drive it, I hear a rapid tick-tick-ticking sound. We've asked several service stations and the Olds dealer, but no one has been able to trace this noise.—TICKY

DEAR TICKY:

I can't pinpoint it from here, but it must have to do with the heat expansion of some rotating part, possibly something as simple and innocent as a wheelcover or speedometer cable, but perhaps something more serious, like a universal joint. I can only suggest that you trace the tick with the rear wheels carefully jacked up.

By LYNN and JOEL RAPP

DEAR LYNN and JOEL: I was really amazed when I read the letter from the lady who was so proud of her luck with Ti logs. She'd probably be bowled over if she knew you can get leaves off them in as short a time as three weeks!

Here's how: Scrape wax off ends of log. Place log in shallow dish and half cover with warm water. In one to three weeks there should be breaks or splits on the log at water level. When white comes through the bark, stand log up in juice glass and fill about halfway up. While "nubs" should turn green in about one week. Wait until roots appear at bottom of log before planting in porous planting mix such as perlite or vermiculite.

I have successfully done this with about 10 logs and have never failed. Although some are slower than others, don't get discouraged — just be amazed at how fast they do grow once they get started. As a matter of fact, I have one now that is two feet tall and is only 10 weeks old. Good luck — S.R.

DEAR S.R.: Your recipe for brewing up a Ti log sounds so good we're going to try it ourselves with our next one. We appreciate the tip.

DISCOVER SPAIN!
LEARN THE SECRET THAT SPANISH WOMEN KNOW

Spanish women were the first to enjoy the fragrance of "Maja" in a beauty soap that is like a bar of perfume, rich in precious essences and lavishly endowed with olive oil to smooth your skin.

The "House of Myrurgia" was founded in Spain in 1916 by an artist who desired to create a line of superb fragrances that would express the tradition of the Spanish culture. "Maja" is the most famous result of his efforts.

Around the world, sophisticated and beautiful women now appreciate the fragrance that is "Maja." The romantic name comes from "May," the month of flowers, and the original Majas were flower girls and dancers immortalized by the painter Goya.

"Maja" soap is hard-milled, which means that it is long-lasting and the fragrance lingers until the last sliver is used. Many women even use a cake of the soap as a sachet.

The perfume is a subtle and provocative blend of rose, jasmine, and mossy chypre—a tribute to every woman who has a bit of Maja in her soul.

Enjoy the "Maja" fragrance also in Perfume, Cologne, Spray Mist, Dusting Powder, Bath Oil, Cream Perfume, and Bath Gel.

Home and Business Run Well Together

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Linda Townend combines "the best of both worlds" in her career as homemaker and interior designer.

In the three years since she formed her own company, Executive Interiors, she has "found challenge and diversification in designing interiors of homes, businesses and professional offices."

Mrs. Townend, a mother of three, operates her business from an office in her home.

"My business doesn't conflict with my home life," she she said. "I am able to oversee the care of Tanya, 10, Tyler, 8 and Todd, 5. They come first."

She said she couldn't do it without the support of her husband Peter. "We have always been a team since we met at the University of Guelph."

Mrs. Townend was commissioned in March to design the interior of the $1.3-million Canada Permanent Trust building in Kitchener.

She was one of three local designers asked to submit a design proposal. She credits a $70,000 glockenspiel being sent from Holland for inspiring her design.

The glockenspiel is composed of 23 tuned bronze bells and an animated four-sequence stage production of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs.

"To complement the glockenspiel we wanted a contemporary design," she said, "with the warmth and charm of tradition," to blend with the simple, contemporary lines of the two-storey building designed by Kitchener architects Rieder and Hymmen.

She created a 50-by-12-foot forest mural along the interior wall of the main office. She commissioned Waterloo, Ont., artist Horst Guilhauman.

"We believe it is the largest mural set in a business environment in the area," she said. "We wanted to involve the viewing public in an artistic experience. Mr. Guilhauman's mural achieved this with a vibrant touch."

To carry out the natural theme, Mrs. Townend is using planters, cedar and brick walls and cushioned cedar benches in the main office area.

"We hope it will create an environment conducive to productive thinking and physical comfort. Most people are under pressure today — producing, meeting deadlines and striving for achievement. The environment in which they work can affect their productivity immensely.

"A major consideration of a designer is to study the functional aspect of a design and ask, 'Are we creating a pleasant working condition so that people are able to perform to the best of their ability?' "

Mrs. Townend said it is important for a designer to have a sensitivity and an awareness of the client's needs and wishes, and the image he wishes to project to others.

FOOD FROM TOBACCO

CATONSVILLE, Md. (WP) — In experiments here and at Beltsville's Agricultural Research Center, U.S. scientists are extracting a high grade protein from tobacco leaves that has the potential to become an important source of food supply.

"It's as good for you as milk," said Dr. Martin Schwartz, Dean of Science at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County (UMBC), gazing at a test tube of tiny white protein crystals that were once tobacco.

Puffing casually on a cigarette, Dr. Schwartz also observed that the protein, called Fraction-1-Protein is hazardous when smoked in tobacco despite its potentially high nutritive value if extracted and eaten.

"When you burn it, it gives off products like cyanide or nitrogen that are not good for you," said Dr. T. C. Tso of the Department of Agriculture's Research Center.

But when the substance is eaten, claimed an announcement from the department of agriculture, "its nutritional value is comparable to milk and surpasses that of soybeans."

Tasteless and odorless, the Fraction-1-Protein from tobacco exists in all green plants, and it is the key catalytic element in the prodess of photosynthesis by which plants convert carbon dioxide into food.

Of the major crops, however, only from tobacco can fraction-1-Protein be easily extracted and crystalized.

Carter Affair Rumored

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief spokesman for the President Ford Committee says he will fire any staff member who tried to spread a rumor that Democrat Jimmy Carter had an extramarital affair.

But first, William Greener said, someone will have to name the person responsible.

Existence of the Carter rumor and the allegation that it came from Ford's campaign staff arose Monday during columnist Jack Anderson's regular appearance on ABC television's Good Morning America show.

Anderson said Ford's campaign sources supplied him with the name of a woman they suggested had had an affair with Carter and that they later offered him the names of four other women.

He said he checked the rumors and found them groundless.

The New York Times and the Los Angeles Times also reported Monday that they had heard the rumors.

The New York Times said its reporters heard them from both Democratic and Republican sources.

Carter Exploits Ford's Gaffe

CHICAGO (WP) — Jimmy Carter told a dinner meeting of Polish-American leaders at the weekend that he would do nothing as President "that suggests we would ever accept permanent Soviet domination" over Eastern Europe.

In a major bid to exploit President Ford's remark in their debate last Wednesday night that Eastern Europe was free of Soviet domination, the Democratic presidential nominee said, "It's time we had a president who understands the facts about Eastern Europe and who will speak up for freedom there and throughout the world."

Carter was politely received by about 1100 people at the awards dinner of the Illinois Division of the Polish-American Congress. But a damper was placed on the evening when the auxiliary bishop of the Chicago archdiocese publicly apologized to his "pro-life friends" picketing the hotel for delivering the invocation at a dinner where Carter spoke.

The bishop said in his prayer: "As our brothers in Poland grieved when an enemy dotted Poland with gas chambers of death, we grieve today when the constitutional law permits our land to be dotted with abortion chambers."

Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, who followed him to the microphone said, "Bishop, I don't hink you have to worry about Carter. He said years ago he was against abortion, and I believe it when he says he's against it today."

Earlier, Carter told the first black rally of his general election campaign Saturday that he will "rock the boat" in Washington if he wins the presidency this November.

Returning to the kind of rhetoric he often employed with black audiences during the primaries, the Democratic nominee won a standing ovation from almost 1,000 people attending a combination worship service and campaign rally at the Olivet Baptist Church.

He said Ford had been a worse president than Richard Nixon, more secretive in his habits and less aware of the world around him.

"I think Gerald Ford is on shaky ground when he talks about experience," Carter told the crowd. "If we'd wanted experience, we'd have kept Richard Nixon."

"At least other presidents who've been to Poland knew whose tanks they were," Carter said.

Oregon Timber Thefts Keep FBI Agents Busy

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Timber theft has become a multi-million dollar crime wave and log lifting from federal land in Oregon alone will exceed $1 million this year, according to Sean McWeeney, acting special agent in charge of the Portland FBI office.

"It's a real racket, fast approaching the level of organized crime," said McWeeney.

"It's pretty well organized already, and a lot of thefts are never investigated because they aren't reported," added Norris Joyce, chief investigator in state-owned forests.

"Many of our members have terrible trouble with timber thieves. Sometimes it's even their own employees," said Mike Sullivan of the Industrial Forestry Association.

The prime target of log nabbers is old growth Western red cedar, which the thieves can sell for $150 to $500 per cord.

The stolen wood is bought by operators of small shake and shingle mills scattered around Oregon. The consumers are home or cabin builders and remodelers.

Timber theft investigations now represent 20 per cent of the work load of the 75 FBI agents assigned to Oregon, McWeeney said. They check out thefts and destruction of property on lands administered by the Forest Service and Bureau of Land Management, about half of all land in the state.

The timber thief has less chance of being apprehended than the bank robber, and the loot is almost as valuable. Some cedar trees are worth well over $1,000, according to Don Purkerson, a Forest Service investigator.

McWeeney and Purkerson last week showed two sites in Mt. Hood National Forest where cedars were cut down and only part of the trees split into bolts and trucked away. The rest was left to rot or to be hauled out later.

Bare Feet Refresh The Mind

CHICAGO (AP) — An American doctor says people should go barefoot for at least part of the day if they want healthier feet and a happier state of mind.

Dr. Paul Brand of the U.S. Public Health Service, Carville, La., also told the American College or Surgeons that sitting cross-legged on the floor helps prevent arthritis of the hip joint.

Brand, a native of Britain who has spent much of his life working and teaching in India and Africa, told a news conference Monday that he takes off his shoes every day when he gets home and gets "tremendous mental refreshment" from walking around barefoot.

Most problems seen in orthopedic foot clinics in the United States — corns, bunions, deformed toes, flat feet, athletes foot, ingrown toenail — result from wearing shoes, he said.

In shoes the foot loses sensitivity and mobility and intrinsic muscle strength.

"The barefoot walker receives a continuous stream of information about the ground and about his own relationship to it, while ths shod foot sleeps inside an unchanging environment," he said.

Strike at Ford Likely to Last

DETROIT (AP) — Chances for a quick end to the Ford Motor Co. strike in the U.S. were clouded Monday as a tentative contract settlement faced rejection by rebellious United Auto Workers' (UAW) skilled tradesmen.

Union leaders have given the 25,000 tradesmen veto rights on the new three-year accord even if a majority of the 145,000 UAW production workers at the No. 2 U.S. auto-maker ratify the agreement.

"There's no question it'll be a close vote," one union official conceded after early returns showed tradesmen turning down the proposed pact by a narrow margin. "We remain hopeful it will be approved, but the outcome is uncertain."

Balloting at UAW-Ford locals in 22 states will not be completed until tonight. Union officials said voting by production workers was running about 2 to 1 in favor of ratification. The final tally will be announced late today or early Wednesday, a union spokesman said.

About 10,000 Canadian Ford workers have been affected because of parts shortages by the U.S. strike which began Sept. 4.

Marijuana Cuts Sexual Growth: Test

CHICAGO (AP) — Experiments with rats have proven that marijuana interferes with sexual development, says a U.S. Army surgeon.

Dr. John Harmon of the Walter Reed Army Medical Centre in Washington presented his findings Monday in a report to the Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons.

He reported that Delta Nine Tetrahydrocannabinol (THC), the ingredient of marijuana that produces the high, caused experimental rats to develop smaller-than-normal testicles.

He conducted his experiment with Dr. Menelaos Aliapoulios, professor of surgery at the University of Massachussets at Worcester, and Diana Locke and Dr. John MacIndoe of Walter Reed.

Sixteen rats were given THC for 40 days, a period corresponding to their adolescence. They were compared with two similar groups of rats that had not received THC.

The Bridge Expert

By FRED KARPIN

If one were to look at all four hands in today's deal, he would find it difficult to see how South's four-heart contract was defeated. On the face of it, South's only losers are two spades and one heart if the location of the heart queen is misguessed. But at the table South did go down a trick.

NORTH
◇ A K

WEST	EAST
♠ A K 10 5	♠ Q J 9
♡ Q 9	♡ 7 5 4
◇ 8 6 4	◇ Q J 10 7 3 2

SOUTH
♠ 8 7 4 2
♡ K J 6 3
♣ K J 6

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	4 ♡	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠.

On West's opening lead of the spade king, East dropped the queen. This is a conventional defensive play announcing possession of the jack, and commanding partner, if he leads the suit again, to underlead the ace. West, at trick two, obediently played the spade five to East's jack.

East then led a third spade, which was ruffed in dummy. When the board's ace of trumps was cashed next, West followed suit with the ominous nine-spot. As declarer correctly viewed it, there was the distinct possibility that the nine was a singleton; and, in this case, East had been dealt the Q-x-x-x.

Dummy's ten of trumps was now led, and when East played the five, declarer decided to guard against East's possession of the outstanding trumps. He finessed, and West's queen won the trick. West then led his remaining spade, the ace. Dummy ruffed, as East discarded his singleton club.

Since dummy had no trumps left, declarer couldn't return to the South hand to pick up East's last trump, except via a club. So, little dreaming that East had no more clubs, he led a club towards his king. East ruffed this lead for the setting trick.

As will be concurred in by all, the defensive play of East and West was excellent. If West, when he on his heart queen, had made, let us say, the neutral lead of a diamond, declarer would have waltzed in with his contract. He would have won the trick in dummy, entered the South hand via a club, and picked up East's last trump. Only the fourth spade lead could have defeated declarer.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By SYDNEY OMARR

Astrological Forecast for Wednesday, October 13

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Check reservations, instructions and directions. Relatives, well meaning, may garble messages. Know it an act accordingly. Short trip could be postponed without losing a thing. It might actually be to your advantage to stick to familiar ground.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Check valuables. Take no unnecessary risks. Someone may want something for nothing and you could be prime target. Refuse to be gulled into any "deal". Leave hard decisions for another time. Enjoy luxury of enjoying possessions, art, beauty, film, company of loved one.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): What seems an opposing force is nebulous. Know it and proceed accordingly. However, in legal affairs, be aware of hidden clauses, slick phrases, words that lead into labyrinth of nothingness. Pisces Aquarius and Scorpio could be in picture.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Be ready — and willing — for change, romance, travel, variety, chance to understand motives and potential. Gemini, Virgo and Sagittarius could figure prominently. Be aware that something is going on backstage, behind scenes that involves you — whether or not you know it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You could have romantic illusions. Enjoy them, don't look down on them — but don't depend on them, either. You'll understand! A family member says, in effect, let's have a truce. No receptive. You're going to get a gift, a token of affection.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Delays are temporary, You get green light, but no in manner expected. Patience and perception now are twin allies. Someone behind scenes actually is doing you a favor. Accent on home base, security, standing in community. Pisces is involved.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You can make right moves, make new, valuable contacts. Older individual offers to lend benefit of experience. Opportunity knocks; you get what you've been seeking. Cancer, Capricorn persons could be involved. Travel and communications are high on agenda.

SCORPIO Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Check resources, possessions. Finish rather than initiate project. Get overall view. Avoid rushing to conclusions. Don't weigh down with another person's burden. Be sympathetic, helpful but not foolish. You'll understand!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): What you need is closer than might be imagined. Take your time, set your own pace. Leo, Aquarius person figure prominently. Accent on technicalities, legal rights and permissions. Take nothing for granted where partnership, marriage, long-term relationships are concerned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Indirect approach could bring most constructive results. Slow pace, relaxed attitude excourages others. If you force issues, you "frighten" prospects, potential allies. Cancer individual figures prominently. Accent on basic issues, work, vitality — and diet.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Highlight mobility — refuse to be painted in corner. Some pressures are relieved. You get compliments, realizet that your feelings are appreciated, reciprocated. Creative juices flow. Romantic interests are very much in picture.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Hidden clauses, leases, "trick questions" could be part of scenario. Review program, details. Commit basic lessons to memory. Go with the tide. Too much resistance now would be an error; know it and act accordingly.

IF OCTOBER 13th IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have ideas of your own and you're not afraid to express them. Aquarius, Scorpio and Leo persons play important roles in your life. You were "on your own" at a relatively early age, actually or psychologically separated from communication with one or both parents. New contacts made made this year will pay dividends. You've had golden opportunity to shaek off past mistakes and to begin anew, towards more independence and love. You'll socialize and travel in November!

"We sent the boys to a camp this year," said Joe.

"They had a great time."

Andy smiled. "They would. It's an idea for ours next year," he commented. "How many kids were there?"

"You like teasers," Joe replied. "Subtract the first digit from the square of the second, and you'll get twice the number."

You figure it out.

Speech a Slick PR Job Says NDP

The NDP has sen a telegram to the Canadian Radio Television and Telecommunications Commission protesting the premier's Thanksgiving Day TV speech and demanding equal time.

Calling the speech a "slick PR job," and an "unpaid political broadcast," Opposition Leader Dave Barrett said his party wants equal time and equal production facilities to reply to the broadcast.

Barrett said the speech was not a live broadcast, but was taped on Friday for rebroadcast Monday.

The 15-minute speech was "Nixonesque" and an attempt to bring American visual techniques to a serious economic situation in B.C., Barrett said.

Bennett's state-of-the-province message was taped Friday afternoon at CHEK-TV in Victoria and copies of the tape were distributed to all TV stations in the province with voice transcripts handed out to radio stations. Only CHEK-TV and its affiliate CHAN-TV in Vancouver and several radio stations ran the speech in full.

"The government is not prepared to face the legislature," Barrett said. "Instead of a fall session we get a smooth, well-edited TV report," which is not open to debate, he said.

NDP finance critic Dave Stupich said the premier's message had nothing to do with the state of the province.

He said the speech did not mention the depression which has hit the tourist industry, the state of the forest industry, unemployment, or the state of small business in the province.

He said the announced highways program was unlikely to get rolling, or if it does start, it will be "much reduced and not really what we need."

Barrett said the speech showed a "complete lack of leadership and failed miserably to understand the plight of the ordinary citizen."

He said a four-day trip to northern B.C. convinced him the province is in serious difficulty.

Bennett Leaves BCGEU in Air

predicted surplus does not "contemplate any salary increases for government employees beyond those already contracted."

He said public service employees will be angry at the news, at the manner in which it was announced and the fact it reneges on the government's bargaining position.

The government is negotiating a wage settlement with the province's 34,000 government employees and had offered an across-the-board $45-a-month increase geginning Oct. 1, 1976.

This offer was rejected by BCGEU members who countered with $65 a month beginning Oct. 1, 1976 plus a government offer on some retroactivity.

Fryer said it is possible Bennett was using his latest announcement as a bargaining ploy but added this could lead to a charge of bargaining in bad faith because the government was backing off on its earlier offer.

He said he hoped the premier wasn't seeking a confrontation with the public service.

A meeting between the BCGEU and the government had been scheduled for today but Fryer said that was cancelled Friday and no provision made for another meeting until after Oct. 14.

In the second quarterly financial report, released with the premier's speech, Finance Minister Evan Wolfe said B.C. should end the 1976-77 fiscal year with a "norminal surplus of $19.6 million."

However, Bennett seemed to ensure a deficit of close to $130 million.

He stressed in his speech that the predicted $19.6 million surplus does not take into account the new highways program nor does it contemplate a salary increase for public service employees.

However, it seems unlikely the government will get away with less than a total increase of $30 million for the employees, even if it stays within the anti-inflation guidelines.

The $130 million deficit is only slightly higher than the $125 million deficit predicted earlier this year when Wolfe released the first quarterly financial report.

The tone of Bennett's televised Thanksgiving speech was cautiously optimistic.

"The worst is over," he said.

The province's economic health is far from restored, Bennett said, but if B.C. avoids errors made in other parts of the world "we can look forward to the best days this province has ever experienced."

He outlined briefly the gloomy financial state which existed when his government took over and said he had to administer "strong medicine".

"I knew that it would be bitter. But I also knew that if we were to cure our sick economy we had absolutely no alternative."

Bennett said the province is beginning to feel the beneficial effects of his policies.

Revenues for the second quarter of 1976 were $21 million, or 1.3 per cent above the forecast.

Bennett said this shows an improving picture, but some revenues were considerably below expectations. Income from the forest industry is $36 million less than forecast.

"The international economy has simply not improved to the extent we had forecast," the premier said.

He said the province-wide shutdown of the construction industry during the summer slowed the economic recovery.

"But these are temporary reverses. Common sense and goodwill can provide most of the answers. They are always more effective than government edicts or restrictive rules established by legislation," he said.

As in the first quarterly report, labor-management relations is named as one of the problems the province must overcome.

LIZ PICKS NO. SIX

Warner

VIENNA — Elizabeth Taylor plans to marry former U.S. Secretary of the Navy John Warner, "sometime before the end of the year," according to a spokesman for the actress.

Miss Taylor's agent John Springer said Monday that the 44-year-old actress who has been married six times previously — twice to actor Richard Burton — and Warner, 49, celebrated their engagement at a weekend family reunion here.

Warner, whose only previous marriage ended in divorce in 1973, has been the actress' constant companion since her second divorce from Burton earlier this year.

SIU Prober Judge Norris Dies at 83

MAPLE RIDG E —Thomas Grantham, Norris, 83, who wrote a controversial report on the shipping industry in Canada, died in hospital here on the weekend.

Norris, who retired from the bench in 1968 after a career as a lawyer, politician, soldier and diplomat, was best known for his report on the shipping industry in Canada in 1963 which resulted in the expulsion of Hal Banks from the presidency of the Seafarers' International Union.

Born in Victoria in 1893, Norris was admitted to the British Columbia bar in 1919 after fighting in the First World War.

A self-styled "largely unrevised and unrepentent Conservative," Norris entered the provincial political arena in 1937, winning the Progressive Conservative nomination in the Okanagan riding from another rising Conservative, W. A. C. Bennett, who later quit the party and became B.C.'s first Social Credit premier.

However, Norris ended his political career shortly after, being defeated in the provincial election by a Liberal.

He also fought in the Second World War as a colonel, then returned to civilian life, where he won further honors.

Mr. Norris was appointed to the bench in 1959 and in 1961 was named to the Exchequer Court of Canada, a body which tries cases under Admiralty law.

His report and recommendations to place the Seafarers' International Union under trusteeship are seen today by many government leaders as a milestone in Canadian labor law.

The report, written after Norris toured the country as a one-man Royal Commission, characterized SIU leader Banks as "a bully, cruel, dishonest, power-hungry, contemptuous of the law."

He accused the union leader of fomenting labor unrest, blacklisting hundreds of seamen and accused him of taking more than $70,000 from the union.

Plumber-Pilot Scattered That Largesse Over Rome

ROME — Veto Penetta, a plumber with a pilot's license, says it was he who dropped a shower of money over the eternal city's Piazza Ve exia at rush tour on Saturday.

Police set Pennetta free as there is no Italian law against dropping paper money from a plane.

LISBON — Ed Yost, dunked in the ocean less than 600 miles short of his goal on the European mainland, said today he would not try again to become the first man to cross the Atlantic by balloon. "I was just happy to stay in the air," Yost said.

HARLINGEN, Tex. — Watched by 40,000 people who paid up to $5 each, the American pilot who dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima renacted his Second World War mission-complete with imitation mushroom cloud. Paul Tibbets, a retired U.S. Air Force general, flew a B-29 Superfortress over this lower Rio Grande city once Saturday and twice Sunday to help raise money for a group that preserves Second World War aircraft.

KINGSTON, Ont. — A funeral service will be held Thursday for novelist Dennis Sears, 51, of Kingston, who died on the weekend. Sears' novel The Lark in the Clear Air, was a book-of-the month club selection in March of 1974.

NEW YORK — Yesterday Robert Netto was just a 19-year-old high school dropout, pumping gas for $60 a week. Today he's a millionaire at least once — and more than three times over if he lives to be 79. He is the first thousand-dollar-a-week for life winner in New York State's revamped lottery. "The bread is over hear, kid," shouted Telly Savalas, star of television's Kojak series, as Netto was swamped by reporters and photographers, Savalas had drawn the winning envelope with Netto's name in it.

LONDON — Lady Rose Delbray, the 25-year-old younger daughter of the 9th Earl of Hardwicke, has been given a two-year suspended prison sentence for her part in a plot to smuggle $1 million worth of drugs from Morocco to the United States.

She also was fined the equivalent of $165 for possessing 2.4 grams of marijuana when she was arrested.

The case involving Lady Rose and her lover, Herman Fine, proved the old adage that "love is blind," Judge James Miskin told the jury, which included seven women.

Announcing the sentence, Judge Miskin told her: "I have no doubt that your infatuation for this remarkably unpleasant man and his influence over you had much to do with the way you behaved."

IT WAS no feather in John Diefenbaker's cap when he served as marshal of the Kitchener, Ont., Oktoberfest on the weekend. He had his Austrian hat on backwards!

LET ME DIE IN PEACE...

NEW YORK — Connee Boswell called her doctors to her side and asked them to "let me die in peace and with dignity."

"If God wants me, I'm ready to go," said Miss Boswell, a leading singer in the big band era.

She died quietly early Monday at Mount Sinai Hospital.

Miss Boswell, 68, who was crippled by polio since childhood, was remembered for renditions of Stormy Weather, Whispers in the Dark, Boulevard of Broken Dreams and When the Saints Go Marching In.

Miss Boswell recorded for Decca with such stars as Bing Crosby, and appeared on radio and television in her own show as well as with Ed Sullivan, Perry Como, Steve Allan, Bob Crosby, Arthur Godfrey and Frank Sinatra.

Public Notice

Ottawa, October 4, 1976.

REQUEST FOR APPLICATIONS FOR CABLE TELEVISION SERVICE TO CERTAIN AREAS OF MANITOBA

The Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission announces that it is prepared to receive applications for cable television broadcasting licences to serve communities within the Grade "B" contours of CBWT, CBWFT, CKY-TV, CKND-TV Winnipeg, CKX-TV, CKYB-TV Brandon and CBWST, CKYD-TV Dauphin, Manitoba.

Parties wishing to serve communities in these areas are requested to file applications on or before December 30, 1976.

In a Public Announcement dated July 5, 1974 (Decision CRTC 74-201), the Commission in approving the establishment of a distant head-end near Tolstoi, Manitoba required, as conditions of the licence that:

1. The licensees must enter into a mutual agreement to operate and share in the ownership and control of the distant head-end which must also provide an opportunity on an equitable basis for future and existing licensees wishing to make use of the distant head-end.
2. The licensees will be required, should it be deemed necessary in the future, to make such technical improvement to the head-end as may be required in order to provide signals of adequate technical quality to locations beyond Winnipeg. The costs of such improvements are to be reflected in any agreement for future sharing of the head-end.

The Commission is of the opinion that, unless it can be reasonably demonstrated to the contrary, this distant head-end located near Tolstoi, Manitoba provides a logical access for the development of cable television in Manitoba. The Commission expects that any application proposing service by way of Tolstoi head-end will provide details of tentative agreements with the owners of the head-end for its use.

In addition, all applications planning the use of microwave must submit the following:

a) Where microwave is to be provided by a common carrier, a copy of an agreement in principle between the common carrier and the applicant should be submitted. Details of any proposals by common carriers for the use of microwave, the cost of the service and charges levied by the common carrier should also be included. In the event that the application pertains to an existing or proposed microwave network all details relating to cost sharing arrangements with other applicants or licensees which participate, or propose to participate, in the network must be provided.

b) Where microwave is to be provided by an applicant, or the applicant proposes the use of privately owned non-common carrier microwave facilities, the application must include detailed information on all microwave costs. In the event that such a proposal involves more than one cable television undertaking or proposed undertaking all details relating to cost sharing arrangements with other applicants or licensees which participate, or propose to participate, in the arrangement must be provided.

c) The applications must include full details as to the site of the distant head-end and the proposed microwave routing. Detailed costs relating to the establishment and/or use of the distant head-end facility, as well as any agreements pertaining to the establishment and/or use of the facility must be provided.

d) All applications must indicate the monthly subscriber fee including the cost of microwave service.

The Commission will not consider any cable television applications which are predicated on the video-taping of television signals unless all of the necessary authorizations have been received in writing and filed with the Commission.

Persons wishing to apply are reminded of the eligibility requirements laid down by the Governor General in Council in Directions to the Commission, Orders in Council, P.C. 1969-2229 as amended and P.C. 1972-1569. The Commission expects to consider any application meeting these eligibility requirements.

Potential applicants are also reminded that in the Commission's past decisions and policy announcements the Commission has required that licensees have effective ownership and control of at least local head-ends, amplifiers and drops in their cable television undertakings.

The Commission firmly believes that cable television must complement existing broadcasting services in Manitoba and should not jeopardize their present or future capability. Hence, cable television applications must outline specific measures for introducing cable television into areas in a manner that will assist and strengthen these services and help to achieve the broadcasting objectives set out in the Broadcasting Act.

As well, upon hearing applications for the areas in question, the Commission will request:

a) the licensees of the local television broadcasting stations whose A or B contours fall within the territories applied for pussuant to this announcement to file such documentary evidence and to make such representations as they consider necessary concerning the probable effect of the licensing of cable television undertakings within these service contours on the continued viability of such stations, and

b) the licensees of local television stations and each cable applicant to explain the actions taken or proposed to be taken individually and cooperatively to ensure the continuing availability and quality of "off air" television service.

The Commission will announce at a later date the time and place of the Public Hearing where these applications will be considered and where they may be examined by the public. The particulars of each application will also be published in the newspapers of the area proposed to be served.

The public will then have the opportunity to submit comments on any application by filing a written intervention with the undersigned and by giving a copy to the applicant at least fifteen (15) days before the hearing.

Secretary General.

DECISION

Ottawa, October 4, 1976

The Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission announces the following decision.

Decision CRTC 76-737

VICTORIA, SAANICH, ESQUIMALT AND OAK BAY, B.C. — 751005000

Licence Renewal of Victoria Cablevision Ltd.

In a Decision of March 19, 1976 (CRTC 76-141) the Commission renewed the licence of Victoria Cablevision Ltd. on a month to month basis pending the hearing of an appeal by the Federal Court of Appeal of an Order of the Trial Division of the Federal Court issued on February 2, 1976. The Order under appeal required the CRTC to hear the application of Capital Cable Cooperative for a cable television licence to serve the Greater Victoria area before renewing the licence of Victoria Cablevision Ltd., the existing licensee for the area.

On April 12, 1976, the Federal Court of Appeal heard the matter and set aside the Order of the Trial Division. In view of Capital Cable Cooperative seeking leave to appeal this decision to the Supreme Court of Canada, the Commission renewed the licence of Victoria Cablevision Ltd. for a six-month period, to October 31, 1976.

The Supreme Court of Canada denied Capital Cable Cooperative's application. Therefore, in order to allow time for the Commission to hear this application in British Columbia, the licence is hereby renewed for a further period of six months, expiring March 31, 1977, on the same terms and conditions as contained in the current licence.

ROLLING STONE RANDOM NOTES

By RICH WISEMAN

That Greg Allman-Cher album collaboration we've been hearing about may actually happen. Explained Allman: "We went in to Mo Ostin Warner Bros. head) and we hit him with the idea. He said, 'Absolutely not' . . . we were in two different bags of music . . . Shortly thereafer we got him to concede to let us do half an album and bring it back to him — if he liked it then we'd finish it."

So Gregg and Cher went in the studio and recorded such songs as Smokey Robinson's 'You've Really Got a Hold on Me,' and Bill Withers' 'Lean on Me.' Allman played organ on all the cuts, sang on three, and also added a sax solo on 'You've Really Got a Hold on Me.'

The Allmans took the tapes to Ostin. Late word had it that he liked what he heard and has given them his OK to complete the project.

TV nut Alice Cooper had one eye on "Gong" when he returned our call the other day ("Oh God — four women dressed up like Vikings! It's just hysterical — they have funnels on instead of bras!"). We were interested in another TV show, though — the "Rock Music Awards," which Alice cohosted recently.

"I really hate rock and roll on TV," Alice said. "At least the show was a start. It was better than last year's because they finally represented some rock people — Peter Frampton, Rod Stewart — instead of Henry Mancini.

"But I think that what they've got to do is make it more like the 'Rock Party Awards' — it's gotta be more for the kids. Kids don't walk around in tuxedos. Also, instead of plaques, winners ought to get something sillier. If I would win they should give me a python. That makes it more like the way we are anyway."

The Band's Richard Manuel made the mistake of riding around in a speedboat on Lake Austin, Texas, recently, and it's cost the Band the last half of their fall tour. Manuel, who fractured a bone in his neck in a car accident last year, reinjured himself as the speedboat bounced around on the water. Dates are being rescheduled for later in the year whil Manuel recuperates.

For 15 years, Bobby Gosh tried to make it as a singer-songwriter in New York. But in 1973, tired with "batting my head against the wall," he semi-retired to some property he owns in Vermont, where he opened a restaurant and an antique shop.

Gosh left several albums behind Shel Silverstein (writer of 'A Boy Named Sue' and 'Cover of the Rolling Stone') happened across a copy of one of them at a San Francisco flea market a while back and bought it for 39 cents. He liked one of the cuts and played it for Ron Haffkine, producer for Dr. Hook. Haffkine recorded the song with Hook, and then tracked down Gosh to tell him the news. It's been good news ever since: 'A Little Bit More' hit number two in England, selling an amazing 800,000 copies, and it's just cracked the U.S. Top Ten, selling 750,000 on these shores at this writing.

"It's hard as hell for me to reconcile what's happened," Gosh told us. But with a new five-year recording contract with Capital Reocrds he's not going to ask too many qyestions.

Stuck Up: Not too long ago, Pure Prairie League spent an afternoon in the Arizona desert, 30 miles outside of Tucson, shooting photos for their new album, "Dance." It was a long afteroon and at one point bass player Mike Reilly had to relieve himself. "There was nothin' around but some big cactuses," he said. "So I dropped my drawers, squatted, and backed up into a cholla cactus." The cholla cactus is the one with little barbed spines — about 85 of them were stuck in Reilly's rear when he rocketed back to his feet. "It wasn't funny," he said. "It took an hour for my road manager to get 'em out. I had a rash for a week and a half."

900 Voters Qualify

Revisions to voters' lists in the seven electoral areas of the Capital district have added nearly 900 eligible voters in the past year, most of them on the Gulf Islands.

Totals compiled by Jack Fry, information officer for the district, show there were 20,160 voters in the electoral areas last Oct. 1 and estimated 21,056 a year later.

Of the additions, 348 are on the outer Gulf Islands and 302 on Salt Spring Island.

The electoral areas (with eligible voters in brackets): Colwood (4,306), Langford (6,201), Metchosin (1,238), Sooke (2,692), View Royal (2,268), Salt Spring Island (2,686) and Outer Gulf Islands (1,665).

Humor, Sex In Dean's Book

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Dean's Watergate book offers no new bombshells, but his 415-page memoir is sprinkled with humor and detail to fascinate confirmed Watergate addicts and others.

The former White House Counsel's book, "Blind Ambition," being published by Simon and Schuster, plows the already well-cultivated ground of the break-in at Democratic headquarters in the Watergate complex here and the ensuing White House conspiracy to keep the lid on the scandal.

But Dean's plow has unearthed a bit of sex, a dash of drama and even a hint of mystery to freshen the familiar soil.

Dean, whose revelation of White House involvement in the coverup was a major break-through in the investigation of the scandal, recently revealed that a member of President Ford's cabinet made an obscene slur against blacks. Other sources later identified the cabinet member as Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, who then resigned in the resulting controversy.

In his book, Dean lets go with these anecdotes:

—Shortly after Dean joined the Nixon White House, he started collecting intelligence of interest to his bosses and came across a report that a potentially embarrassing address book kept by Xaviera Hollander, the "Happy Hooker," might surface in New York.

"I began asking the more adventurous men at the White House if they might have anything to fear from Xaviera Hollander's address book," Dean wrote. "When I whispered my story to Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler, his face went white as a sheet.

" 'I'll deny it,' he said quickly. 'I'll deny it.' "

—When Dean was in New York, he was offered the apartment of a former aide, John J. Caulfield, and Caulfield's investigator. Tony Ulasewicz.

"It was then being used for a special Ehrlichman-approved assignment which required a luxurious ambience, and Jack had described it as 'quite a pad.' John Ehrlichman was Nixon's chief domestic affairs aide.

". . . I wauked to the apartment with my blind date . . . The woman, who had high expectations of the counsel, to the president, had one quick drink and left. The apartment looked like a Chicago whorehouse — red velvet wallpaper, black lace curtains, white Salvation Army furniture, and a fake-fur rug."

—Dean was sent to talk to then-Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen about trying to turn off some Justice Department investigations of suspected labor racketeers.

Petersen is said to have told Dean: "The only time a case could ever be stopped is before an investigation has commenced.

"Hell, I've got a recommendation right here on my desk that I authorize an investigation of Lyndon Johnson on some little banking violation down in Texas. Now, I'm not going to authorize an investigation of a former president. This is a case that will never start, and need not start."

GARDENING

Fuchsias Can Survive Winter

The question of the week is how to keep fuchsias over winter. The fuchsias referred to are the large flowered tender varieties used for hanging baskets and planters, not the hardy small flowered types normally grown all year in the open garden.

In a cold greenhouse the plants do nicely as long as there is sufficient air on sunny days, just enough water to keep the roots alive, and a cover over the plant and container when temperatures are below freezing.

It is not so easy for the gardener without a greenhouse. These plants are not suited to normal winter house temperatures of 20 to 24 deg. C. and low humidity. Under such conditions they make a lot of weak growth which becomes infested with white-fly.

Requirements are quite definite; good light to prevent soft growth, temperature from just above freezing to 5 degs. C., and a minimum of water. Any place providing these conditions and readily accessible for constant checking is suitable for winter storage.

For the average gardener it is necessary to take a chance and leave the plants outdoors. The balcony gardener is ahead because the planter or basket can be placed in sheltered corner, frequently checked, and covered over at night during cold spells.

The ground level gardener has more of a problem because of ground frosts, but many have been successful in keeping fuchsias by setting the wire basket and plant into the soil amongst shrubs that will give some measure of protection.

Fuchsias will continue flowering through the fall, but it is often necessary to do a little pruning in order to handle the plants without damaging too much top growth. This pruning is not severe, only enough to remove the longer growths which would make handling difficult.

Wire baskets can be buried in the soil, but plants in wooden hanging containers or planters are carefully removed with plenty of soil on the roots, and replanted in a sheltered spot.

The next step is to gather some fallen leaves, straw, or long grass now while dry, and store in a dry place.

If the weather remains mild the plants will gradually lose their leaves and may be quite safe until Christmas. But when warnings are issued for an outflow of Arctic air, the dry material is heaped around the lower six to eight inches of the plant and held in place with twigs, small mesh wire netting, or a few small conifer boughs thrust into the soil to form a teepee over the plant.

In late March to early April, depending on weather conditions, the protective covering is gradually removed. This has to be done carefully with one eye on the weather.

When fully uncovered, the basket is lifted from the soil, the plant pruned down to where growth buds can be seen and removed from the basket. The basket is remossed, filled with fresh soil and the plant reset. Plants from planters or wooden containers are handled in the same way.

The large flowered fuchsias are woody shrubs of considerable size in their native habitat. After three years of growing in a container the stems become very hard and the size of flowers decreases.

To avoid this condition it is necessary to start new plants from cuttings.

It is wise to take a few cuttings of the new growths in the spring of the second year, still keeping the old plant. After the third year, discard the old plant and replace with younger ones from cuttings. Experienced growers take a few cuttings every year to have spares on hand for replacing losses.

For many gardeners it is much better to leave the present plants outdoors until killed by frost, and buy a new plant or two in spring as replacements.

HUNTING SHARKS USE ELECTRIC ANTENNAE

WOODS HOLE, Mass (UPI) — A research scientist says sharks have highly sensitive electrical antennae in their noses allowing them to find fish to eat, even if they are hidden from view.

Dr. Adrianis Kalmijn of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution said Friday sharks use the sensors to detect the weak electrical field produced by virtually all oprganisms in the sea.

"Sharks are able to detect their prey by purely electrical means," he told the insitution's annual science day program.

In studies conducted off the California and Massachusetts coasts, Kalmijn said sharks used the sensors to detect even fish buried beneath the sand on the ocean bottom. Sharks used in the experiments located the fish every time, he said.

Kalmijn said the antennae apparently function only when the shark is searching for prey and is apparently triggered by sounds or odors.

Asked if the discovery might have application in defending swimmers against shark attacks, he said, "I don't see much benefit. If sharks are in a feeding frenzy, nothing can stop them short of cutting off their heads."

Heart-a-Thon Raises Funds For Hospital

Close to 100 people took part in the second annual Thanksgiving Heart-a-thon Monday in Victoria, raising about $8,000 for purchase of cardiac equipment for local hospitals.

Tom Gibson, spokesman for the First Open Heart Society of B.C., said today the money will be used this year to buy an electrocardiogram scanner, a sophisticated machine which interprets heart graphs and can be used over telephone lines if necessary. It will be at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Monday's walkathon was attended mostly by people who have undergone open heart surgery and covered a five-mile route in the vicinity of the University of Victoria.

Drinking. If we don't talk about the problem we'll never start to solve it.

If you're like most people, you think the drinking problem in this country has nothing to do with you.
We asked people what they thought about the problem. Here are a few replies. The drinking problem is "that guy across the street who drives home from work loaded out of his mind". It's "those reckless teenagers drinking every night". "Isn't that about alcoholics?" Well, the drinking problem is about all those people and more.

It has everything to do with you, even though you're not a problem drinker, or even a drinker.
That "guy across the street" could be driving home when you are. Approximately 40% of all traffic deaths in this country are associated with alcohol. That "reckless teenager" could be your child. That "alcoholic" could be your mother, or father, or brother, or sister, or whatever ...the point is that there are too many PEOPLE who drink dangerously.

"There's not much I can do," you say.
Talking about the problem is not an answer, but it's a start. Talk to the guy across the street, to your teenagers about drinking habits. Tell your friends when you think they've had enough to drink. If you speak in support of responsible use, you will encourage others to do the same as you do — if you are responsible.

'Dialogue On Drinking' is a program to help you do something.
Talk about drinking problems. If you're not sure what to say, cut this out and think about it. If you have any specific comments, we'd like to hear from you. We believe that if people talk about the problems we're that much closer to solving them.

Munro Rejects CLC Planning Council

VANCOUVER (CP) — Federal Labor Minister John Munro has rejected a Canadian Labor Congress proposal for a social and economic planning council of business, labor and government with sweeping powers over labor and investment policies.

Munro said Monday that any such organization would have to be multi-partite and include representation from unorganized, non-union labor and interested groups other than labor, nanagement and government.

He rejected the congress proposal that the tri-partite body be given specific and legal terms of reference and said labor and others could be given only a consultive role in drawing up and executing national policies.

There might be narrow and strictly technical areas of labor-management in which labor and management can play a formal role in drawing up and executing national policies, he said, but there could be no actual delegation of powers by parliament.

Munro reiterated that after the Oct. 14 planned day of protest against the federal government's wage and price controls, he hopes some new structures can be set up through which labor can contribute to Ottawa's economic and social plans.

The CLC labor manifesto, submitted to cabinet July 12 and made public Friday, proposes that a labor market board be set up under the economic planning council to "oversee and administer the labor force on a national basis."

The board would have the power to "channel investment funds, public and private, or to hold back on proposed projects so that cyclical and regional unemployment can be evened out."

'Powerful Labor' — A Bogey

OTTAWA (UPI) — The stronger the trade union movement gets, the fewer strikes Canada will have, New Democratic Party Leader Edward Broadbent said Saturday.

Broadbent's statement came five days before the country was to witness its first national strike, the day of protest against the federal government's price and income control policy.

He said he supported labor's "right of civil disobedience" and would participate in the protest by addressing a Toronto rally expected to be the largest in the country.

Broadbent said the national walkout was not a demonstration of the excessive strength of the union movement, but of its weakness and inability to act in any other fashion.

Asked to comment on allegations labor is too powerful, Broadbent replied "It's an old bogey, particularly of politicians of the older parties when it comes election time. They know, for example, that only about 35 per cent of Canadians are in trade unions . . . so it is always a safe bogey to go after.

Police Hold Three After Teller Dies

MONTREAL (CP) — A third man has been detained by police in connection with the death of bank teller Gisele Goulet last Thursday in an unsuccessful extortion attept.

The man gave himself up to police Monday. Two other men, one described by police as an acquaintance of the victim, were arrested earlier.

They will appear before a coroner this week.

Miss Goulet, 22, was discovered bound, gaged and strangled in her parents' home.

The manager of the City and District Savings Bank branch where she worked had complied with a telephone request to provide a $50,000 ransom, but the money was never picked up.

A wire noose around the girl's neck had been connected to her legs, leading police to speculate that she had strangled herself while trying to get free.

Opposition 'Obstacle' To Independent Quebec

MONTREAL (CP) — International law gives Quebec the right to choose independence, but opposition from the rest of Canada might be an obstacle, says a researcher who has prepared a study on the legal aspects of Quebec's separation.

However Jacques Brossard says that if the rest of the provinces agreed, Quebec's independence could be settled quickly.

Amendments to the British North America Act — the written portion of Canada's constitution and a series of treaties settling land claims, distribution of public debt and similar matters would regulate the matter in an orderly fashion.

Brossard, who is engaged in legal research at the University of Montreal, spent five years studying the methods used by other states to achieve independence. His project was financed in part by the Canada Council.

He said he undertook the study to clarify the legal implications of Quebec's separation from Canada so that any legal problems involved would be set out in the event that a government favoring independence came to power in Quebec.

Indpendence without the agreement of the federal government would be illegal, Brossard said, but Quebec could legitimize its claim through acceptance by other states.

Although he said he believes federalism is the ideal form of political and social organization, Brossard says he favors independence.

U.S. Climbers Back

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — All members of the U.S. bicentennial Everest expedition have arrived safely at their base camp after calling off plans to put a second climbing team on top of the world's highest mountain, a United States embassy official said today.

NO ARSENIC THREAT IN YELLOWKNIFE

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP) — The chairman of the territorial capital's arsenic probe committee said Monday the committee has found that residents are not being harmed by the chemical pollutant.

But the chairman, Dan Billing, added there is a "very grave potential danger" requiring constant surveillance.

He added that two government experts have been embroiled in a sharp clash of personalities and opinions in their research work for the arsenic committee.

Billing said the two departments for whom the experts work, Environment Canada and national health and welfare, have put forward divergent, extremist views in a "stupid inter-departmental fight" which has hampered progress.

"Somewhere between (the divergent views) lies the truth," Billing said.

Natives Ready For Claim Talks

FORT SIMPSON, N.W.T. (CP) — Warren Allmand, minister of Indian affairs, has been asked to come to the Northwest Territories this week to receive the proposed agreement in principle on the land claims of the native people, who call themselves the Dene Nation.

The 200 delegates from 25 communities in the Mackenzie Valley agreed at the weekend that their position on land claims, should be presented in detail to the minister at Fort Rae, about 70 miles northwest of Yellowknife. The Fort Rae site was chosen because it was one of the key centres at the time Treaty 11 was signed between the native people and the federal government in 1921.

The agreement in principle will provide a framework for negotiation on land claims between the aboriginal people of the Mackenzie and the federal government.

There was no immediate response by the minister on the request, telexed to him Sunday, but the Dene are anxious to meet a deadline of Nov. 1 imposed on them by the former minister of Indian affairs, Judd Buchanan.

Claire Culhane Resigns From CAC

VANCOUVER (CP) — An outspoken prisoner's rights advocate resigned Monday from the Citizens' Advisory Committee (CAC), an organization that participated in negotiations at B.C. Penitentiary during a three-day riot and hostage taking ending Oct. 1.

The resignation of Mrs. Claire Culhane was announced in a statement by the advisory group. The statement said she resigned "because she believes that her resignation is in the best interests of all parties at this time." Mrs. Culhane said later she fully supported the statement.

Mrs. Culhane was ejected from the B.C. Pen last week following an incident in which penitentiary officials initially said was "observed receiving letters in contravention of the regulations."

One Escaper Turns Self In

BURNABY (CP) — One of six men who escaped from the Lower Mainland Regional Correctional Centre (Oakalla) in Burnaby turned himself into Coquitlam RCMP Monday. William John Hay, 20, was one of six prisoners who escaped by sawing through bars, climbing over a fence and driving off in a car.

UNITED WAY TOTAL PASSES 30% MARK

After one month, the donations are starting to roll into the annual campaign of the United Way of Greater Victoria.

Executive director Stuart Drummond says contributions now stand at $243,730 — 30 per cent of the $800,000 goal.

The campaign helps support 24 local charities, from the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to Big Brothers.

But with 70 per cent of the target to be collected, the fund drive has only two weeks left.

Pen Prisoners Being Moved To Mission

VANCOUVER (CP) — Solicitor-General Francis Fox said Monday his department hopes to begin transferring prosoners from the riot-torn British Columbia Penitentiary to a new medium-security prison in Mission, about 40 miles east of Vancouver.

Fox said in an interview following a meeting with B.C. penitentiary officials, guards and a citizens advisory committee, that "there will be a very gradual transfer to the Mission facility."

The solicotor-general said part of the damage caused to the 98-year-old prison by rioting prisoners two weeks ago is already being repaired. A decision on whether the east wing, the most severely damaged cell block, would be repaired, will not be made for another week to 10 days, he said. Cost of rebuilding the unit is estimated at $500,000.

Jim Murphy, regional penitentiary director, estimated the first prisoner would be in the new Mission facility in "two or three weeks."

I don't want to do it," he said, "But it looks like we have to if our staff find there is nothing else to be done."

Fox said he will devote a great deal of attention to concerns of the guards at the B.C. Pen, especially the question of overtime and staff training.

"It is important that the custody staff remain as secure as possible," he said.

The citizen's group at the prison during the insurrection two weeks ago "was very useful too in negotiating the successful release of the hostages" but the role of such citizen groups will be looked at closely, he added.

He said any prisoners involved in future insurrections at the penitentiary would face disciplinary action.

"If anybody believes that they can go on a rampage throughout the federal institutions they are mastaken," said G Fox, "If anybody believes they can give vent to frustrations and destroy public property or take hostages and not face the rigors of the law, they are mistaken.

Meanwhile, a hostage-taking incident in the Matsqui correctional insitiution in the Fraser Valley resulted Monday in two prisoners being transferred to the maximum-security regional psychistric centre.

The incident began at 2 a.m. when the two prisoners, armed with a home-made knife, took a prison employee hostage and demanded that they be transferred because they felt they needed psychiatric treatment.

Another demand was that their names were not to be released.

Shrum Urges Go On Skagit, Peace

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Hydro should go ahead with all its hydro-electric projects, its former chairman, Dr. Gordon Shrum, 80, told the B.C.-Yukon Community Newspapers Association.

It should go ahead with the Peace River power project even if it means flooding about 2,000 acres of agricutural land in the Peace Valley.

It should support Seattle's High Ross dam power project even if it means flooding about 5,000 acres of B.C. in the Skagit Valley.

It should increase the export of water and hydro electricity to the United States.

"As far as I'm concerned, we should develop hydro energy to its fullest because it's a waste material. Burning off coal destroys coal reserves. But water runs whether or not we need it."

Dr. Shrum said that at two cents per kilowatt hour, the Peace River power plant now produces $300 million of energy per year. If, however, the proposed power projects in the Peace Valley go ahead, energy production in the peace would be increased to $500 million of energy per year.

"Even if this does involve flooing of farmland, a few thousand acres of farmland will never produce that kind of energy.

EARLY SNOWFALL HITS OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP) — Snow, setting a record for Oct. 9, caused power outages in various parts of the national capital during the Thanksgiving weekend.

The weather office here said an average of 5.1 cm. (two inches) of snow was recorded between 7:30 p.m. EDT Saturday and 4 a.m. Sunday, but some areas across the Ottawa River in Quebec received up to about 12 cm.

The only previous snowfall on an Oct. 9 since records were started in 1939 was a trace in 1972.

Thousands of residents on both sides of the river reported power outages since Saturday evening. The hardest-hit areas were in rural areas west of here, and west and north of Hull in Quebec.

An Ontario Hydro spokesman said 4,000 customers in the Arnprior district west of Ottawa reported power outages as of noon Sunday but power was restored before midnight Sunday night. An Ottawa Hydro spokesman said no major problems were reported within the city.

About 3,500 customers living in the Quebec portion of the National Capital region, however, would not have their power restored until Tuesday at the earliest — unless the union decided to back down on its work-to-rule fight with Hydro-Quebec.

The union has been refusing to work overtime since March 22 over contract disputes with Hydro-Quebec.

BILINGUALISM THRONE SPEECH PRIORITY

Inflation Still Grit Target

By IAIN HUNTER
Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA — Reduced inflation and unemployment rates remain the government's highest goal, but it also "will place a very high priority upon the promotion of better understanding among French-speaking and English-speakign Canadians and upon the achievement of formal constitutional independence," says the throne speech opening the new session of Parliament.

In the speech the government admitted that some aspects of the official languages policy haven't worked.

Instead of concentrating on making civil servants bilingual, Ottawa will ask for provincial co-operation in increasing second language education in the schools.

Faced with a national day of protest by labor Thursday against wage controls, the government declared that it will seek parliamentary approval for a direct job-creation program in areas of chronic unemployment, use unemployment insurance funds for on the job training, and aid labor and management in the collective bargaining process.

The speech also calls for co-operation from the provincial governments and all sectors of the economy in developing a system of restraint by all Canadians to take the place of price and wage controls which are to be removed by the end of 1978.

Other highlights of the speech included:

—A continuation of restrictions on government spending and further fiscal restraint to combat inflation;

—A continued reduction in the rate of growth of the public servce to below 1 per cent in the coming fiscal year;

—A review of all federal programs to find whether

$120 Million Deficit More Jobs—Bennett

More jobs and a higher than expected budgetary deficit for British Columbia were forecast in Premier Bill Bennett's Thanksgiving state of the province message Monday.

Bennett pledged $120 million for a highways program to create jobs for B.C.'s unemployed this winter.

The second quarterly financial report, a look at the state of B.C.'s finances from April to September, 1976, gave no details of the highways program.

Finance Minsister Evan Wolfe says in the quarterly report that the province should end the year with a "nominal surplus of $19.6 million," but the premier's speech seems to ensure a deficit of close to $130 million.

The Bennett speech stressed that the predicted $19.6 million surplus does not take into account the new highways program, nor does it "contemplate any salary increases for government employees beyond those already contracted."

But the contracts for the majority of the province's almost 40,000 employees are up now and it seems unlikely the governmnt will get away with less than a total increase of $30 million, even if it stays within the anti-inflation guidelines.

The $130 million deficit is only slightly higher than the $125 million deficit predicted earlier this year when Wolfe released the first quarterly financial report.

The tone of Bennett's televised Thanksgiving speech was cautiously optimistic.

"The worst is over," he said.

The province's economic health is far from restored, Bennett said, but if B.C. avoids errors made in other parts of the world "we can look forward to the best days this province has ever experienced."

He outlined briefly the gloomy financial state which existed when his government took over and said he had to administer "strong medicine".

"I knew that it would be bitter. But I also knew that if we were to cure our sick economy we had absolutely no alternative."

Bennett said the province is beginning to feel the beneficial effects of his policies.

Revenues for the second quarter of 1976 were $21 million, or 1.3 per cent above the forecast.

Bennett said this shows an improving picture, but some revenues were considerably below expectations. Income from the forest industry is $36 million less than forecast.

"The international economy has simply not improved to the extent we had forecast," the premier said.

He said the province-wide shutdown of the construction industry during the summer slowed the economic recovery.

"But these are temporary reverses. Common sense and goodwill can provide most of the answers. They are always more effective than government edicts or restrictive rules established by legislation," he said.

As in the first quarterly report, labor-management relations is named as one of the problems the province must overcome.

"We still face . . . an industrial relations climate which

Jobless Rate Up In B.C.

Times News Services

The unemployment rate increased in September to 1.2 per cent above the national average in British Columbia — one of only four provinces in Canada where the unemployment rate rose.

Nationally, the seasonally adjusted rate rose to 7.3 from 7.2 per cent, while B.C.'s rate rose to 8.5 from 8.3 per cent. The only other provinces to show an increase were Prince Edward Island, Quebec and Manitoba.

The actual number of unemployed dropped, however, as did the total number in the labor force. Across Canada, the number out of work fell to 670,000 compared to 709,000 in August, and in B.C. the jobless dropped to 88,000 from 92,000. The total labor force in B.C. also dropped, to 1,145,000 from 1,183,000.

Part of the decline in unemployment, also indicated by a decrease in the national labor force to 10,357,000 from 10,773,000 in August, is accounted for by the departure from the work force of students working during the summer months.

A year ago, the total of unemployed was 631,000. This went to 643,000 in October, 1975, before soaring to 800,000 last January and February.

Until September, the actual number of unemployed had not dropped below 700,000 in ten months.

Unemployment for both men and women declined, although the actual decrease for males was far more dramatic than for females.

About 184,000 of the unemployed had been without work for 14 or more weeks.

The most substantial drop in the unemployment rate came in Saskatchewan — to 2.2 from 4.7 per cent.

Percentages for other provinces, with August's figure in brackets, were: Newfoundland 14.4 (14.9), P.E.I. 9.5 (8.9), Nova Scotia 10.4 (11), New Brunswick 11.4 (11.9), Quebec 9.7 (9.1), Ontario 5.7 (5.8), Manitoba 4.6 (4), Alberta 3.7 (4).

CUPE Threats Charged

By PAUL MOSS
Times Staff

Tire slashing, expulsion from union membership and other forms of "intimidation" have been threatened by the city of Victoria's outside workers against any of their colleagues who show up for work on Thursday's day of protest, a city alderman charged today.

Ald. Ron McKenzie said in an interview he was "deeply concerned" to learn from some employees of the public works department — members of Local 50 of the Canadian Union of Public Employees — that they are apprehensive about the retaliation they may encounter if they do abide by their contract and report for work as usual that day.

He said eight outside workers have been in touch with him — two stopped him on the street, one called to see him at his house and the others telephoned him.

"They are all concerned about the threats they have received, I guess from union people," said McKenzie.

"From what I could gather they have been warned that if they show up for work they will have the tires on their cars slashed, and their windshields smashed."

There have also been clear indications that those reporting for work will have their names noted with a view to disbarring them from union membership, the alderman said.

As union membership is a condition stipulated in the contract with the city, such a move would mean that the men concerned face losing their jobs.

Since learning of the men's fears, McKenzie said he has discussed the matter with Mayor Mike Young who indicated the city would file a grievance with the Labor Relations Board in every case where an employee is prevented from working Thursday or in any way intimidated.

McKenzie said he would like to see police surveillance — preferably by plain clothes officers — at the city's Garbally Road yard "so that we have a record of what goes on there Thursday, for future reference."

He said he has been informed that only about half the 300 members of Local 50 agrees with the one-day strike in support of the Canadian Labor Congress. Only 80 members were present at the recent meeting which decided to join the protest, said McKenzie.

PANIC SURFACED among lovers of the dowager Empress Hotel today when they saw venerable ivy runners being trimmed around the porter's entrance. A hotel spokesman, however, said this is just a trim job, designed to relieve the weight pressure of overgrown runners and stop them being used as perches for birds that use hotel guests for target practice. It's the first "haircut" since 1959. (Bill Halkett photo)

EAST GERMAN SWIMS BALTIC

LUEBECK, West Germany (UPI) — An East German dctor escaped to the west Sunday by swimming the Baltic Sea for 18 hours, West German border police said Monday.

The 29-year-old physician was picked up by the Swedish ferry boat Svaeland about one hour before its arrival in Luebeck.

Police said the doctor, wearing a diver's suit and carrying a compass, dove into the sea along the East German coast line late Saturday night.

Real Boater Blast!

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — California boaters have been told not to worry — much — if a grim grey ball studded with spike-like sensors comes bobbing toward their pleasure craft. They probably are about to pick up a souvenir of the making of the movie MacArthur.

Workers Ailing

MONZA, Italy (Reuter)— Twenty more workers from the Singer electronics factory in Monza were admitted to hospital Monday with symptoms of gas poisoning, health officials said. Thirty workers entered hospital on the weekend complaining of dizziness, nausea and breathing difficulties.

Post Office Waits

OTTAWA (CP) — The post office said Monday night it waited all weekend for a response from the Canadian Union of Postal Workers to a proposal to speed up negotiations and appoint a mediator to resolve the dispute over technological change.

ANCHORAGE (AP) — A 737 jetliner carrying 53 passengers was diverted to Anchorage after one of the plane's two engines became clogged with seagulls Monday. The landing came off without a hitch.

DEATHS OF THREE HALT FLU SHOTS

Times News Services

PITTSBURGH — The Allegheny County health department closed all 13 of its swine flu inoculation sites today following the deaths of three elderly people hours after receiving the vaccine at a Pittsburgh clinic.

"At this time, there is no known factor linking the deaths with the vaccine or the immunization program," said Miriam Blair.

All three were elderly and all had histories of heart or lung problems, she added.

Dr. Cyril Wecht, Allegheny County coroner, said stress and bad vaccine were "among major possibilities" being examined.

Wecht said he did "not want to alarm anybody," but was "not ignoring the obvious set of circumstances."

Don Barreth, a CDC spokesman in Atlanta, said there was a possibility the stress of taking the flu shots might have contributed to the deaths. But, for people in that age factor "there are deaths that occur every day whether a flu shot is involved or not," he added.

In Misconsin, Dr. Edward Larkin, acting state health officer and administrator of the state health division, also ordered a temporary suspension of swine flu immunization because of the Pittsburgh deaths.

"At this time there is no evidence that these persons have succumbed as a result of receiving the swine flu vaccine," Larkin said.

BOOKINGS TAKEN NOW FOR TRIPS IN ORBIT

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — Reservations are now being accepted for "standby" cargo on shuttle flights into space in the 1980s at a price of $10,000.

U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials and executives of Rockwell International, which is building the space shuttle, say that by 1981 they will be able to offer flights into orbit to buyers with enough money.

The going price for chartering the whole launch is expected to be about $20 million, said John Yardley, associate NASA administrator for space flight.

"Launch contracts will be for a firm, fixed price set at the time of contracting and the launch will be guaranteed" Yardley said.

"We have indeed entered a new world."

Few humans are expected to take a jaunt into space on the cut-rate fare, however, because the freight will be limited to items weighing no more than 200 pounds and taking up no more than 5 cubic feet — just about impossible for a human being loaded with space life support systems.

Sen. Giguere Now Charged Over Advertising Accounts

OTTAWA (CP) — Senator Louis Giguere was charged today with alleged exercise of influence in getting government advertising contracts for Canadian Advertising Agency Ltd.

Leon Simard of the wealthy Quebec family was named as a co-conspirator in three counts alleging that Senator Giguere was given $107,700 in return for his help.

Named as conspirators in the charge, sworn by the RCMP commercial crime squad, were the Liberal senator, David Belhumeur, Jean P. Dionne, Canadian Advertising Agency Ltd., and Publicor Ltd., a holding company.

An unidentified person was mentioned in the charge.

The accused were released later on $100,000 bail.

Also named in the Sky Shops charges are Louis Lapointe, a former city hall official in Montreal and former president of Sky Shops; Gordon Brown of Freeport, Bahamas, and Toronto businessman James Lavery.

All but Lavery began preliminary hearing on roughly the same Sky Shops charges in a Montreal court Sept. 27. The remand here until next April 8 was not explained but presumably enables the prosecution to make a decision then based on what happens meanwhile in Montreal.

Mao Widow Said Arrested

Times News Services

China formally announced today appointment of Premier Hua Kuo-feng as chairman of the Chinese Communist Party, succeeding the late Mao Tse-tung.

The announcement came amid reports that Mao's widow and three other party "radicals" had been arrested for plotting a coup.

Diplomatic sources in Peking and Hong Kong said there was no evidence to substantiate the reports of the arrest of Chiang Ching, a former actress and Mao's fourth wife, and three other members of the influential party politburo.

The reports, carried by the London Daily Telegraph, the London Financial Times, Toronto Globe and Mail, and the Yogoslav News Agency Tanjug said Mme, Mao and three members of the so-called "Shanghai Mafia" had been arrested for planning a coup.

The other officials reported arrested along with Mao's widow were identified as party vice-chairman Wang Huang-wen, the youngest politburo member; Chang Chun-shiao, chief political commissar of the armed forces and first secretary of the Shanghai party apparatus; and Yao Wen-yuan, second secretary of the Shanghai party.

Wang, 38, is a vice-chairman of the Communist party and until last year was expected to be appointed chairman after Mao's death.

Yao, 51, is a leading ideologist and polemicist who helped spark the tumultuous Cultural Revolution.

Chang, 55, whose power base is Shanghai, China's most populous city, is a vice-premier and the army's senior political commissar. He had been considered by many as a future premier.

THE OUTCASTS by Ben Wicks

Unemployment and Inflation Throne Speech Focal Points

some government services could be transferred to private enterprise without damaging the quality of service to the public;

— Increased industrial assistance programs to help Canadian industry compete abroad;

—Simpler regulations affecting small businesses to improve local access to financial assistance and reduce the number of statistical reports required for federal departments;

— Changes in the National Transportation Act to remove existing freight rates which are unfair — apparently including the Crowsnest rates which the national railways are lobbying against;

— More research and development assistance for renewable energy sources and continuing incentives for energy conservation;

— An encouragement to provinces to adopt a new system of day care fees related to income;

—Resumption in indexing of family allowance payments to compensate for increased living costs during 1976;

— A continuation of negotiations with the provinces to decrease Ottawa's commitment to share higher costs in hospital insurance, medicare and post-secondary education.

The speech noted that some bilingualism measures have proven successful but that "others have not and will be modified."

As recommended in the latest report of Keith Spicer, the official languages commissioner, the government said a better balance should be established between expenditures to make civil servants bilingual and to educate young people in both official languages.

"The government intends to discuss with the provinces arrangements to increase the effectiveness of training both official languages in the school systems across Canada," the speech said.

The speech said most unemployed Canadians would prefer to secure their income through work than through public assistance, meaning that in some cases the government must embark on direct job creation for this end.

Parliament will be asked this session to approve "a comprehensive, year-round, direct job-creation program," directed to high unemployment areas.

Other programs will be proposed during the session to provide more job opportunities and improved employment counselling for young people entering the work force.

The speech said that amendments will be proposed to the Unemployment Insurance Act "in ways which will permit insurance funds to be used to maintain the income of Canadians being trained for new jobs and to help employers retain workers who might otherwise be temporarily laid off."

The government repeated its commitment of last year to merge the operation of the Unemployment Insurance Commission and the Manpower department to provide employment support services from a single source.

The speech said the government is "deeply disturbed" by the loss of productivity and increased social tensions resulting from inadequacies of the collective bargaining system.

The speech said that excessive restriction of collective bargaining rights is no solution and called instead for better mechanisms for settling disputes "in a less adversarial, more co-operative manner."

The government said it will work with the provinces and with labor and business to develop initiatives to improve labor-management relations.

Ottawa will set up a collective bargaining information centre to offer objective economic and wage information so that both sides are working from the same set of figures.

The government will also encourage greater participation by workers in decisions by management affecting working conditions, to expand labor education programs and develop a voluntary code of fair employment practices.

The speech also proposed the establishment of "a national institution dedicated to improving the quality of life in the work place."

The government announced its intention to proceed with the second stage of its competition policy to strengthen the laws governing mergers and monopolies.

However, the speech noted, that where competition is inadequate the government must intervene to protect the public interest.

"For this reason, changes will be introduced to the National Transportation Act to protect against unfair freight rates," the throne speech announced.

The speech ended with a section outlining the role which the government intends to play in the management of the economy once controls are removed.

It said the government prefers to follow a middle road between the two extremes of an absolutely free market system and increased government spending and intervention to compensate for the failure of the market to serve social goals.

"This middle road represents a commitment to a society in which all Canadians can develop their full potential, a society in which justice, compassion, tolerance and understanding lead to a strong and united Canada, a society based on individual initiatives and marked by personal freedom," the speech said.

POLICE NAB ESCAPE PAIR

Saanich police are holding two men believed to have been among six who escaped from Oakalla prison in Burnaby. (See also page 9)

The two are expected to appear in court late today or Wednesday pending further investigation.

The pair was arrested together in Saanich early this morning.

the weather

It was cloudy overnight in most areas of B.C. with the exception of parts of the southeastern interior. Rain, however, was confined to Northern Vancouver Island and the north coast of the province. The moist air will keep skies cloudy in all regions today but a high pressure ridge should have enough influence to allow sunny periods in southern areas this afternoon. The north coast region is in for a fairly continuous onslaught of rain and drizzle today and into Wednesday and some showers will spread into the central interior. The disturbance responsible for this will track southeastward tomorrow taking showers to most of southern B.C. later in the day.

Bennett Sees Bigger Deficit

is known throughout the world for its uncertainty," Bennett said.

B.C.'s products are world products, Bennett said, and the province must be able to compete in the international market place.

"It is a fact that, when industry does well in this province, government is able to obtain the services for you."

Bennett gave as an example of his "tough medicine" the massive increases in car insurance premiums earlier this year.

"The increase of rates to the point where they could break even was highly unpopular," Bennett said, but he predicted an operating surplus for the first six months of this year of almost $26 million for the Insurance Corporation of B.C.

If the driving trend continues, safe drivers may be permitted to "enjoy modest benefits" by the end of the year.

Warrant Out For Accused

A bench warrant was ordered issued for the arrest of Peter Donald Moulton, 22, who failed to appear in county court for his trial today.

Moulton is accused of theft over $200 last Jan. 27 involving a 1968 talf-ton pickup truck belonging to Peter Pollen Ford Sales Limited.

His counsel, Christopher Wilson, told Judge E. J. C. Stewart he had been unable to find Moulton, who had lived at 3902 Shelbourne until a few weeks ago.

Roderick Haig-Brown

No more lyrical prose, no more wizardry with a 10-foot fly rod on the Island's rivers

By DON VIPOND
Times Staff

Roderick Haig-Brown, dead at age 68 of a heart attack Saturday, was well on his way to becoming a living legend and will surely join Emily Carr among giants on the west coast.

He brought his beloved Campbell River alive for readers around the world.

No more "breakfasts with Brown."

No more dry humor delivered in immaculate English with trace of a smile.

No more lyrical prose on seasons of the year as they touched his corner of Vancouver Island and were understood by people who read him everywhere.

No more wizardry with a 10-foot fly rod on the Island's rivers, deft touch which brought even steelhead to the fly.

Roderick Haig-Brown — writer, philosopher, angler, judge, chancellor — and throughout it all, environmentalist, long before it became fashionable.

"As you mend the cast and work your fly well down to him through the cold water, your whole mind is with it, picturing its drift, guiding its swing, holding it where you know he will be. And when the shock of his take jars through your forearms and you lift the rod to its bend, you know that in a moment the strength of his leaping body will shatter the water to brilliance, however dark the day."

For 33 years, until last year, Haig-Brown was a judge in Campbell River, where those appearing in court before him were said to be having "breakfast with Brown."

He had no formal legal training but debated with eloquence the case for laymen on the bench.

From his study in the homestead alongside the Campbell River he produced 24 books, for adults and children, fiction and factual, many deftly capturing the flavor of water and land in British Columbia and the creatures of the province, particularly the salmon and steelhead.

Among his titles: A River Never Sleeps, Timber, The Western Angler, Starbuck Valley Winter, The Whale People, Return to the River, The Living Land, Saltwater Summer, A Primer of Fly-Fishing, On the Highest Hill, Fisherman's Fall.

"I think a library should not be a static thing but rather like a deep pool in a river, whose depths move slowly if at all but whose surface is a quiet flow. Fresh books come in, others are moved on the shelves to make place for them, others again go on to their travels through the second-hand dealers . . ."

A River Never Sleeps, his intimate view of the Campbell, its life and moods, drew praise from critics around the world. While he wrote of fishing, his books attracted others for the sympathy and love he felt for life around him.

Mary Charlotte (Mrs. Fred Bowker of Victoria), Alan Roderick and Evelyn Celia.

From 1969 to 1972 Haig-Brown held the largely honorary post of chancellor at the University of Victoria, emerging with undiminished popularity at a time when student discontent eventually led to the university president resigning.

He was a member of the federal Electoral Boundaries Commission and the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission.

Last year the provincial government purchased the Haig-Brown riverfront property, to become after his and his wife Ann's death a residence for deserving conservationists and authors in their later years. An environment conference centre will likely be established there too.

Haig-Brown was born in Lancing, Sussex, England. He is survived by his Wife, Ann, and children Valerie Joan, Mary Charlotte (Mrs. Fred Bowker of Victoria), Alan Roderick and Evelyn Celia.

Guards Squelch Sit-In

By PAUL NICHOLSON
Times Staff

Thirty-six Wilkinson Road jail inmates barricaded themselves inside the dining room area Sunday to protest the isolation of a prisoner.

The relatively peaceful demonstration lasted about two hours before extra guards were called in and the dissidents led back to their cells at about 7 p.m.

Corrections centre director Hal McGillivray said today he rejected the prisoners' demand that the inmate be released from the segregation cell.

When an inmate is disciplined for breaking a rule the disciplinary action will be carried out, he said.

"The administration is running this prison, not the inmates."

The sit-in was ended without any deals being made, McGillivray said, just as "no court would kow-tow to a demnstration outside the courtroom."

Shortly after 5 p.m., inmates inside the dining area grabbed tables and barricaded the doors, and then demanded the release of the inmate in the segregation cell.

There was some noise, but it was not too rowdy, McGillivray said, and as soon as inmates saw the show of force with the addition of extra corrections staff, they took their barricades down.

Saanich police were alerted and were standing by in the event the occupation became serious.

He said the 36 protesters would not be disciplined.

The inmate was placed in segregation for refusing orders and directing foul language toward the staff. He had been in segregation 24 hours at the time of the protest, and would have been seen by administration personnel Monday, McGillivray said.

He said such demonstrations are rare in the Vancouver Island Regional Correction Centre.

He called it "backlash" from the publicty surrounding recent incidents in penitentiaries.

"My personal feeling is we do as much as we possibly can for these inmates considering the facility," McGillivray said.

He added that the accommodation was as good as a lot of places people live in on the outside.

City Plan Aired

In three separate parts of Greater Victoria tonight, residents will have an opportunity to express their views on planning and development proposals significantly affecting the areas' future growth.

At Victoria city hall a large turnout is expected for the first and only public meeting before the city's draft official community plan is adopted and submitted to the Capital Regional Board.

The community plan, two years in preparation, has been defined as "a general statement of long-term development objectives" in the city.

It has already been criticized by representatives of neighborhood groups, who feel it is too general and vague to afford neighborhoods any real protection from the demolition plans of developers.

The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m.

Also at 7:30 p.m., Saanich Ald. John McDonald, chairman of council's lands, planning and housing committee, will moderate a panel on planning at Saanich municipal hall.

Serving on a panel will be Housing Minister Hugh Curtis, Larry Bell, deputy minister of housing; Chris Dowling, regional manager of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, and Chris Pike of the Housing and Urban Development Association of Canada.

McDonald said information from tonight's meeting will be valuable in helping Saanich produce its community plan by the regional district's Nov. 1 deadline.

North Saanich residents will have a chance to learn more about their proposed zoning bylaw at a public meeting tonight in Trinity Church hall, Mills and West Saanich Roads.

The information meeting will be attended by Mayor Paul Grieve and the aldermen of council's zoning committee and will start at 8 p.m.

The proposed bylaw establishes rural areas with minimum lot sizes of seven and two acres, and would have residential areas where lots will be a minimum half-acre if there is piped water or one acre if served by wells.

Foot Riders Jam Ferries

About 100 foot passengers were turned back Monday night from the 7 p.m. B.C. Ferries sailing from Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen and had to catch the next ferry an hour later.

Ken Stratford, B.C. Ferries traffic manager, said today they were turned back because the ferry had reached its reduced licensed capacity of about 1,000 passengers and crew.

With fewer crew members now on staff fewer passengers can be carried.

He said Thanksgiving is one of the busiest weekends and it is not unusual in such circumstances for foot passengers to be held up for an hour.

Stratford said it was not a new experience and denied it was because more people are leaving their cars at the terminals and travelling as foot passengers in the wake of increased fares.

The passenger count makes no distinction between foot passengers and those who arrive in cars, he added.

In fact, ferries are carrying 10-to-12 per cent fewer passengers now than they were in 1975, due primarily to the fares which were doubled June 1, Stratford said.

He said the three-day Thanksgiving weekend went smoothly and there were no cars or passengers left at any of the terminals after the final sailings Monday night.

A Victoria woman, who travelled on the ferries during the weekend, said there were long lines of cars parked along the roads at Swartz Bay and Tsawwassen.

She said she counted 317 cars parked on the road at Tsawwassen and she figured if, under the old rate structure, those cars had been taken both ways on the ferries, B.C. Ferries would have made at least $6,000 more.

Stratford said it is true there is a slight increase in the number of foot passengers as a result of the increased fares but added it was "short term logic" to think this was the reason for the lines of parked cars.

If the ferries were free, there would be even more cars parked, he said, because the ferries have a limited vehicle capacity and if more people want to get on they have to travel as foot passengers.

He said a large number of parked cars at the terminals is normal for long weekends.

town talk

Never mind power of the press. Pay attention to the power of last year's student council at Parkland secondary in Sidney.

Oh so it seems to Chamkaur Cheema, the school's former student president and now enrolled at UVic.

Cheema and other student reps met with Saanich MLA Hugh Curtis early in July to protest ferry hikes and particularly the increase in minimum number of persons needed to qualify for group rates. They were worried about its effect on school teams.

Curtis said he would pass on the complaints to ferry boss Jack Davis and meet later with the students.

Next . . . nothing. Then recently Cheema had a message from the minister's office advising that a change in group rates had been made effective Sept. 1.

"It's nice of them to tell me," said Cheema. "But why didn't they tell anyone else?"

Are you listening, Parklands secondary? Can you do anything about that increase in sales tax?

Neonex International president Jim Pattison and Victoria realtor Eric Charman were locked in a takeover battle in Vancouver and the first report was that Pattison came out on top.

The object of the takeover was a little puppy, the prize entry in a charity auction.

Charman quietly spread the word he must have the puppy at any cost and Pattison announced he was going to make it expensive for him — all in the name of sweet charity.

Pattison forced Charman up to $750 and then bid $900 in hopes of getting Charman into four figures. However, it was "going, going, gone!" to Pattison at $900.

Pattison, ever on the lookout for a deal, sold the puppy to a dog-lover at the auction. The rumored sale price was $200, which is an interesting twist on the buy-low, sell-high philosophy of financiers.

All the proceeds, several thousand dollars, went to British Columbia charities.

There just aren't that many places offering a really imaginative selection of ice cream cones these days — but one of the best is out Sooke way.

Roy an Barb Hill took over Saseenos Service and Grocery at 5723 Sooke Rd. in the spring and made a lot of friends over the summer offering ice cream cones in such lip-licking flavors as raspberry cream, coffee brickle, peach brandy, banana fudge, rum and raisin and peppermint candy. At reasonable prices too, 30 cents for two scoops.

There were 14 flavors at the height of summer but even on Thaksgiving Day business was brisk. It's a long ice cream cone season on the island.

Which is tastiest? That's a matter of opinion but Roy says the raspberry cream "was a beauty," tasting just like raspberries smothered in cream. Yuuuuuummmmmm.

Quake Victims Helped

A total of $40,000 has been raised by a Victoria group to help victims of an earthquake and tidal waves which struck th Philippines in August.

The group of Canadians and Filipino-Canadians is headed by Ben Pires, 804 Mann, a provincial government employee whose wife, Laila, was born on Manila.

The provincial government has donated $25,000 to the fund-raising drive, which began Aug. 20. The Red Cross contributed $10,000 and $5,000 came from private sources.

The grouph as asked local councils, council members and municipal employees to donate to the drive called Operation Bayanihan.

Bennett Avoids Issue, Civic Leaders Chorus

Some cynicism and some disappointment — that was the mixed reaction today of Victoria-area civic leaders to the state of the province address delivered by Premier Bill Bennett on Thanksgiving Day.

The jaundiced view came from Victoria Mayor Mike Young.

"It's largely rhetorical, platitudinous and inclined toward telling people there is something to be thankful for."

Young said he didn't really expect the speech to contain any mention of municipalities and the difficulties they face.

"One would assume that they (the government) would try to avoid all the nasty things occurring and stress, however tenuous it might be, the optimistic note," he added.

But Oak Bay Mayor Brian Smith was disappointed at the lack of any specific reference in the address to the problems of B.C. municipalities.

He said the financial plight of municipalities is becoming "bleaker and bleaker," and if some significant help doesn't come from the provincial government in the way of revenue sharing "municipal government will be shutting down in about five years."

Smith said the Union of B.C. Municipalities gave Municipal Affairs Minister Hugh Curtis a warm reception at its conference last month. He has the "goodwill" of municipal leaders because they feel he sincerely believes in the need for revenue sharing.

Mayor Art Young, of Esquimalt, hoped the premier is proven right.

"He didn't really say anything, but if this is taken as a state-of-the-province thing, then everything is on the up. We hope this proves correct and that employment and the provincial government will use this surplus budget to help municipalities," Young said.

England: A Semi-Sentimental Journey

WHEN THIS BUSY YEAR was in its springtime, we returned our long-standing dream of a trip to Britain to storage. Our roof needed shingles, We were up to our ears in work. To our great pleasure, son Ron and lovely girl named Keiko decided they would like to be married from our house. Obviously, a trip postponement was indicated.

The new roof materialized. So did the wedding, and a very nice one it was. I tied off a writing assignment well ahead of the deadline decreed for it. Our passports were in order, and September stretched invitingly before us.

So one morning, too excited for a proper breakfast, we downed a quick cup of coffee and set out for the island from which Win's parents and my father emigrated in their youth. They came to Canada by boat. We would cross a continent and an ocean in a ship of a different sort . . . a jet-powered plane that would take off from Vancouver and land at London's Heathrow airport.

To very many Canadians, this polar route traverse on a course that passes 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg is a familiar journey. But to Win and me, first-timers launched on a voyage of discovery, the prospect was mind-blowing.

The prelude was routine. At Campbell River's airport in the woods, I set our luggage on the PWA scales. Win's two suitcases and my bag weighed in total a few pounds more than the 44 each covered by our tickets. Later, burdened with those three pieces plus Win's tote-bag and my flight bag, we realized our mistake. Next time, no excess luggage! We would heed the good advice we'd disregarded, and go light.

The truck that scouts the Campbell River runways for stray deer completed its round. We boarded. The Convair shoved off for Vancouver International Airport half an hour distant.

There are the useful. Convair was reduced to a pygmy by world-spanning giants. The Air Canada 747 that would take us to London was snugged alongside its loading berth. It stretched long and sleek, with a smoothly moulded hump up forward, and a skyraking tail fin blazoned with the line's red maple leaf.

Here at home, we take the Canadian maple leaf for granted. But distance makes the heart grow fonder. When we happened on Canada's emblem abroad, I filled my eyes with it and felt an odd little bump of the heart.

As chronic early arrivers, we found ourselves with time to kill. The wait seemed endless. We yearned to be on board and away.

Then the wait did end. A security man checked our hand luggage. The scanner in its box passed over my wife over its gangway, but pinpointed me with a suspicious electronic eye.

For a panic moment, pockets emptied on a table, I saw our trip ended before it had well begun. But a human guard declared me clean, and we trudged on with nearly 400 other passengers to be swallowed like so many Jonahs into the belly of the whale.

This was a comfortable whale, its tourist class ground floor laid out in divisions each the size of a small theatre.

We found our window seats in the yellow cabin — "The yellow one is for scared people," my wife insisted — and settled down for a flight that would take time zones in stride.

The lift-off, when it came, was almost anticlimactic. The patterned earth receded, the Coast Range flowed beneath us. We were climbing the great curve that arcs across land and sea to its other extreme at London: Altitude 37,000 feet, steward serving free soft drinks to the children and selling stronger beverages to adult passengers from his compact bar on wheels.

With a still-lingering sense of unreality, we relaxed over gin-and-tonic. We were up and winging, our trip begun.

We had no fixed schedule. We were committed to no tours. We would simply wander where we chose, getting the feel of a country and its peoples. And not from books and travellers' tales this time, glory be, but at first hand.

The plane droned on, eating up time and distance. The Hebrides would be our landfall. We would touch down at London in the morning light.

Rescue Record Set

With more than two months to go, the Pacific Rescue Coordination Centre at CFB Comox has broken all existing records for marine and air incidents.

This morning fisherman J. Baker became the 3,000th incident to be reported to the centre this year when his 15-foot pleasure craft broke down in Cordova Bay.

He managed to make his way safely to shore after marking the side of his boat for easy identification, the centre reported.

On Monday, the rescue centre sent an armed forces Labrador helicopter from CFB Comox to pick up ailing Polish fisherman Reszka Stanislaw from the vessel Dent Bola, west of Tofino.

Stanislaw was reported in fairly good condition in Victoria General Hospital today with internal bleeding.

Canadians Invest $71.5M in Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Canada probably will never have an opportunity to annex the United States, so some West Coast Canadians appear to be doing the next best thing — buying it.

Canadians bought $71.5 million in Seattle and King County real estate in 1973-75, according to a private survey conducted by Property Dynamics and published Sunday in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

A Seattle commercial brokerage, Coldwell Banker, says that non-citizens made $60 million in purchases in the past 18 months. The firm has made $25 million of those sales with 11 Canadian transactions in this calendar year.

Canadians own more than 80 per cent of two recreation developments in Whatcom County — bordering B.C. — and 35 Seattle apartment buildings were snapped up by Canadian buyers last year.

On the horizon is a $20 million office complex in Bellevue planned by the real estate branch of the C. P. Rail, and a Montreal-based developer is working with Seattle on the city's $40 to $50 million redevelopment of the Westlake Mall.

At least a few apartment dwellers are less than delighted with their new landlords.

"There is no rent control here like there is in Canada. These people are here to exploit," says attorney Marie Donohoe, who has been heading up protests against the Canadians ever since her north-of-the-border landlord raised the rent for her First Hill apartment.

Mothers' Milk Safety Queried

Washington Post

WASHINGTON — A panel of U.S. government and private health specialists has been accused of being "very misleading" in concluding that mothers can continue to breast-feed their babies despite contamination of their milk by a toxic industrial chemical called PCBs.

The department of health, education, and welfare committee to co-ordinate toxicology on PCBs in mothers' milk "failed to adequately deal with the issue" at a meeting here on Sept. 23, according to a joint statement at the weekend by Dr. Joseph Highland of the Environmental Defence Fund and Stephanie Harris of the Health Research Group.

PCBs, which concentrate in fatty tissue and remain there for years, first came into wide use in the 1930s, mainly in electrical equipment.

Not until the mid-1960s did researchers discover that PCBs — polychlorinated biphenyls — had contaminated the air, water and soil of all industrialized countries. Last week, Monsanto Chemical Co., the only American manufacturer, announced that it was ending production.

HEW convened the committee after the environmental protection agency reported finding PCBs in 79 of 80 samples of milk fat from mothers in 11 states.

The average concentration was 1.8 parts per million.

Viking At Rock Bottom

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Soil from under an oddly shaped Martian rock will be studied by Viking 2's laboratory as scientists begin to run out of places near the lander to seek life.

Scientists hope to begin analysis Friday of a sample of soil scraped from the protected enviornment beneath the rock to see whether it contains organic molecules.

Scientists awaited photographs today to confirm that Viking 2's mechanical arm made its scheduled soil collection Monday from under the rock, which was shoved aside earlier by the arm.

Beneath rocks, where soil is protected from the withering solar radiation glaring through Mars' thin atmosphere, "is really the only different environment accessible to Vikings 1 and 2," said Dr. Klaus Biemann.

Scientists will wait a few days to ensure that the digging was properly done before ordering the robot lab to begin analyzing the soil sample Friday.

$600M Clean Up By U.S. Steel

WASHINGTON (WP) — The United States Steel Corp. bowed to legal pressure Monday and agreed to spend an estimated $600 million to clean up the air pollution emitted at its coke ovens at Clairton, Pa., the largest in the world.

The company's agreement to rehabilitate its plant and install pollution abatement equipment represents one of the largest investments required to clean up dirty air by any American company.

It was brought about by a combination of pressures on the company — by state and county prosecutors and environmental agencies and by a citizens' environmental coalition.

Edgar B. Speer, chairman of U.S. Steel, praised the agreement, which ended several years of litigation and negotiations without assessing any penalties against the company.

However, he raised the possibility that the agreement might ultimately end in a reduction of jobs at the coke plant.

"It appears that we are reaching the limits of the law of diminishing returns," Speer said.
